RIOT IN FRANCE MARS FETE FOR BASTILLE'S FALL

Anti-Reds Battle on Champs Elysees.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Picture on Back Page.)

PARIS, July 14.—France's national holiday, Bastille day, again saw the Champs Elysées a scene of rioting in which scores of right wing demonstrators yelling "France for the French" were wounded in charges by police and the mobile guard.

All the anti-communist strength in Paris assembled around the Arc de Triomphe at 6 o'clock this evening to see the flame on the tomb of the unknown soldier rekindled by the war veterans. The government was prepared for them with thousands of mobile guards in tin hats and riot equipment.

As soon as the shouting started, they adopted new anti-riot tactics, forming cordons at all street corners and driving pedestrians, including hundreds of tourists, down side streets and not allowing them a chance to assemble.

Beat Returning Leftists.

Despite these tactics, crowds of youths and sympathizers with the dissolved Croix de Feu and Royalist league laid in wait for taxis returning from the Popular Front demonstration held in the east end of Paris and beat up any one raising a clenched fist in the left wing gesture.

The two demonstrations, one in east Paris, the other in west Paris, marked more clearly than ever the cleavage of the French into two groups, the first taking orders from Moscow, the other opposed.

The Popular Front demonstration, at which Premier Leon Blum made the main address, was a long straggling march from the Place de la Bastille in one column and from the Place de la Republique in another column to the Place de la Nation where it broke up on the site where the revolutionary guillotine stood in the latter days of the reign of terror.

New Flag Appears.

The feature of this weary parade was the unabashed appearance of a new French flag as the communists want to see it—a plain, red banner with a tiny tri-color in the upper left corner.

During the hours of the marching this correspondent observed among thousands of flags only ten of the ordinary, orthodox tri-color. The others were deformed with some sort of Socialist or communist symbol such as the hammer and sickle or the three arrows of the French Socialist party or the Phrygian bonnet which is the ancient revolutionary emblem.

Drowned Out by Internationale.

Following the communist group was a patriotic line of marchers who frequently broke into the Marseillaise but were always drowned out by the Internationale which was more to the crowd's taste.

Incongruously the Place de la Bastille and the Place de la Nation were decorated with gaudy banners of provincial towns in images of medieval heraldry. More than half carried golden lilies of the ancient monarchy, the significance of which was entirely unknown to the crowd.

The morning was marked by the traditional military parade along the Champs Elysées where Jesse Isidor Straus, American ambassador, fainted while standing in the reviewing stand. It was the most grandiose display of military force France has shown since the armistice with hundreds of airplanes of the latest models zooming overhead, long files of new armored cars and tanks and as a feature a regiment of the "fortress infantry," special shock troops assigned to hold fortifications of the Maginot line in east France.

Laud Display of Army.

The display was so impressive in equipment and discipline that even the French were astounded and nationist newspapers were almost hysterical in their praise.

"After the failure of Geneva [the league of nations] our army is the last rampart of our fatherland," the nationalist Liberté said. "Let us make it more numerous and stronger than ever to show the world that in spite of internal quarrels we are not trembling, beaten, or resigned."

The parade and the fireworks do not alter the fact that this was the gloomiest Fourteenth of July known in France.

In the night from the 13th to the

'OTHER WOMAN' SHATTERS CALM OF GUN WIDOW

Mrs. Bolton Roused at Murder Trial.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

For the first time since she went on trial for the murder of her insurance broker husband, Joseph Bolton, Mrs. Mildred Mary Bolton, 40 years old and auburn haired, showed alert interest late yesterday in the proceedings in the Criminal court of Judge Robert C. O'Connell.

The testimony of a state's witness, Mrs. Marie Harned, 38 years old, of Gardner, Ill., manager of a tavern there, owned by her brother, aroused Mrs. Bolton's interest. Mrs. Harned is the woman Mrs. Bolton has accused since her arrest of being the "other woman" in her marital difficulties. A divorce suit filed by Bolton was pending at the time he was shot to death in his office, 166 West Jackson boulevard, on June 15.

Defendant Follows Testimony.

Wearing a large brimmed white hat and a blue and white polka-dotted dress, Mrs. Harned, a good looking, slim brunette, spoke in a slow, pleasant voice on the witness stand. Mrs. Bolton, sitting upright, stared at her with beady dark eyes and frequently leaned over to make remarks to her counsel, Public Defender Benjamin Bachrach.

Questioned by Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert F. Crowley, who with Assistant State's Attorney Morris Meyers is prosecuting Mrs. Bolton, Mrs. Harned said that she met Bolton in Chicago last June and that he frequently had visitors in Gardner, being friendly with her brother. Last June 10, she said, she came to Chicago to shop and visit her son, Charles, who was staying with Bolton in the Van Buren hotel, looking for a job.

Identified as Woman in Hall.

"When I left the hotel with my son a woman in the hall stepped on my feet," she said.

Q.—Do you see that woman in the courtroom? A.—Yes, she is sitting there [pointing to Mrs. Bolton].

She then told how Mrs. Bolton had called her "a street walker," at which her son had slapped Mrs. Bolton. The fracas ended with their being taken to the Central police station, where Bolton put up a bond for Charles, and later that night, she said, Mrs. Bolton made another scene in the Auditorium taproom, accusing her loudly of "running around with my husband."

MR. CROWLEY—And had you been running around with him. A.—No.

Denies Planning Marriage.

Under cross-examination by Public Defender Bachrach, Mrs. Harned remained unruffled. Some of his questions and her answers:

Q.—Did you expect to marry Mr. Bolton? A.—No; we never talked about it.

Q.—Did he entertain you frequently? A.—Very little; an occasional dinner, if you can call that entertaining.

Q.—Did he give you presents, including a fur coat? A. [smiling]—No, indeed, I haven't got a fur coat.

On redirect examination Prosecutor Meyers brought out that her husband, Carl F. Harned, a former investigator for the IERC, is serving a six months sentence for larceny in the Bridewell. She has seen him little in the last ten years, but agreed not to start divorce proceedings until he is released, she said.

Her son, Charles, 20 years old, substantiated her testimony. He said that he was fined $100 on a charge of disorderly conduct and the fine was vacated.

It was after a quarrel over this fine, which Mrs. Bolton thought her husband was going to pay, according to her words at the time, that the fatal shooting occurred.

Hears Boast Quoted.

During the morning session Mrs. Bolton heard her own words—"They can't convict women in Cook county"—quoted to the jury. These words were spoken three days after Betty Martin, comely platinum blonde, was acquitted of murdering her husband, Andrew, by a Cook county jury May 29.

Mrs. Bolton did not resemble the platinum blonde defendant, however, as she sat in a mussy white blouse and mustard green wool skirt, her stockings none too sheer over ankles far less slender than those of the blonde Betty. In the morning she

LOUISE C. MORGAN, GRANDDAUGHTER OF J. P., TO BE MARRIED

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. Junius Spencer Morgan have announced the engagement of their eldest daughter, Miss Louise Converse Morgan, to Raymond Skinner Clark, son of Mrs. Raymond S. Clark and the late Mr. Clark.

The engagement, one of the most important of the year, is of wide interest not only in this country, but abroad, especially in England, where members of the Morgan family spend many months each year. Miss Morgan's grandfather, J. Pierpont Morgan, for many years has been spending the summer at his estate in Aldenham, near London, and in all probability would be there now were it not for his recent illness.

Miss Morgan is the eldest grandchild of the head of the house of Morgan, the first to make her debut and the first to become engaged.

Clark attended Harvard. He previously had been graduated from Groton school. His father, son of Charles E. Clark, died in 1931 in Jacksonville, Fla. His mother is the former Miss Helen A. Burt.

Mamie Speaks Up in Defense of Sailor Men

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—Mamie Kelly, sweetheart of the American navy, came back to town today after nineteen years in Panama City to see if Broadway had any innovations in entertainment worth taking back to her tropical port of call.

Breezy, broad of gesture and mother confessor of every gob who has passed the portals of her cabaret, Mamie stepped off the Santa Lucia and headed straight for Broadway to "catch up" with fun.

"I've got forty or so girls in my floor show," said Mamie, "but I thought there might be one or two new ideas I've missed. I don't want the Ritz to get stale."

She's One of the Boston Kellys.

Miss Kelly, who was born Mary Lee Kelly on Boston's south side, said she probably is the world's outstanding authority on the life and habits of the sailor.

"The boys have changed, though," she sighed. "Maybe it's for the better The old time gobs always wanted to buy parrots. They bought a lot of Panama hats that were made in Jersey City, too.

"Not any more, no sirree!

"When the fleet comes in now, they have cameras over their shoulders and if they buy Panama hats, they get hats made in Panama."

Girls Behave [They Have To].

"Why, I'd rather see one battleship drop anchor than a dozen tourist ships," said Mamie. "The boys rush for the postoffice and send money orders home, then they swoop into the Ritz for a little relaxation. They used to overdo their consumption, but not any more. They are as neat and trim in their drinking as Yale and Harvard boys—gentlemen-like, you know."

Her girls behave, said Mamie, because they have to.

Says Even the Cops Are Honest.

"Not a beach comber in the place," she said. "The cops are honest. We pay a big license fee, but that's all. It's not like Broadway. Why, the worst menace we have is the bootblacks. They're always under foot."

Something gets the sailors when they land in Panama, said Mamie. Right away they go on their good behavior.

TWO SHIPS COLLIDE OFF BALTIMORE; TAKE OFF PASSENGERS

Baltimore, Md., July 15 [Wednesday].—(AP)—Disaster almost overtook a seagoing convention cruise of 250 persons headed by Gov. Harry W. Nice of Maryland when their vessel, the State of Virginia, collided early today off Baltimore with the Golden Harvest, a freight steamer.

Radio flashes said the passengers on the State of Virginia, which apparently was badly damaged, were transferred quickly to the freighter. The messages did not mention any casualties, and it was assumed no one was injured.

The governor and the others had embarked Monday on the State of Virginia for a two day convention cruise under the auspices of the Automobile Trade Association of Maryland.

The vessels collided off Seven Foot Knoll, just outside the city limits of Baltimore harbor in Chesapeake bay.

MARIE GARLAND GALE SECRETLY WED TO PEORIAN

Buzzards Bay, Mass., July 14.—(AP)—A son, Hamilton Garland, revealed tonight the secret marriage of Mrs. Marie Tudor Garland Gale, society matron, to J. Allen Fiske, Peoria, Ill., business man, in Boston last October.

Mrs. Fiske once forfeited the income of a 10 million dollar estate left her by the first of her five husbands in order to remarry.

The first marriage of Mrs. Fiske, who claims descent from the Tudor kings of England, to Charles Garland, millionaire Boston and Brookline banker and yachtsman, was the social event of the 1893 season.

Charles Garland and his wife were divorced six years after their marriage. They had four children. After a separation of three years they were remarried and a few years later a fifth child was born.

Garland died in 1906, stipulating that the income from his vast fortune go to his widow until she remarried.

Mrs. Garland forfeited the income by marrying Francis Cushing Green, New York attorney.

Her fourth marriage was to Swinburne Hale, well known English attorney, in 1921. In 1927 she was married to Henwar Rodakiewicz.

24 Indicted in 10 Million Stock Frauds

BY HERBERT VEDDER.

The story of a gigantic interstate stock swindle in which investors have been defrauded out of 10 million dollars in fifteen years was told yesterday in a federal grand jury indictment naming five defunct Illinois brokerage houses and twenty-four individuals.

The story is that of a network of bucket shops whose headquarters was in Chicago, but whose operations extended to more than half the states of the Union; whose principals shifted from one so-called firm to another, and whose high pressure sales methods were carried on by long distance telephone as well as by mail.

Expect Surrenders Tomorrow.

Three of the men under indictment surrendered here yesterday and were released on bond, pending arraignment on July 28 for removal to Gainesville, Ga., where the indictment was returned in United States District court and where the trial will be held. A majority of the others named in the true bill are expected to be surrendered here this week by their attorneys.

The indictments come as the result of a fifteen months' investigation conducted by the federal Securities and Exchange commission. The operations which are alleged to have been illegal were brought into the open for the first time a year ago in a series of hearings conducted here by SEC representatives. Soon thereafter the department of justice was called into the case. The indictments were based on operations in stock of the Stutz Motor Car company.

Maximum Penalty 70 Years.

Fourteen counts were voted against the defendants, seven charging violation of the federal securities act of 1933 and seven alleging use of the mails to defraud. Included in the counts are charges of conspiracy. Each of the charges carries a penalty of five years' imprisonment upon conviction, making the maximum punishment 70 years in a federal penitentiary. Postal authorities are assisting in the roundup of the defendants.

The chiefs of the accused group are Joseph R. Mendelson, Leonard I. Sutterman, and Joseph N. Sherman, who are Chicagoans, though Sherman's activities have centered largely in Minneapolis. Mendelson, who is one of the three who surrendered yesterday and who, with Sutterman, lives at 2300 Lincoln Park West, was released in $5,000 bail by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker. According to Warren Canaday, assistant United States attorney here, Mendelson is under similar indictment in New York.

Others Out Under $2,500 Bonds.

The other two who gave up here and gained freedom in $2,500 bail are Frank Berger, 451 Melrose street, an office manager; and Henry Bernstein, 501 South Central avenue, an auditor.

The scope of the network is evidenced by the locations of the offices of the five corporations named in the true bill:

KOPALD-QUINN & CO., with offices in Chicago, Atlanta, New Orleans, Houston, and Detroit.

ROBERT BARR & CO., with offices in Chicago and operating also in Duluth, St. Paul, Minneapolis, and Fort Wayne.

FRANK MUNCH & CO., operating in Chicago and New Orleans.

All of these firms ceased doing business shortly after the SEC began seizing their books and records, except the Kopald-Quinn concern in De-

RELIEF SWEEPS DOWN THE LAKE FROM CANADA

Temperatures Drop in Chicagoland.

From the Hudson bay region of northern Canada a wave of cool air pushed into Chicago late last night, halting the heat that has baked the city for eight days. It promised also some measure of relief for the areas in the central west and northwest which, lacking the help of Lake Michigan breezes, have endured twelve days of record breaking temperatures.

Refreshing winds from the lake and generally cooler weather, possibly accompanied by occasional showers, should prevail here for several days, according to Forecaster J. R. Lloyd. Another mass of chill air, moving slowly across the northwest from the Pacific coast, Mr. Lloyd said, may help to end the intensity of the heat generally in the drouth states of the northwest and in the corn belt.

Drop of Eight Degrees.

At 3 o'clock this morning an unofficial thermometer registered 75 degrees, which was 8 degrees below the reading on the same thermometer at the same hour on Tuesday morning.

The first effect felt in Chicagoland after the cool air from Canada spread southward across Minnesota, Wisconsin, and Michigan was along the shore of Lake Michigan. The north wind swept down the lake at about 16 miles an hour.

From 97 degrees at 3 p. m. the temperature in Milwaukee dropped to 76 at 9 p. m. Next the cool wave struck Waukegan. At 10 p. m. the temperature there was 71. Six hours earlier it had stood at 101.

71 at Lake Front.

The fresh breeze soon reached Lake Forest, sending the temperature there to 71. Other northern suburbs felt the relief until the cooler air finally reached Chicago about midnight. The temperature then was an unofficial 80 and it was falling.

Western sections of the city and the inland suburbs did not cool off as rapidly because the temperature there has been at 100 or more during the entire heat wave. This morning, however, Mr. Lloyd expected the entire city to be 10 to 15 degrees cooler.

The break in the heat came after a day in which the scorching sun shattered all time high temperature marks in more than 25 cities, many of them in Illinois. In Chicago the official maximum of the day was 96 at 4:40 p. m. Southern and western suburbs sweltered in temperatures of more than 100.

Rescue from Hudson Bay.

"We have the Hudson bay of Canada to thank for our relief," Mr. Lloyd said in explaining his forecast. "A high pressure area developed there a few days ago, and yesterday gained enough force to carry it across the border into Minnesota, Wisconsin, and Michigan.

"Showers of varying degree, many of them heavy enough to be called downpours, fell in portions of those states. These showers, which are purely local, will probably continue today, benefiting Illinois, Indiana and other states in the central west and northwest.

"In western sections the weather will not be as warm as it was today, though the cool wave from the Pacific is losing force as it drives against the long continued and intense heat.

"The heat is broken here and in the rest of the Great Lakes region. But we cannot yet be sure that its intensity will lessen during the next few days in the far northwest."

Aid for Michigan and Minnesota.

Rain and the cooler air from Canada brought the greatest relief to Michigan and Minnesota. Each of these states contributed more than 500 to the toll of nearly 3,000 deaths attributed to the heat throughout the country.

Unaccustomed to summer temperatures much above 95 degrees, residents of both states were prostrated by the hundreds during the continued record setting heat.

In Michigan before the wind shifted to the north and rains fell, hospitals were crowded beyond capacity with heat prostration cases. Nurses and physicians collapsed under the strain of caring for the victims at high temperatures.

St. Paul and Minneapolis presented a similar picture. Police patrols, ambulances, taxicabs, and private cars in a steady stream carried the heat victims to hospitals where Red Cross nurses were called in to aid the overburdened stafs. Heat cases at one hospital were received at the rate of one every three minutes all day.

In the evening showers drenched the Twin Cities and the mercury fell to normal. Temperatures also returned to the normal 66 at Duluth which on Monday endured a maximum of 106 degrees.

Rains relieved at least temporarily the burning heat in widespread sections of the Dakotas and Montana, but were of little help to crops and grazing land already damaged beyond recovery. At Williston, N. D., a downpour washed out 900 feet of the Great Northern railroad's track. Another heavy rain wrecked part of the same railroad's track near Culbertson, Mont.

Another day of scattered showers brought lower temperatures in the western Canadian grain provinces. But farmers in Alberta and Saskatchewan wondered if the rain would improve prospects for their crops.

Drouth Relief Plans Go On.

In Washington the federal administration's drouth relief committee enlarged on projects for aiding farmers in the stricken areas. Announcement was made that President Roosevelt has allotted $3,000,000 under the 1935 emergency relief act to give these farmers WPA jobs. Half of this sum was immediately earmarked for soil conservation work in 12 states.

The AAA, it was reported, is also considering making the first soil conservation benefit payments to farmers in the early fall instead of December. Other relief measures in the planning stage include government purchase of sheep and cattle, construction of water conservation reservoirs, and long term loans for purchasing stock feed or moving cattle to better grazing lands.

Tugwell Goes West by Plane.

Intending to take personal charge of the rural resettlement work in the Dakotas, where the government plans to restore land to grass and "transplant" much of the population, Rexford Guy Tugwell, resettlement administrator, passed through Chicago by plane last night en route to Bismarck, N. D. With him were his assistant, Joseph L. Dailey, and Aubrey Williams, deputy WPA administrator.

FUGITIVE WOMAN FORGER CAUGHT; RETURNED HERE

Miss Katherine Carroll, 40 years old, who has been sought since 1933 when she jumped bond after she was sentenced to 1 to 14 years for forgery, was arrested yesterday in Milwaukee and brought to Chicago by Sergt. Edward Powers of the state's attorney's police.

Miss Carroll was an employé of the Hopkins-Benedict company, a railway supply concern at 80 East Jackson boulevard, for ten years until July, 1930, when she disappeared. The company officials asserted she had absconded with $49,000 which she took by forging accounts on the books.

She was arrested in February, 1932, and convicted of forgery in November of that year. She was freed on bond and fled.

Orders Removal of Barbed Wire as Bathing Hazard

Benjamin Shapiro, repair and construction engineer for the Chicago Park district, announced yesterday that barbed wire fences on public beaches will be removed wherever possible. Many of the fences separating public and private beaches have brought complaints from swimmers who have stepped on the wire, Shapiro said. Park district workmen yesterday removed a section of a fallen barbed wire fence between the beach at Foster avenue and one owned by the Saddle and Cycle club. The remainder of the wire, submerged and covered with sand, will be taken away today, Shapiro said.

Thirsty Bandit Has a Drink, Then Rifles Tavern Till

While eight customers were seated last night at the bar in a tavern at 1301 West Van Buren street, another man entered and ordered a drink. The bartender, Tony Toynacchi, 36 years old, 1447 West Harrison street, served him and then went to the rear of the tavern. The man vaulted over the bar, drew a pistol and took $45 from the cash register and small amounts from the customers. As the bandit ran from the tavern, Toynacchi returned and gave chase, firing several shots. None took effect and when the bandit returned the fire, Toynacchi abandoned pursuit.

WITNESSES IN MRS. BOLTON'S MURDER TRIAL

Mrs. Marie Harned of Gardner, Ill. (left), drew the attention of Mrs. Mildred Bolton, on trial for the slaying of her husband, when she testified yesterday. The defendant charges she is the "other woman." Miss Andrea Hoyoux, Bolton's secretary (center), who was in his offices when the shooting occurred, also testified. Miss Stephanie Hallgren (right) is expected to take the stand for the defense.

went into a tantrum over news photographers' efforts to take her picture, but in the afternoon she was cordial, saying, "Just don't take any closeups, boys; they don't show up so well."

Secretary Reveals Threats.

Miss Andrea Hoyoux of 1156 East 56th street, secretary to Bolton, was an important state's witness. She testified that in November, 1935, Mrs. Bolton first told her she was going to kill her husband, and that on June 1 last she made her famous remark about the acquittal of Betty Martin. A week later she said she was going to kill Bolton, "and when she did she was going to get a gun and do it properly," said Miss Hoyoux.

On two occasions, said the witness, Mrs. Bolton had crashed in the glass door leading from the corridor to Bolton's office, once because she thought he was talking on the telephone to a woman. Two weeks before the murder, Miss Hoyoux said she entered the office one day to find Mrs. Bolton grasping her husband's coat lapels while he held her off. On that occasion, the secretary said, Bolton showed her a knife and said he had taken it away from Mrs. Bolton.

Overhears Office Argument.

On the day of the shooting, the secretary testified, Bolton and his estranged wife had a wordy argument in his private office. At one time she heard Mrs. Bolton cry, "So you're going to pay the fine!" [Referring to the fine of Charles Harned.]

Questioned by Assistant State's Attorney Meyers, she was asked, and answered:

Q.—And then what occurred, if anything? A.—Then I heard a shot. Then I heard five other shots, and then some clicks, like a hammer were falling on empty shells.

Q.—Did you hear Mr. Bolton say anything? A.—He was moaning, and I heard Mrs. Bolton say, "Close that door." And Mr. Bolton said, "No, keep it open, keep it open." Then Mrs. Bolton came out of the office, partly walking, partly running, the pistol in her hand.

Demonstrates with Pistol.

Q.—[Passing her a nickel plated .32 caliber revolver]—Show the jury how she was carrying it. A.—[Stepping off the stand and holding revolver languidly in right hand]—Like this.

Dr. Matthew J. Kiley, 3240 Washington boulevard, coroner's physician, said that the dead man, "a man about 39, weighing 215 pounds and measuring 6 feet 1½ inches in height," died in his opinion, of a bullet wound in the chest. One bullet lacerated both lungs.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Dr. Merrill Werner, Dr. H. I. Smith, and their nurse, Mrs. Evelyn Healey, of 1001 North Dearborn street, described how, being called by an elevator operator, they left their office on the 13th floor of the building and went to the 10th floor, where they found Bolton lying on his back in a corridor. He called to them to "keep that woman away," and in their office later repeated it, and said, "I guess she got me, doc." Mrs. Bolton was there and remained until "taken away."

Policeman Tells Story.

Mounted Policeman Joseph Weber, who testified that he knew Bolton, saw him when he was dying in Dr. Smith's office. There, too, he saw Mrs. Bolton, he said.

"She asked me, 'How badly is he hurt?'" he testified. "I said, 'You ought to know; you shot him.'"

Q.—And then what did she say? A. [Squirming and hesitating slightly]—She said, "The dirty rat."

Mrs. Bolton was calm earlier in the day when the blood stained clothes last worn by her husband were displayed.

During the minute description of the five bullet holes in the dead man's clothes Mrs. Bolton sat at the counsel table, her face immobile except for an occasional swallow or twitching of the lips.

Dr. Clarence Muehlberger, coroner's chemist, identified the dead man's clothing. In precise tones, standing up and holding up the clothing so that the jury could see, he pointed out the bullet holes.

MILK TO GO UP TOMORROW TO 12 CENTS QUART

Cream and Other Products Expected to Be Higher.

One cent a quart will be added to the retail price of milk in Chicago, beginning with tomorrow morning's deliveries, making the price for doorstep deliveries 12 cents a quart.

The announcement of the increase was made yesterday by officials of several of the larger milk distributors. The new retail price schedule will become effective with the price increase which was granted to the dairy farmers on Monday.

Paul Potter, executive secretary of the Associated Milk Dealers, Inc., which includes 114 distributors, said the other dairies delivering in the metropolitan area were expected to announce a 1 cent increase in retail milk prices by tomorrow.

Drouth Principal Factor.

Higher prices paid to dairy farmers, whose costs of milk production have been increased by the drouth, made the increase in retail price necessary, according to the dealers.

An extra cent is expected to be added to the delivered price of pint bottles, making the new price 8 cents for pints and 12 cents for quarts.

Dealer representatives asserted yesterday that they likely would start charging more for cream tomorrow, but none of the dairy companies announced what the new retail price for cream was to be.

Wholesale cream prices now are about 8 cents a gallon higher than on July 1, having been increased three times since the first of the month. Retail prices of all milk products are expected to go higher soon.

Two Jumps in One Week.

Dairy farmers who produce milk for the Chicago area have been granted two price increases within the last week. During June they received only 30 cents a hundred pounds over condensery price for 85 per cent of their base production. During that month condensery prices averaged $1.35 a hundred.

The first increase was granted last Friday after a conference between members of the Pure Milk association, bargaining agency for 14,500 producing dairymen, and the Associated Milk Dealers.

In Chicago and suburbs the price paid to farmers was boosted at that time to 35 cents more than condensery prices. Producers were permitted under this agreement to deliver 90 per cent of their base production at this figure.

Figures 4.47 Cents a Quart.

Fearing that they still would be unable to meet rising feed costs, the farmers asked for an additional increase which was granted Monday. When the new price schedule goes into effect tomorrow, the dairy farmers will be paid 50 cents a hundred pounds above condensery price on the full amount of their allotment at this price.

The condensery price now is $1.58 cents a hundred, making it $2.08 a hundred [4.47 cents a quart] that farmers will receive for their milk beginning tomorrow. During June they got $1.65 a hundred for 85 per cent of their base production.

JAMAICAN CITY STRUCK BY TWO SHARP QUAKES

KINGSTON, Jamaica, July 14.—(AP)—Residents of Kingston were awakened today by two sharp earthquakes. The first shock was felt at 4:50 a. m. and the second, less intense, half an hour later. No damage was reported.

1 Killed, 40 Injured in Chile.

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 14.—(AP)—Meager advices from Taltal, on the north Chilean coast, today said a baby was killed and 40 persons injured during yesterday's 3 minute earth shock. Eighty per cent of the homes were reported seriously damaged.

County Hospital's Ice and Laundry Bills Go Up

The county hospital has bought extra ice and sent out part of its laundry since the heat wave began. Its ice machine output of six tons a day and its own laundry service have been inadequate.

While the death rate among elderly patients at the county hospital has increased because of the heat, there has been no change from the average of three deaths a day among the 3,900 patients at the Oak Forest infirmary. Frank Venecek, the superintendent, said the patients are cooled by occasional breezes from the open countryside, by the use of 20 tons of ice a day [four times normal] and 60 electric fans, and by the frequent serving of iced beverages and fruit juices.

More overcrowded than it has been since the influenza epidemic of 1918, the county morgue yesterday held 100 bodies for which there was no room in the 150 vaults. Most of them were those of heat victims.

Tigers and deer accepted hose showers with evident enjoyment at the Lincoln park zoo yesterday. But the lions and chimpanzees tried to dodge the water, hid their heads in corners and caught the showers on their backs.

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the city board of health, said that 120 cases of dog bite, largest number for one day in the city's history, were reported to the board on Monday. There has been one death from rabies.

Brawley, Cal.—(AP)—The temperature reached 121 degrees today, the highest officially recorded in the 25-year history of the government weather bureau here. The previous record of the Imperial valley was 120, registered at El Centro in 1934.

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—Employés of a tool and die plant came to work in shorts. The Rotary club luncheon was dismissed without a speaker because it was "too hot for words." The last eight days have been the longest hot spell in 40 years.

3 Day Old Baby, Born with Heart Exposed, Dies

EDMONTON, Alta., July 14.—(AP)—A 3 day old baby born with its heart outside its body died late tonight in University hospital here. No operation was performed, Dr. E. Hitchin, acting superintendent, announced, as surgeons earlier had said, the child had no chance of remaining alive.

OFFICIAL HOME OF BRITISH PREMIER TO BE IMPROVED

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, July 14. — Number 10 Downing street, the official residence of Great Britain's prime minister for two centuries, will be improved in appearance and accommodations during the summer's parliamentary recess.

The high wall running from halfway up Downing street to the prime minister's front door and dwarfing the dingy red brick façade will be torn down. The existing street frontage will be slightly extended and grass will be planted on what is now an inclosed patch of barren ground.

The work will be begun when Prime Minister Baldwin leaves town in August.

World Champion Cow Fed Milk in Battle for Her Life

WOODSTOCK, Ont., July 14.—(AP)—Milk was being fed by T. R. Dent to his world champion Holstein cow, Springbank Snow Countess, tonight in an attempt to save her life. The Holstein gave birth to a bull calf yesterday which died, and there were fears the mother may not survive owing to the heat.

RELIGION, RACE RAISE HEADS IN 1936 CAMPAIGN

Landon's Ancestry and Record Are Told.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Topeka, Kas., July 14.—[Special.]—Religious and racial prejudice, twin goblins of all presidential campaigns, have raised their heads in the Landon-Roosevelt struggle.

Many letters have been received at Gov. Alf M. Landon's office since the Republican nomination inquiring about his record, questioning his ancestry and his religious affiliations. More recently he has been accused of anti-Semitic prejudices and at the same time it has been intimated that he was of part Jewish blood. The first report would be designed to hurt him in the east, the second in the west.

He is a Methodist and has a political record as an anti-Klan worker in Kansas. His public utterances and his acts as governor have been marked by the spirit of Christian brotherhood and service, with an unusual emphasis on the importance of spiritual values.

An Example of Leniency.

In the state administration during his two terms, one instance has come to light where a distinct racial prejudice was a cause of dissension. This was in the administration of the Osawatomie state hospital for the insane, which for twenty-three years has been under the guidance of Dr. Francis H. Carmichael. Under the lenient political system that has grown up in Kansas, where they do not discharge capable department men as part of the political spoils of each new administration, Dr. Carmichael remained there year after year.

In the time of Gov. Clyde Reed Carmichael caused considerable trouble for the administration by his insertion of an ad for an assistant in the American Medical Journal in which he added a line to the effect that "no Jews need apply." This was six years ago. Many complaints were received about it at the time, but Dr. Carmichael smoothed it out and remained at his post.

A year and a half ago he sent out another call for an assistant and this time softened it a little by stating that "only gentiles need apply." There was more trouble and Dr. Carmichael was called to explain.

Partly as a result of this, and for other reasons, according to Dr. James M. Scott, head of the state board of administration, Dr. Carmichael's resignation has been accepted to become effective on Aug. 1. Dr. Scott said that the latest addition to the staf is a Jewish doctor and that there are Jews working in many of the state departments.

Landon Answers Meyer.

A year ago Eugene Meyer, publisher of the Washington Post, asked the governors of all the states for opinions on the anti-Semitic drive in Germany. Gov. Landon was one of the few who replied. He expressed his natural sorrow at intolerance and brutality. He said in this message, which was dated at Topeka, July 23, 1935:

"The doings and the sufferings of the people who make up the German community are so shocking as to convince me that the leaders, who dominate the German people by force of arms, have forgotten all teachings of justice and love. The intolerant and drastic treatment of minorities in Germany should cause us Americans, before casting stones, to ask ourselves if we, too, have not been following false gods in neglecting our churches too frequently and in failing to pay sufficient attention to all the religious precepts and principles.

Perils Individual Rights.

"No people can prosper, no nation can live, and no civilization can exist, that ignores the Christian principles of justice and love and moral conduct. When they are forgotten, the natural result is a dictatorship and the end to all aims of a free people. Germany is the latest illustration of the well known fact that a free church and a free democracy go hand in hand. Whenever religious freedom is threatened individual rights are trampled by force, and the clanking of swords and the flash of bayonets shock civilized people in their brutality."

As to the Landon ancestry, there is the name Mossman, but that is Scotch, not Jewish. The line is traced as follows by a Landon biographer:

"Thomas Landon Jr., veteran of the war of 1812, was succeeded at the ancestral home in Crawford county, Pa., by his son, Manuel. Manuel was the town builder and contractor, erected all the principal edifices and was a school director and trustee of the Methodist church for many years. He married Mary Fetterman, daughter of James Fetterman, a Pennsylvania Dutchman. Here is where the dash of Pennsylvania Dutch comes into the Landon ancestry.

Marries Preacher's Daughter.

"Manuel's son, John, the governor's father, fell in love with a preacher's daughter. The preacher, recently come to Conneautsville, was the Rev. William Herdman Mossman. The Mossmans came to America in colonial times, in 1709, from Scotland. They intermarried Scotch and stayed Scotch, almost to the extent of wearing kilts, down to the governor's grandfather's time.

"The Rev. Mr. Mossman married a beautiful woman of a famous American family, Susanna Houston. Her grandfather was Col. William Houston, plans and operations officer on Gen. George Washington's staf. Another ancestor on his mother's side was James Sheakley, a Presbyterian minister and missionary, who founded one of the earliest missions in Alaska and was made governor of the territory.

"The Rev. Mr. Mossman's mother was a Williamson, daughter of Lieut. James Williamson, who fought in the revolution. He was Scotch-Irish. Mrs. Mossman's mother was the daughter of Lieut. Col. Andrew Christy, who was one of the heroes of the battle of Lake Erie with Commodore Perry."

Peek Makes Racial Point.

George N. Peek, former head of the AAA, while in Topeka yesterday, mentioned the racial question in connection with the failure of the present administration to take advantage of negotiations which he had made with Germany to take two different lots of cotton, amounting in all to about 1,700,000 bales.

"I think it was because of the Jewish influence in the administration," he said.

It was intimated that this influence did not want to help Nazi Germany in any way and prevailed upon the state department to take a political rather than an economic view of the situation.

3 Indian Vets of Custer Massacre to Be Honored

Hot Springs, S. D., July 14.—(AP)—Three Indian warriors, said to have fought together in the Custer massacre on the Little Big Horn 60 years ago, will be guests here today and Saturday during the water carnival and race meet, annual celebration of this city. They are Little Killer, 89 years old; White Cow Bull, 85, and Roger Red Paint, 83, all of the Pine Ridge reservation.

Boy, 14, Dies in Aurora Pool; Heart Is Blamed

Jack Norris, 14 years old, 109 Oak Park avenue, Aurora, was taken from the water dead yesterday shortly after making a dive while swimming with companions in the community pool at Exposition park near that city. Dr. R. J. Rossman of Aurora expressed the opinion, after an examination, that death was caused by heart disease.

Actress Sues to Void Marriage

Hits Thorpe Divorce

Los Angeles, Cal., July 14.—(AP)—Pretty Mary Astor, film actress, filed a petition today asking that the divorce obtained last year by Dr. Franklyn Thorpe be set aside and their marriage declared void. She said he had an undivorced wife when they married in Yuma, Ariz., June 29, 1931.

Miss Astor also asked that the property settlement she and Dr. Thorpe entered into at the time of their divorce be declared invalid. She made charges similar to those yesterday in an affidavit accompanying a petition for sole custody of their young daughter. She accused Dr. Thorp of threatening to "scandalize" her publicly and ruin her professionally if she did not permit him to obtain a divorce and sole custody of the child.

The actress said in today's petition she did not learn of Dr. Thorpe's other marriage until last Saturday. She did not name the other woman.

Triplets—Tom, Dick, and Harry—Born Here

Triplet boys averaging three pounds one ounce each were born yesterday to Mrs. Ann Porubsky, 32 years old, wife of John Porubsky, 34 years old, at the Garfield Park hospital, 3821 Washington boulevard. Porubsky is janitor of a building at 2044 North Central Park avenue. The babies were delivered by Dr. Harry Foley, who said they and the mother are doing well. The boys probably will be named Thomas, Richard, and Harry, Porubsky said.

DEMOCRATIC COL. BRECKENRIDGE TO SUPPORT LANDON

Roosevelt Primary Foe Gives His Reasons.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Topeka, Kas., July 14.—[Special.]—Col. Henry Breckenridge of New York, a Democrat who tested out the strength of President Roosevelt by entering against him in four state primaries, paid a surprise visit to Gov. Alf M. Landon tonight.

After a conference of two hours, Col. Breckenridge asserted that he would support Landon and Knox in the presidential campaign. Their election, he said, would cause lasting good. He enumerated seven reasons for his decision.

Col. Breckenridge, who is Charles A. Lindbergh's attorney, said that the present campaign transcends party lines since the issues touch the principles of national life. The machinery of the Democratic party, he said, has been seized by a group of men who have repudiated every living principle of the party and have subverted the constitution of the United States.

The Breckenridge Statement.

"I shall vote for Gov. Landon and Col. Knox," the Breckenridge statement said. "Under all the circumstances, I think their election will accomplish lasting good for the country.

"Gov. Landon's election, in my judgment, will bring the following results:

"1. Greater security and prosperity for all those at present employed in agriculture, commerce, transportation, and industry.

"2. Speedier reëmployment at good wages for the millions who are unemployed because of the economy of scarcity and other follies of the present administration.

"3. Economy and common sense in government with diminishing taxes and more money in the citizens' pocket for personal expenditure and the stimulation of business.

"4. Greater freedom from hatred and strife between the various elements of our population.

"5. The ending of all threats to the freedom of the press and radio.

Holds Landon's Word Good.

"Gov. Landon's word is good. He will perform his promises. He is direct. He has no hidden purposes.

"On Nov. 3 the American people will have a great test of their common sense, intelligence, and devotion to the principles of their national life."

Col. Breckenridge, who has been a lifelong Democrat, entered the primaries in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, and Ohio. He made no campaign and simply served as an indicator of anti-Roosevelt sentiment within the party last spring.

"The vote was sufficient," he said, "if subtracted from Roosevelt's 1932 vote and added to his opponent's, to have defeated him."

Borah Backers for Landon.

Two preconvention Borah men discussed Republican prospects in the northwest with Gov. Landon today after telling newsmen the presidential candidate's "chances are increasing all the time."

John Thomas of Idaho, friend of Senator William E. Borah and his former colleague in the senate, visited Landon with E. G. Bennett of Utah. Prior to the Cleveland convention, both had supported Borah for the Republican nomination.

"We came to go over the situation in the northwestern, intermountain states," Thomas said. "Republican chances are improving all the time. Landon has an appeal to our people and a fine chance to carry the northwest."

First FDIC Administrator.

Bennett, long a business associate of Marriner S. Eccles, governor of the federal reserve farm board, added:

"I was very much interested in Borah's nomination. Failing of that, I feel a very splendid selection was made in Gov. Landon."

Bennett was the Republican member of the first three-man board named by President Roosevelt to administer the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation.

Former Gov. Dan Turner of Iowa and Don Berry, Indianola, Ia., who represented the state on the Republican platform committee at Cleveland, spent an hour with Landon.

"As a result of this platform and the candidate we find sentiment in Iowa is going back rapidly to the Republican banner," said Turner.

"Will Landon carry your section?" Thomas was asked.

UNION OFFICIAL'S GUN DISCHARGES; HITS ENGRAVER

Henry Kort, 43 years old, 1105 Harrison avenue, Park Ridge, was wounded in the left shoulder last evening when a gun was discharged accidentally in the office of the Photo Engravers union, in the Transportation building, 608 South Dearborn street. Kort and two other members of the union, who were in the office, said that the gun went off while Edward Sward, 43 years old, business agent of the union, was pointing it playfully over his left shoulder. Kort was taken to the Presbyterian hospital, where it was said his condition was not serious. Sward, who lives at the Atlantic hotel, 316 South Clark street, was sought for questioning, although police were convinced the shooting was accidental.

Typhoon Wipes Out Corn Crop in Philippine Area

MANILA, P. I., July 14.—(AP)—The typhoon which sank the 939 ton coastal motorship Marie off Palanan July 8 also struck Isabela province, wiping out the corn crop and producing a threat of famine in that area, officials here said today. Owners of the Marie were informed today bodies of two of the vessel's crew of twenty-three men were washed ashore at Palanan. The others were missing.

KANSAS CITY, MO., LENDS HAND ON LANDON PROGRAM

Housing Bureau Opened to Aid Crowds.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Kansas City, Mo., July 14.—[Special.]—This city of 400,000 population is bustling today anticipating the arrival of thousands of motorists from Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, and Wisconsin next week for the Landon notification ceremony and festivities July 23 at Topeka, Kas., 70 miles west of here.

Topeka, population 73,000, has its hotels filled with reservations for the occasion, has plans for a tent city to house 10,000 and still is lacking thousands of beds to care for the expected crowd. So Kansas City yesterday was asked to help.

Housing Bureau Opened.

A housing bureau is being opened by the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce as if for a large local convention. Herbert Boning of the chamber is working to coördinate this bureau with agencies such as the Chicago Motor club, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE' Public Service, and a special department of the national Republican headquarters in the Railway Exchange building in Chicago. It may become possible to make advance reservations through these agencies.

"We can welcome the 15,000 or 20,000 coming by train and automobile from Chicagoland states without any one having to sleep in the park," said Fred C. Hoose, general chairman of the Kansas City committee on the Landon notification.

The transportation question is being tackled as if it were a wartime emergency problem. Dick S. Adams, a Kansas City trucker, has a committee organizing railroads, buses and airplanes into one huge system to move the masses.

Three Railroads on Route.

There are three railroads between Kansas City and Topeka, the Rock Island, the Union Pacific, and the Santa Fe. They have been asked to load their lines with all the shuttle service trains that the rails will carry without disrupting regular service or the special trains from the east bound for the notification party.

"We will know in a few days," said Mr. Adams, "whether we'll be able to suggest to motor caravans from Illinois and Indiana, for example, to leave their automobiles in Kansas City and to take a train from Kansas City to Topeka and return for a round trip fare of $1.33."

There are two paved highways between these cities, one on the north side and the ether on the south side of the Kansas river.

The Chicago Motor club is studying the trafic and is organizing caravans from Chicagoland to Topeka at the request of members, as a general service job and not as a partisan political activity.

The club has received requests for "Illinois for Landon" and "Indiana for Landon" banners to decorate the motorcades. These will have to be obtained from some enterprising novelty manufacturer.

Felix du Pont Teaching 4 Months Old Son to Fly

Philadelphia, Pa., July 14.—[Special.]—A. Felix du Pont Jr., who pilots his own seaplane, and whose wife, the former Eleanor Hoyt, also is a licensed flyer, is initiating his son, A. Felix III., into aviation at the age of 4 months. The baby has just had his first plane ride and is due to have them regularly hereafter, his father said today. Mr. du Pont has built a specially constructed cradle in his seaplane.

KNOX AND ICKES HELP LAUNCH NEW WIEBOLDT STORE

Col. Frank Knox, Republican nominee for Vice President, and Harold Ickes, secretary of the interior, spoke yesterday at ground breaking ceremonies for Wieboldt Brothers' $1,000,000 department store which is to be constructed at Harlem avenue and Lake street, River Forest.

Col. Knox said that such building activity by private business helps to pump new blood into American life and industry. He praised the vision of the Wieboldts and urged further such building for the good of the country. Secretary Ickes dwelt on PWA and WPA activities and paralleled them with progress in private business.

MAN MADE LAKE HELD TYPICAL OF DAKOTA SPIRIT

Linton, N. D., July 14.—(AP)—A small expanse of water here which attracts man, beast and fowl is an example of the new spirit of water conservation which forms a part of the program of people who live and work in the Dakotas.

It is Hanson lake—made where once was a dry coulee by men who needed work.

The lake, filled with farmers and their families on these sweltering days, is one of a score of water conservation projects completed in the state by the United States Biological survey. Other artificial lakes are under construction.

Already complete or under construction are 54 biological survey projects having a water storage capacity of 117,303 acre feet, or enough water to cover more than 180 square miles to a depth of one foot, according to M. O. Steen, state director.

Plan Water Developments.

Pierre, S. D., July 14.—(AP)—A program of immediate water development to aid live stock growers and small towns suffering from shortages will be discussed when relief and resettlement officials of North and South Dakota meet with federal authorities at Bismarck, N. D., tomorrow.

TWO-THIRDS LESS LIQUOR DRUNK NOW, IS CLAIM

New York, July 14. — [Special.] — Per capita consumption of liquor in the United States now is two-thirds below the consumption in 1917, despite the fact that 79.6 per cent of the population now are free to drink beer, wine, or hard liquor as compared to 35.4 per cent nineteen years ago, the United States Brewers' association reported today.

Referring to a survey being completed by his organization, C. D. Williams, secretary of the association, said that in 1917 when 90 per cent of the country was dry, the per capita consumption of hard liquor reached its highest point since 1870.

"The per capita consumption of hard liquor in 1917 was 1.62 gallons," he continued, "with wine at .41 gallon and beer at 18.17 gallons. Today the per capita consumption of hard liquor amounts to .56 gallon, or two-thirds less than in 1917."

40 Policemen in Omaha Discharged for Economy

Omaha, Neb., July 14.—[Special.]—Forty policemen, nearly one-sixth of the force, were discharged today by the city council "for reasons of economy." Only Mayor Dan Butler dissented. The discharged men include five detective sergeants and 35 patrolmen. A number of them are eligible for pensions and many others are 16 to 18 year men.

ROOSEVELT PUTS UP DEFENSE FOR SPOILS PRACTICE

Declares Civil Service Record Is Good.

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt defended the civil service record of his administration in a letter, made public today, to Charles Gordon, chairman of the civil service committee of the Lawyers' Security league.

The President's letter was sent in reply to one from Mr. Gordon especially criticizing appointments to emergency federal agencies and to posts as attorneys in the federal service and urging the merit system for the social security board. He replied that he had asked congress for authority to bring exempt federal agencies and positions under civil service; pointed out that he had no power in cases where congress makes exemptions, and asserted that he had brought 9,000 more positions under civil service in the last two or three years than "the comparatively few taken out."

Claims Gain of 9,000 Jobs.

His letter follows:

"My dear Mr. Gordon:

"Thank you for your letter of June 27, which I have read with much interest.

"As to the classified service. I find that in the last two or three years, the positions brought within the competitive classified service by executive orders outnumbered by more than 9,000 the comparatively few which have been taken out of the classified service.

"During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1935, there was an increase of about 4,600 in the number of classified employés in the regular branches of the service; and when the annual tabulation is prepared as of June 30, 1936 [which it is hoped will be early in August], it is certain that there will be a further marked increase because of the fact that either by act of congress or by executive order the following agencies have been added to those which operate under the civil service law:

"Alien property custodian.

"Bituminous coal commission.

"Farm credit administration.

"Federal Communications commission.

"Labor relations board.

"Securities and Exchange commission.

"Railroad retirement board.

"Motor carrier bureau of the interstate commerce commission.

"Social security board.

"Public utility regulation.

"Soil conservation service.

"United States railroad administration.

"National training school for boys.

"Certain positions in the CCC camps.

Cites Limits Set by Congress.

"As to the exemption from the classified service of positions of attorney by congress, you will, of course, appreciate the fact that when congress takes such action there is no power resting in the President to bring such positions within the competitive classified service.

"I have recommended to congress approval of bills which have been introduced in both the house and the senate which would give to the President authority to issue executive orders which would bring within the classified service groups of positions and federal agencies which are now exempt by statute.

"As to the social security board, congress has stated that appointments to positions of attorney and expert in that board may be made without regard to the civil service act and rules, and the President is without power to direct the board in the matter of making appointments to these positions."

No Partisanship Involved.

The league's letter to the President said in part:

"There has recently been much criticism in the press directed at the civil service record of your administration. Unquestionably a great deal of the criticism has been partisan and insincere, yet it is patent to every impartial observer that all this smoke is being caused by a long smoldering fire.

"It is an unfortunate truth that the civil service has not flourished in your administration. The limitations of this letter preclude a complete exposition of the extent of the damage which has been done. It is sufficient to point out that vast new agencies of the government have been set up without regard for civil service.

Thousands Await Call.

"Despite the existence of thousands of qualified eligibles on pending civil service lists, not one of these have been called into service in these so-called temporary agencies. In addition, numerous permanent agencies have been created, but here, too, the civil service has been neglected.

"In the few cases where civil service lists have been formulated, they have been almost completely disregarded, especially in connection with the more remunerative positions.

"These assertions are not based on hearsay and speculation, but result from the bitter experience of a great many of the 1,300 members of our organization, which is composed of lawyers practicing in the city of New York. . . .

"As you undoubtedly are aware, the depression has caused widespread hardship among members of the legal profession, especially in New York City. For this reason thousands of lawyers have been attracted to the civil service, which apparently presented an opportunity for an honorable career.

Hopes Soon Blighted.

"But the hope which the prospect of a civil service career had aroused was soon turned to bitter disappointment. There apparently was no room for the lawyer in the civil service. All positions for which attorneys were qualified had from time immemorial been regarded as the legitimate prey of political spoilsmen.

"Whenever a law provided for the services of attorneys there was almost invariably a provision exempting such positions from competitive civil service. The great need for attorneys in the new agencies of government which were created during your administration was invariably satisfied without recourse to the civil service. In the rare cases, such as the federal communications commission, when examinations were given for attorney positions, the resulting list was promptly disregarded.

"There is no need for continuing this recital. It could be prolonged indefinitly. We call upon you, Mr. President, to see to it that this travesty is ended."

MOTHER WHO KILLED CHILD QUITS PRISON TO AWAIT NEW TRIAL

Goshen, N. Y., July 14.—[Special.]—Pale and shaken by six months in Sing Sing prison's death house, Mrs. Dorothy Sherwood, ex-chorus girl, who drowned her baby because she "couldn't bear to see him starve," was in a jail cell here today awaiting a new trial for murder.

Mrs. Sherwood appeared unwilling to talk while posing for photographers. Later she confessed the reason. All her upper teeth were removed while she was in the death house. She said she didn't wish to see her 6 year old daughter Dorothy "while I'm in jail." The child is living with friends in Hoboken, N. J.

ROOSEVELT PUTS OUT TO SEA ON 2 WEEK CRUISE

Takes Over Command of 56 Foot Schooner.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Aboard Schooner Liberty, Off Maine Coast, July 14.—[Special.]—Franklin Delano Roosevelt tossed official cares to a stiff off shore wind today and became master of the 56 foot schooner Sewanna to go down to the sea under sail for two weeks. At sundown he anchored for the night in Buck's harbor near South Brooksville.

The President was piped over the side of the two master at the start of the cruise by his crew, three of his four tall sons, James, Franklin Jr., and John. He took over command of the craft from Elden H. Coldbeth, veteran captain in Maine's waters.

"I haven't the faintest idea where I'm going except to work to the northeastward," Skipper Roosevelt said at a press conference aboard the presidential yacht Potomac at Rockland, Me., before he took over his command.

Rockland Greets President.

He arrived at Rockland at 8:30 this morning from Hyde Park, where he spent the week-end at his mother's home. From his special train he drove to the dock at which the Potomac was tied up. The citizenry of Rockland turned out to greet him.

On the aft deck of the Potomac, against a background of circling sea-gulls, Mr. Roosevelt said he probably would not open a book on the whole trip. He added "You know, I have nothing with me except those heavy letters kindly people left with me—the sort of thing they hand you and say 'Just run over this during a dull moment.' And you can print that."

Confers With Gov. Brann.

As the presidential special neared Rockland, Gov. Louis J. Brann of Maine clambered aboard to greet the President. On the Potomac Mr. Roosevelt said he had discussed "a number of things" with the governor but stressed farm coöperatives organization.

"Coöperatives have to grow from the bottom and cannot be imposed on the top," he said.

He added that the more sales can be regulated the more potato farmers of Maine will avoid the squeeze of years when their crops might glut the market.

The President said he has no rendezvous with Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, who is making one of his mysterious visits to this country.

Plans Tour in August.

After the neighborly call Mr. Roosevelt said his plans are indefinite. He will return to Hyde Park for several days. During August he will visit the northwest drouth area and the eastern flood areas.

The Potomac was escorted across Penobscot bay by the destroyer Hopkins to Pulpit harbor, ten miles north of Rockland, where sails were lifted on the Sewanna.

With canvas drawing nicely the Sewanna drew out of the harbor. The Potomac and Hopkins following close behind. At the same time the yacht Liberty, carrying newspaper men, joined the presidential flotilla.

During the two weeks Mr. Roosevelt will drop a fishing line in Canadian waters for sport and to feed his crew. He plans to spend two days at Campobello Island, New Brunswick, where his mother has a summer home, before he goes to Quebec.

Radio to Tell Progress.

On two days of the trip, according to elastic plans, Mr. Roosevelt plans to be far from shore in Canadian waters. On those days navy radio will report his progress.

The "admiral" of the cruise is Capt. Paul Bastedo, the President's naval aid, with Assistant White House Secretary Marvin H. McIntyre and Capt. Ross T. McIntyre, the President's personal physician.

Widow of Louis M. Howe Named to Postmastership

Washington, D. C., July 14.—(AP)—Mrs. Grace H. Howe, widow of Louis McHenry Howe, former member of President Roosevelt's secretariat, was named by Postmaster General Farley today as acting postmaster at Fall River, Mass. The office pays $4,000 a year.

TWO PAROLEES STICK UP STORE; CAUGHT IN CHASE

Two ex-convicts who were paroled from Pontiac reformatory a few months ago were arrested last night after police pursued them several miles through the southwest side. The convicts, who were riding in a stolen car, had held up a National Tea store at 2444 Bryn Mawr avenue earlier in the evening and taken $58.

Those held are Walter Wujick, 20 years old, 2531 Harrison street, and Joseph Sapey, 2¼ years old, 1874 North Hoyne avenue. Wujick was sentenced to one year to life for robbery in 1933 and was paroled from Pontiac last April 21. Rapey, who received a similar sentence in 1931, was paroled last March 26. Since then, according to police, they have committed at least twenty-five robberies.

After Wujick and Rapey held up the tea store last night they drove to Ogden and California avenues where their reckless driving attracted the attention of Sergt. John Freichel and Patrolman Arthur Medzinski of the Marquette station. When the men refused to halt, the police gave chase in a squad car. The pursuit led to Ashland avenue and 21st street where the police curbed the bandit car. The $58 was found in a money bag on the floor of the car.

Female Bulldog Mothers Six 5 Day Old Rabbits

Vannuys, Cal., July 14.—(AP)—Tootsie, a three year old female bulldog, nursed six five day old rabbits today. The bulldog lost her newborn puppy about the time a dozen bunnies arrived in a warren owned by Lola Loveall, a singer. When the mother rabbit was unable to feed the entire litter Miss Loveall gave Tootsie half.

CAUSE OF FIRES AT FACTORY AND CHURCH A PUZZLE

Investigators from the office of Fire Attorney Thomas J. Sheehan endeavored without result yesterday to determine the cause of two fires early yesterday which caused a total estimated loss of more than $150,000. Ninety-two pieces of apparatus were used to bring them under control.

One of the fires wrecked the interior of the New England Congregational church, which was built at 19 West Delaware place, 83 years ago and which withstood the fire of 1871. Damage there was fixed at $50,000. The fire started in the rear of the building and swept through the auditorium, destroying valuable relics and a pipe organ that cost $60,000 to install several years ago.

The other fire destroyed a part of the plant of the Goldenrod Ice Cream company at 825 West 21st street, and ruined a supply of liquor stored there for the Service Drug company, a subsidiary. Estimates of the loss ranged between $100,000 and $300,000.

TEACHER RENEWS RAPE CHARGE IN OAK PARK CASE

Shortly after Kenneth Keagy, 27 years old, of Oak Park, was released yesterday when a rape charge against him was not pressed, Assistant State's Attorney William S. Rotchford asked the Oak Park police to arrest Keagy again. Rotchford said that Miss Dorothy Gibson, the complaining witness, appeared before the grand jury during the afternoon and on her testimony an indictment charging rape was voted. Miss Gibson, a school teacher, 25 years old, lives at 534 North Grove avenue, Oak Park.

The first charge against Keagy was nol-prossed before Justice of the Peace Martin H. McGrath in Oak Park on the recommendation of Rotchford, who said he was informed at the time that Miss Gibson had left the state. Keagy, who is married and lives at 5336 West Monroe street, was arrested last night. The alleged attack on Miss Gibson occurred in her home on May 21.

ASSESSES FINES IN SHORTWEIGHT CASES AGAINST 3

Municipal Judge Robert Jerome Dunne yesterday disposed of eight short weight cases, fining three defendants a total of $5 and $7 costs and discharging the other five.

Assistant Corporation Counsel David Lefkovits, who prosecuted the cases, and Edwin R. Peterson, director of the field division of the Chicago Better Business bureau, who attended the court session, protested that Judge Dunne was too lenient in disposing of the cases.

Money in Bank, Two Men Lose Support of County

William W. Steele, representative of Deerfield township on the Lake county board of supervisors, reported yesterday that within the past week two men were removed from the pauper rolls when it was discovered they have bank accounts. Steele refused to divulge the men's names but said one of them lives in Highwood and the other in Highland Park. The Highland Park resident, who was staying on the township poor farm at Libertyville, was found to have $1,200 in the bank and the Highwood man, who had been receiving relief, had a $1,000 bank account.

ROOSEVELT NOTE REVEALS PLOT TO INCREASE PANIC

Spurns Hoover Plan, Then Uses It Later as Own.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[FOURTH ARTICLE.]

Washington, D. C., July 14.—[Special.]—Firmly believing that the panic gripping the country in February, 1933, was the result of popular distrust of President Elect Roosevelt's monetary theories, President Hoover moved heaven and earth to induce the President Elect to make a statement calculated to calm such apprehensions.

Mr. Hoover addressed such an appeal to Mr. Roosevelt in a private letter under date of Feb. 17, which was quoted in the third article of this series.

Delivered to Roosevelt Personally.

When he failed to receive a reply, Mr. Hoover requested a confirmation from the secret service of delivery of his letter. The secret service sent to the White House full details of delivery of the letter into Mr. Roosevelt's hand. Still without a reply on Feb. 28, Mr. Hoover wrote to Mr. Roosevelt again, renewing his plea for a reassuring statement by the President Elect.

On March 1, three days before the change of administrations, Mr. Hoover received a reply from Mr. Roosevelt. The President Elect stated that he had written a reply within a few days after receiving Mr. Hoover's first letter, but through an inadvertence the letter had not been dispatched. He inclosed the reply.

Blames Secretary's Oversight.

Mr. Roosevelt's covering letter follows:

"I am dismayed to find that the inclosed, which I wrote in New York a week ago, did not go to you, through an assumption by my secretary that it was only a draft of a letter.

"Now I have yours of yesterday and can only tell you that I appreciate your fine spirit of coöperation and that I am in constant touch with the situation through Mr. [William H.] Woodin, who is consulting with Ogden [Secretary of the Treasury Mills] and with various people in New York. I am inclined to agree that a very early special session will be necessary . . . and by tonight or tomorrow I hope to settle on a definite time . . . I will let you know . . . you doubtless know of the proposal to give authority to the treasury to deposit funds directly in any bank.

"I get to Washington late tomorrow night and will look forward to seeing you on Friday."

Too Late, His Excuse.

In the inclosed reply to Mr. Hoover's letter of Feb. 17, Mr. Roosevelt, writing presumably about Feb. 20, declined to make the public statement Mr. Hoover suggested and took the position that it was too late to stop the bank panic by any means. The text of this letter follows:

"I am equally concerned with you in regard to the gravity of the present banking situation—but my thought is that it is so very deep-seated that the fire is bound to spread in spite of anything that is done by way of mere statements. The real trouble is that on present values very few financial institutions anywhere in the country are actually able to pay off their deposits in full, and the knowledge of this fact is widely known. Bankers with the narrower viewpoint have urged me to make a general statement, but even they seriously doubt if it would have a definite effect.

Glass Rejects Cabinet Post.

"I had hoped to have Senator Glass' acceptance of the treasury post—but he definitly said no this afternoon—I am asking Mr. Woodin tomorrow—if he accepts I propose to announce it tomorrow, together with Senator [Cordell] Hull for the state department. These announcements may have some effect on the banking situation, but frankly I doubt if anything short of a fairly general withdrawal of deposits can be prevented now.

"In any event, Mr. Woodin, if he accepts, will get into immediate touch with Mills and the bankers."

This letter is, perhaps, the most important piece of tangible evidence on which the Republicans base their charge that Mr. Roosevelt deliberately refused to do anything to stop the bank panic and took a position calculated to accentuate its violence.

Wanted Country at Bottom.

Two weeks before the inauguration, the Republicans emphasize, Mr. Roosevelt looked forward to taking office in the midst of a "fairly general withdrawal of deposits." His object, they charge, was to let the country sink to the bottom-most depth of the depression under Mr. Hoover before he should appear on the scene to lift it up.

Mr. Roosevelt professed to regard it futile to attempt to halt the panic because on "present values very few financial institutions anywhere in the country actually are able to pay off their depositors." Mr. Hoover instantly questioned the soundness of this premise and he was vindicated by Mr. Roosevelt's own record of paying off depositors on "present values."

"When, after a few days," say William M. Myers and Walter H. Newton, in their book "The Hoover Administration," "the banks were all closed by him, and then, within another few days, reopened, there had been no essential addition to their assets. Banks holding 92 per cent of the country's deposits were so reopened and Mr. Roosevelt himself publicly declared that they were sound. The reports of the controler of the currency show several per cent of the remainder subsequently were reopened without loss to depositors.

Show Fears Well Founded.

"It was not primarily a bank scare that induced a flight of capital abroad, estimated by some at exceeding a billion dollars, or the purchase of large quantities of gold bullion, or the withdrawal of gold coin for hoarding. Even many of the hoarders of currency believed in the faith of the government to convert it into gold. It is evident that the fear of the prospective change in monetary policies, since justified, contributed to the general breakdown of confidence."

Mr. Hoover was well prepared for the rejection of his appeal to Mr. Roosevelt. On Feb. 25, Secretary of the Treasury Mills had communicated with his announced successor-to-be, Mr. Woodin, urging that it was not too late for a statement by the President-Elect which would calm the panic. Mr. Mills reported to Mr. Hoover that Mr. Woodin said there positively would be no statement made. Mr. Woodin took the position, Mr. Mills said, that Mr. Roosevelt and his colleagues had no official connection with the government as yet and recognized no responsibility to the country until March 4.

Hoover Makes New Attempt.

After receiving Mr. Roosevelt's unfavorable reply on March 1, Mr. Hoover directed Secretary Mills to see Mr. Woodin again and propose a coöperative program of emergency legislation to halt the panic. Because the Democrats controled congress, the coöperation of Mr. Roosevelt was essential to passage of emergency legislation in the three days remaining of the seventy-second congress.

In a letter of instructions to Mr. Mills, President Hoover said that if Mr. Roosevelt or his advisers "will indicate to us what they wish to have done to meet the present emergency, and if it is of a nature that will serve the purpose, I shall be glad to present it to the congress, but it would be futile to present anything unless the President-Elect will publicly declare that it is his desire that it should be undertaken.

Pins Responsibility on Roosevelt.

"It is obvious to anybody that the majority of the congress during this session have acted, and will continue to act, only with his indicated approval. In view of our repeated offers to coöperate, this very fact assesses him with responsibilities for the present situation, which no amount of declamation can postpone until after March 4."

Mr. Mills, after conferring with Mr. Woodin in New York, telephoned Mr. Hoover that Mr. Woodin had stated to him his "instructions were not to agree to anything."

On March 3, Mr. Hoovert proposed issuance of a proclamation controling exchange and hoarding while the federal reserve board suggested a proclamation closing all banks for 36 hours. Mr. Roosevelt rejected this plan, which he adopted in a more drastic form as soon as he took office.

At 11:30 p. m. March 3 Mr. Hoover telephoned Mr. Roosevelt, who stated that he wanted no proclamation of any kind issued. In little more than 12 hours, Mr. Roosevelt was President and issuing his own proclamations.

WOMEN OF CHICAGO KANSAS SOCIETY TO HONOR GOV. LANDON

Sunflower hats and parasols which will be worn by women members of the Kansas Society of Chicago at the Landon notification ceremonies in Topeka July 23, were exhibited yesterday at the headquarters of the Republican national committee in the Railway Exchange building. J. P. Landreth is president of the society. A large proportion of its membership will make the trip to Topeka next week.

FARLEY VS. HAMILTON

These are the two warriors who will occupy the squared arena and upon whom the Kleig lights will blaze for the next four months. Most likely the principals will stay more or less in the background and these gentlemen will decide the big issues. While placing your bets, don't fail to write the Fred J. Walsh Company, 134 North La Salle Street, or to telephone Central 4327 for the best bet in Chicago today. They'll send you some literature and pictures of many beautiful homes — homes on large tracts with everything from Brigsteel Beautyware plumbing fixtures to hot water heat and wood-burning fireplaces. Prices as low as $5 per rm. thru F.H.A. aid.

KNOX MAPS WIDE SPEAKING TOUR IN NEXT FEW WEEKS

Will Carry G. O. P. Torch East, West, South.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Frank Knox, Republican vice presidential nominee, said yesterday that his present plans call for ten or even twelve weeks of campaign speaking and traveling that will carry him into every state in the country in which there is a real contest.

On the eve of his second Topeka conference with Gov. Landon, which will be held today, Col. Knox discussed at a press conference the outlines of a tentative itinerary consisting of a series of sixteen or eighteen day trips out of Chicago. As now arranged, the first trip would be into the west and the northwest, the second into the eastern states, and the third would take him southwest through Arizona, New Mexico, and California. Other trips will follow.

After the conference Col. Knox left for Topeka to go over the itinerary with Gov. Landon. They may possibly make some changes in it and will consider a number of other topics such as a comparison of their speeches of acceptance now drafted in order to guard against duplication or overlapping.

Returns Here Friday.

Col. Knox said he intends to spend only today in Topeka and to return here for business engagements on Thursday. On Friday he expects to go to his summer home in New Hampshire, where he will devote a solid week to speech writing.

One of Col. Knox's callers during the day was Sterling E. Edmunds of St. Louis, attorney and former newspaper editor.

"He is one of the constitutional Democrats who are going to put up a real fight for Missouri," said Col. Knox. "They expect former Senator Jim Reed to stump the state against the New Deal."

The same note of hope of Democratic support was sounded in an announcement from Republican national headquarters in the Railway Exchange building making public a letter from Robert S. Bright, a Philadelphia Democrat for forty-three years, who inclosed $500 for the Republican campaign. Bright predicted that "millions" of Democrats will vote for Landon.

Promises His Vote.

"Farley will say I am an unknown Democrat," he wrote, "which is largely true; but there are millions like me who are going to vote for Gov. Landon."

In addition to the general headquarters of John D. M. Hamilton, chairman of the Republican national committee, Chicago is to have the western division headquarters of the Republican congressional campaign committee. Congressman Chester C. Bolton of Ohio, chairman of the committee, made the announcement yesterday in Washington, saying that Carl G. Bachmann of West Virginia, manager of the Borah pre-convention campaign, will be in charge here.

M'CAHEY HAS $114,000 SCHOOL BOARD SAVING BY COMPETITIVE BIDS

James B. McCahey, president of the board of education, yesterday outlined work of the board in an address before the North Central Kiwanis club in the Drake hotel. Among the outstanding accomplishments of the present board, he said, are the development of competitive bids in purchasing textbooks, an efficient lunchroom system, and completion of an economy program.

"The first year competitive bidding was started the board obtained a reduction of $114,000 in purchasing $500,000 worth of textbooks," he said. "Briefly, each school formerly purchased its own books, whereas under the new plan, we have the benefits of group buying." Lunchroom patronage has increased from 28 per cent of the school attendance to 42 per cent since 1934, he said.

Before the present board took office in 1933 it had difficulty borrowing money at 6 per cent, McCahey said. "We were confronted with the problem of maintaining educational and housing facilities for 500,000 pupils, with an exhausted treasury, no credit, and an enormous and constantly increasing deficit. Now the board borrows money at rates ranging from 1.75 per cent to 2.50 per cent."

NAMES 2 WOMEN TO ASSIST G. O. P. ELECTION DRIVE

Mrs. Robert Lincoln Hoyal, assistant chairman of the Republican national committee, yesterday announced the appointment of Mrs. Helen C. Griffin of Grant Park, Ill., and Mrs. A. C. Carlson of Willmar, Minn., as her two assistants in charge of special organization among groups of women voters.

The appointments bring into the national campaign two women who long have ben active politically in their own localities.

Mrs. Griffin, sister of the late Edward C. Curtis, started her political career in 1916 when she was active in the women's suffrage campaign. She directed the women's campaign for Len Small in 1920 and was rewarded by being named co-chairman of the Republican central committee.

Mrs. Carlson has been state central committeewoman from Minnesota since 1924, with the exception of two years, and now is a member of the state Republican advisory council of Minnesota.

Maurice McGuire Heads Landon Forces in 29th

Attorney Maurice G. McGuire announced yesterday that he has been appointed chairman of the Landon-Knox Republican organization in the 29th ward and that he will open ward headquarters for the presidential campaign at 3359 Madison street on Friday night. Mr. McGuire will take a delegation of 30 Republicans from the ward to Topeka for the Landon notification ceremonies. He said 500 from the ward would attend the Knox notification ceremonies here.

Coat Off O. K., but Library of Congress Bars Polo Shirt

Washington, D. C., July 14.—(AP)—Allowing men to take their coats off and hang them on the backs of their chairs is regarded as a "reasonable concession" at the Library of Congress. But a polo shirt is "going too far," and the wearer is turned away.

"Some polo shirts," said Supt. Martin Roberts, "have very abbreviated sleeves and wide open chests. Women readers object to men of years wearing them."

Dirigible Hindenburg Sails from Lakehurst; 57 Aboard

Raskob Leaves Hospital in Idaho; Leg Is Injured

TOWNSEND HINTS OPPOSITION TO 'PENSION' PARTY

Plan to Reorganize Old Setup Is Drawn.

Cleveland, O., July 14.—[Special.]—On the eve of a national convention of his followers, which opens here tomorrow, Dr. F. E. Townsend, old age pension leader, today indicated his opposition to a Townsend party at this time, and said his organization would utilize the machinery of the two old parties to accomplish its objectives.

Meanwhile a revision of the administrative setup of the pension organization, which would strip Dr. Townsend of his power to name the board of directors, was announced.

Under the reorganization a new corporation, Townsend Recovery Plan, Inc., would replace the present body.

Action Up to Delegates.

The California doctor said he expected the convention to take some definite action on the question of its participation in the election campaign, but pointed out that the decision is entirely up to the delegates.

"I never will vote for Roosevelt and I never will vote for Landon," he declared. "I don't k now whom I'll vote for, but I would rather vote for a Socialist than either of them, and Lord knows I'm not a Socialist.

"I'm opposed all the way through to the Democratic and Republican parties as parties because they have failed to carry out their promises to the people."

He added that the time has come to "wipe out partyism, which is un-American and undemocratic." In the place of political parties Dr. Townsend said he would substitute "town hall and neighborhood group" meetings.

In this connection he also proposed a one house congress with the membership greatly reduced from the present size of the house of representatives.

Plans Fight for McGroarty Bill.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 14.—(AP)—George C. Highley, Townsend club old age pension movement insurrectionist, left today by airplane for the organization's national convention at Cleveland, O.

Highley has asserted he intended to lead a revolt at the convention in favor of the McGroarty old age pension bill. The regular Townsend organization turned down the McGroarty proposal for monthly pensions starting possibly as low as $60, instead of $200.

"The other side [regular Townsendites] already is split over the third party proposition," Highley asserted. "In the controversy we are overlooking the only proper object of our movement—enactment of an old age pension measure."

INDIANA WOMEN NEW DEAL FOES OPEN CAMPAIGN

Meet at Call of Mrs. Kin Hubbard.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 14.—[Special.]—Undaunted by temperatures well above 100 and enthusiastic in their support of their announced object, "defeat of the New Deal," women of both major political parties gathered here today at the call of Mrs. Kin Hubbard, national vice chairman, to effect an Indiana organization of the Independent Coalition of American Women.

Principles of the organization were outlined by Mrs. Mabel Jacques Seichel, New York, national director.

Mrs. Hubbard, who presided, commended the audience for braving the heat. "You have demonstrated the courage which will be needed in our work in this organization," she said.

Indiana Tenth State.

She explained the founding of the organization in Toledo, two weeks ago, asserting Indiana is the tenth state in two weeks to effect an organization.

With an enrolment of a million women as its goal, Mrs. Seichel explained the plan of action.

"Our job is to convert through educational methods the great mass of the people who are being fooled into believing that the New Deal is best for the interests of the country," she said. "We shall not only conduct a house to house campaign but shall use also the press, radio, and motion picture in support of our work.

"Our objective is the election this fall of the Republican nominees for President and Vice President, and for those candidates for the United States senate and house of representatives who are opposed to the New Deal.

Plan Intensive Education.

"We believe we can help to accomplish this objective through intensive and intelligent educational work, presenting true facts regarding the New Deal, and that this work can best be carried on through a membership campaign.

"Our members pledge themselves to be one of the deciding factors in defeat of the New Deal on Nov. 3, 1936, and not only to vote for these nominess but also to make themselves responsible for bringing to the polls on election day a given number of other women.

"The New Deal is striving to destroy our form of government under which we have lived and prospered so many years. It is delegating its powers to the chief executive, and we face the terrifying aspect of a dictator instead of a President.

See Intent to Destroy.

"There is a feeling in the land that the federal government is doing everything to destroy industries, so that when they are reorganized they may be taken over by the government. The administration in Washington is filled with political appointees, and the merit system is being replaced by political ambition."

The statement of principles announced belief that the issues in this presidential election transcend in importance all party lines, and that furtherance of the principles of the American form of government is the best assurance of safety, happiness, and prosperity to all citizens of the United States.

"We believe," it asserts, "that most features of the New Deal violate these principles of American government, that they retard natural forces of economic recovery, and that they tend toward destruction of local self-government, upon which American liberty is founded."

SEIZE 2 ESTATES OF OLD FILIPINO REBEL AGUINALDO

MANILA, P. I., July 14.—(AP)—The Philippine government today confiscated two large estates held by Gen. Emilio Aguinaldo, noted revolutionary leader.

Government officials said the estates, aggregating 2,717 acres, were confiscated because Gen. Aguinaldo defaulted payments on the property. Aguinaldo was buying the estates, former friar lands, from the government on the instalment plan. He still owes $126,500 on the property, a government announcement said.

The government expects to subdivide the estates and sell them to the present tenants or other farmers.

Joseph has made three previous journeys to and from Czechoslovakia, one of them alone and the other two with his parents.

LEGLESS BEGGAR HAS $48,000; WILL TEST HIS MIND

A mental examination was ordered by Judge Thomas A. Green in the South State street court yesterday for John Liston, 65 years old, 537 South Clark street, legless beggar who has more than $48,000 in savings banks. The test was ordered because Liston created a court scene after Judge Green had fined him $200 for begging and $200 for resisting arrest.

"I won't pay the city a damn cent," Liston shouted. "I'll die in jail before I do."

Liston's cousin, Mrs. Mary Liston Moore, 3832 Congress street, offered to provide a home for the defendant upon his release. She said that she had not seen Liston for nearly twenty years, since shortly after he had lost both his legs in a railroad accident.

Police revealed that agents from the federal department of internal revenue are investigating Liston's affairs.

5 AND 10 HEIRESS SETTLES LIBEL SUIT IN LONDON

LONDON, July 14.—(AP)—Countess Haugwitz-Reventlow, the former Barbara Hutton of New York, settled a libel suit against a London newspaper today after an apology by the publishing company. The newspaper, the Daily Mirror, also agreed to pay the costs of the action.

The countess' case was presented by Sir Patrick Hastings before Lord Hewart lord chief justice of England. Sir Patrick told the court he would not read the published paragraph on which the action was based.

"It is sufficient to say it is capable of giving the impression the countess is the sort of person who welcomes publicity and likes to create a sensation about herself," Sir Patrick said. "Nothing can be further from the truth."

Car 'Rattle?' Peek Under Seat; You May Find a Snake

Rochester, Ind., July 14.—[Special.]—Dee Shuman finally has learned the cause of a puzzling "rattle" in his auto, which he had been unable to find for several days. Shuman, employed in a bakery, started his car to go to work this morning when he again heard the rattle, which seemed to come directly from under the seat. Shuman lifted the cushion and was much surprised to find a rattlesnake. When killed the snake measured 38 inches and had twelve rattles.

I. C. GIVES DINNER TO 60 VETERANS; RECALL OLD DAYS

Sixty veterans of the Illinois Central system, each with at least 50 years' service to his credit, gathered at the Stevens hotel last night for a golden anniversary dinner given in their honor as a feature of Railroad week.

The company has a total of 83 men on its "golden" list. Of these 31 are on the retired list and 52 are still working. The veterans dined and told of the old days of railroading.

"Casey Jones used to be my fireman," boasted Robert Lee Chandler of Jackson, Tenn., who is 70 years old and still in service after 55 years. "Later on, Jones was an engineer.

"I was one of four brothers working for the I. C., and so was Casey. All eight of us became engineers, and now there are just three of us left."

Among the other veterans were the Mulconnery "boys" of East St. Louis, commonly known as "the twins." John Simon, who is 70, has a 56 year record. Morris, who is 69, has a 50 year one. Both are engineers. "And what do you suppose?" asked John Simon, his round face crinkling. "We've got eleven Mulconnerys working for the railroad."

TOPSY-TURVY
by CALEB

ONE of the girls who escorts people who wish to make a "Cook's Tour" through our store had a gentleman from Portland, Oregon, as her guest. She had noticed his response to beautiful colors. He had an appreciative eye for lovely things. Therefore she was not surprised when he hastened forward to lower his face to a large bouquet of magnificent yellow roses.

Of course she was prepared for his reaction. His eyes wide with amazement, he looked up at her, half reproachfully. "Why," he said, "they're not real!"

She smiled—then they both laughed. And she confessed that she had done the same thing only a few days earlier. "Yes," he said, "but you're not a rose grower—and I am!"

Nowadays, at a distance of a few feet it is almost impossible for the experts to select between real and artificial flowers side by side. Thus does man belie nature and her slow processes of growth, turning topsy-turvy the natural order of things.

Imagine an inhabitant of this world having been absent the past thirty years. He might, after a brief tour of the city, make several comments indicative of how we turn things upside down.

"You want sunshine," he says. "And you go down into the dark basement of a club and get it from a lamp. You want to decorate your home beautifully with flowers. Instead of making for the open and a greenhouse, you go right into the center of the city's massing of brick and stone, and buy flowers that nature would need a dozen different climates to reproduce.

"You go indoors to swim. You use iron and metal with which to fly up into the sky. You darken a theater to sit and enjoy sunny tropics. You complain of cold in the winter and use it to make your buildings chilly in summer. You complain of heat in summer and use it to make your buildings stifling and hot in winter.

"Your heads are sensitive, yet many of your young men wear heavy overcoats and no hats in bitter weather. In summer they shade their heads on beaches and go half naked. You drink alcoholic drinks which are warming, with ice in them which is cooling."

We have some sympathy for the frame of mind our human inconsistencies produce. There are many more of them. That's human nature.

NATURAL IODINE in Seedol Kelpamalt, New Mineral Concentrate from the Sea, Must Build Rich, Red Blood—Put on Pounds of Good, Solid, "Stay-There" Flesh, Give Steady Nerves and Day-long Energy in First Week—or Trial is Free!

Thousands of even "Naturally Skinny", weak, wornout, haggard-looking men and women whose energy and strength have been sapped by overwork and worry—who are nervous, irritable, always half-sick and ailing—now have new hope and encouragement. Science says one of the principal causes of these rundown conditions is "GLANDS STARVING FOR IODINE." When these glands don't work properly, all the food in the world can't help you. It just isn't turned into flesh. The result is, you stay skinny, pale, tired-out and rundown.

The most important gland—the one which actually controls body weight and strength-building—needs a definite ration of iodine all the time—NATURAL ASSIMILABLE IODINE—not to be confused with chemical iodides which often prove toxic, but the same iodine that is found in tiny quantities in spinach and lettuce. Only when the system gets an adequate supply of iodine can you regulate metabolism—the body's process of converting digested food into firm flesh, new strength and energy.

To get NATURAL IODINE in convenient, concentrated and assimilable form take Seedol Kelpamalt — now recognized as the world's richest source of this precious substance. It contains 1,300 times more iodine than oysters, once considered the best source. 6 tablets alone contain more NATURAL IODINE than 486 lbs. of spinach or 1,387 lbs. of lettuce.

Try Seedol Kelpamalt for a single week and notice the difference. See flattering extra pounds of "stay-there" flesh appear in place of scrawny hollows. Notice how much better you feel and if you don't gain at least 5 lbs. in one week the trial is free. Your own doctor will approve this way. Seedol Kelpamalt costs but little to use. Sold at all good stores.

SEEDOL Kelpamalt Tablets

Manufacturer's Note: — Inferior products, sold as kelp and malt preparations — in imitation of the genuine Seedol Kelpamalt are being offered as substitutes. Don't be fooled. Demand genuine Seedol Kelpamalt Tablets. They are easily assimilated, do not upset stomach nor injure teeth. Results guaranteed or money back.

U. S. INDICTS 24 FOR 10 MILLION STOCK SWNIDLE

Five Illinois Concerns Are Involved.

troit. The latter was in the midst of a "jiggle" in Chemical Research stock through its Detroit office, according to Thomas A. Reynolds, Chicago regional administrator for the SEC. The SEC, Reynolds reported, stepped into the picture and forced the firm to make good at a cost of approximately $250,000.

What a "Jiggle" Is.

A stock jiggle is an operation of this sort: A brokerage house obtains a block of stock in some company whose shares are being traded very little. The brokerage house starts "supporting" the market in this stock—or making a market. It pushes the price of the stock higher and creates a sudden activity in it.

The time then is ripe for high pressure activities—usually from the "boiler room," where a group of star salesmen are stationed with a battery of telephones.

Specialized salesmen called "dynamiters" blast their way into the customer's confidence and sell him at least a few shares. "Loaders" complete the job by luring these customers on to purchase more and more stock on the basis of extravagant promises.

When all possible stock has been sold, the "jigglers" walk away from the artificially created market and the shares slump back to the level at which they stood before the "push" began.

A Down Payment Maneuver.

Stock is sold on a partial payment basis—50 per cent down and the remainder in 60 or 90 days, with no stock delivered until the entire amount is paid. But the stock drops and in consequence none ever needs to be delivered. The swindlers "bucket" the orders—pretending to buy the stock ordered but knowing they will never be called to a showdown.

The indictments are based on alleged manipulation of Stutz Motor Car company stock during 1934—in the manner heretofore described. Between Jan. 10 and Feb. 9 the price was pushed up from $4.37½ to $10.62½, then was allowed to drop back to $5.

During this push, SEC investigators, found, almost 300,000 shares of Stutz stock were sold—more than 150,000 in about a week—while there were not as many as 133,000 shares of the stock outstanding at the time.

The Stutz stock was unloaded most heavily through the south from the Atlanta office and in Minnesota through St. Paul and Minneapolis headquarters.

Organized in Great Detail.

The ring is alleged to have had not only a far flung retail organization but wholesale houses and its own printing establishment.

The SEC by sending questionnaires to thousands of victims collected a long list of representations made by the telephone salesmen. The indictment sets forth samples:

One alleged statement was that the Stutz company was engaged actively in manufacturing its "Pak-Age" car and that it soon would be in close competition with the big automobile companies.

Another was that the United States government had contracted to take 20 per cent of Stutz' capacity output for a period of several years.

Schwab's Name Worked In.

Another representation was that Bethlehem Steel corporation controled the Stutz company's policy and management, and that Charles M. Schwab, Bethlehem chairman, had purchased a large interest in it. The only possible basis for such a claim, it was said, lay in Schwab's innocently granting an option to a representative of the ring for about 30,000 Stutz shares.

In addition to the routine stories of families' squandering all their savings in the Stutz bubble, the investigators reported several singular instances. In one case, they related, a small town banker in Georgia became a typical victim of "loading." He bought 100 shares of Stutz.

Then began the yarns of fabulous profits almost within his grasp. He extracted high grade securities from the bank and bought 500 shares, 1,000 and finally 10,000. Now the old man is serving a long term in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta.

Leaders in the Art.

Sherman, one of the alleged leaders in the ring, is credited with being the best high pressure stock salesman in the country.

In addition to those mentioned, the list of men named in the indictments includes:

M. LEWIS EHRENBERG, Chicago, salesman.

MAYER WOLFSON, Chicago.

SAM SHERMAN, Chicago.

THEODORE SHERMAN, now associated with W. B. Waller & Co., investment bankers, Detroit.

BEN WALLER, also of the Waller company.

ANTHONY LEOPOLD NOVAK, Chicago, said to be in England selling oil royalties.

MAX OXMAN, Chicago and Detroit, now selling whisky certificates.

HENRY H. KOPALD, Minneapolis, engaged in the motion picture business at various times and regarded as something of a silent partner in the firm bearing his name.

M. FRANK McCORMICK, Minneapolis politician and broker.

SAMUEL PHILIPSON, Chicago.

SAM GENIS, New York market operator.

MAURICE L. CHYENKUS, Chicago and New York.

ALBERT TRAUSE, Chicago.

ALBERT D'ARMAND, Chicago.

SEC Administrator Reynolds said whisky certificates have been condemned by many investment services and have been dubbed a racket by some.

ROBT. GUTHRIE TO WED MRS. DOROTHY SMITH, CHICAGOAN'S EX-WIFE

Mrs. Smith, former Chicago society girl, is the former wife of Graham P. Smith, New York and Chicago broker.

JUDGE IN THREAT TO JAIL EDITORS FOR DEFYING GAG

Racket Trial Exposures Bring Court Summons.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Baltimore, Md., July 14.—[Special.]—Exposure by the Baltimore Morning Sun of the assessment of members of the police department to support policemen under suspension on graft charges caused editors and reporters of the newspaper to face threatened sentences for contempt of court today.

The threat against the newspaper and against its freedom to print the news was made by Judge Charles F. Stein, sitting in the criminal division of the Baltimore City Supreme court. An eight months' investigation of Baltimore's $15,000,000 a year "numbers" racket came to its final and expected collapse yesterday before Judge Stein with the dropping of the indictment against the last of thirty policemen indicted on charges of taking bribes to protect the racketeers. It was for the benefit of these policemen that the assessments were allegedly levied on other city policemen.

Racketeers in a Row.

Public attention was drawn to the lucrative "numbers" business some months ago by a fight between rival gangs of agents for the lottery. Convicted of assault, several of the racketeers disclosed details of their business to State's Attorney J. Bernard Wells. A grand jury investigation resulted in indictment of the thirty policemen and some forty others, on charges of conspiracy and bribery.

Among those indicted was Charles F. Gaither, an ex-convict and former bootlegger. He was described as the payoff man who arranged for police protection for one of the numbers syndicates. Gaither surrendered after evading arrest for several weeks. It was rumored that he was ready to turn state's evidence. Shortly afterward he was slain in his own auto.

The indictments were assigned for trial to Judge Stein. Before the first of them was brought to trial, he summoned an editor of the Sun to his office to discuss the manner in which the news on the trials was to be "handled." He failed to express his sentiments at the conference, but on several occasions, during the trial, he is reported to have remarked to reporters: "Be careful what you write. I won't send you to jail, but I'll send your bosses."

Police Get Acquittal.

Trial of several of the cases resulted in acquittal of police defendants. A few petty figures in the cases were convicted and given minor sentences.

The last case to be tried ended in a fiasco yesterday before Judge Stein. It involved five policemen and four civilians charged with engaging in the lottery business. Of eight prosecution witnesses, four had disappeared and three refused to testify, urging that they would incriminate themselves. The judge excused them.

The eighth witness, a woman tavern keeper, who was alleged to have been an innocent intermediary for graft payments, was reported to the court to be ill. Judge Stein ruled that if she did appear he would advise her not to testify on grounds of self-incrimination, although she had asserted she never engaged in the numbers racket.

The jury acquitted the defendants without leaving the box. The last remaining important case, involving a police lieutenant, four other policemen and sixteen civilians, then was nolle prossed by the prosecution.

Assess the Policemen.

During the progress of the trials, there were frequent rumors that members of the Baltimore police department were being assessed to support, and possibly to provide a defense fund, for their accused fellows. The Sun obtained a letter from the wife of a policeman, protesting these assessments of $5 a month, and then obtained an admission from Gen. Charles Gaither, police commissioner, that he knew of such assessments.

Gen. Gaither [no relation to the slain racketeer] previously had appeared to urge lower bail for some of his accused subordinates. Asked about the assessments for their support, he said:

"It's just the same as if they were to subscribe to the community fund, the Ritchie memorial fund, or the Red Cross."

Sends Bailif to Newspaper.

Judge Stein sent his bailif to the office of the Sun on the morning the story appeared, last Saturday. He demanded that every one concerned with the story, from the editor in charge, to reporters and copy readers, appear in his chambers that afternoon, "with or without counsel, to answer charges of contempt of court."

Counsel for the Sun called on Judge Stein and was informed that he would hear the contempt case after the numbers trials had been disposed of. While all of the accused policemen have been freed, three civilians remain to be tried. He said today that he still had the case "under advisement." As yet, no formal citation has been issued.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

U. S. INDICTS SIX IN CIRCUS INCOME TAX FRAUD CASE

Ringling Charges Go Back to '18; Claim 7 Million.

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—Six persons, including government employés and officials of Ringling Brothers-Barnum & Bailey combined shows, were named defendants in ten income tax indictments filed in federal court this afternoon, charging a conspiracy to defraud the government of income taxes, penalties and interest amounting to the estimated sum of 7 million dollars.

The indictments, bulky and voluminous, represent two years of hard work by internal revenue agents and charge a continuous fraud since 1918 comparable to the careful exaggeration of a circus twenty-four sheet poster. The alleged fraud was based largely on false bookkeeping, wherein false purchases of animals and circus equipment running into the millions of dollars and the carrying of long abandoned circuses, equipment, and spectacles on the books was practiced for the purpose of deducting substantial depreciation charges each year, according to the indictments.

Charges Cover 18 Years.

The principal indictment, charging a continuous conspiracy to defraud the government from the year 1918 to date, names all of the defendants. They are:

John M. Kelley, attorney for the circus since 1908, who is a member of the Wisconsin bar and the chief defendant. Kelley has his offices at circus headquarters, on Madison avenue in New York City, and maintains homes at Harrington Park, N. J., and Sanford, Fla.

Nathaniel F. Rrabner of Washington, D. C., a former internal revenue agent employed as a tax auditor.

Penalties Nearly Double the Amount.

Two other persons are mentioned in the indictments, although they are not named as defendants. They are William E. Weigel, former auditor of the bureau of internal revenue, and John W. Hardgrove, another former revenue bureau auditor, who is serving a term in the Lawton reformatory at Lawton, Va., on an income tax case conviction in the District of Columbia.

In addition to the continuous conspiracy indictment, the other counts charge attempts to defeat and evade, aiding and advising, and preparation and presentation of income tax returns in an attempt to defraud the government. The indictments charge a tax fraud of $3,359,016.48 from 1918 to July 24, 1932, the date when the circus ceased to be operated as a partnership and was incorporated as the Ringling Brothers-Barnum & Bailey Combined Shows, Inc.

To this amount the government will add penalties of 50 per cent and interest charges, which will run on some of the amounts claimed for the full period of eighteen years, giving a total amount due the government of 7 million dollars or more.

Plan to Baptize Quints' New Brother Next Sunday

WILENTZ GOES BEFORE U. S. GRAND JURORS IN WENDEL KIDNAP CASE

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—A federal investigation of the Wendel kidnaping, one weird phase of the Lindbergh case, is in progress, it was revealed today when Attorney General David T. Wilentz of New Jersey spent an hour and ten minutes before a federal grand jury in Newark, and said on emerging that he had been "going over the Wendel matter fully."

Paul H. Wendel, former Trenton lawyer, signed confessions of the kidnaping of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr., which were produced at the last moment and saved Bruno Richard Hauptmann, the child's slayer, from the electric chair for three days. Wendel repudiated the confession, however, and said that he himself had been kidnaped in New York and had been tortured in Brooklyn until he was willing to sign a paper full of falsehoods.

DENIES BRUNET SECRETARY HELD HIM PRISONER

Beall Has Black Eye; Redhead Loses.

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—Charles W. Beall, 64, former vice president of Harris, Forbes & Co. and an associate of Frank [Bring 'Em Back Alive] Buck, today denied before County Judge Cortland A. Johnson at Mineola that he was a prisoner of his brunette secretary, Miss Ninon Bunyea.

On Mr. Beall's statement Judge Johnson dismissed a writ of habeas corpus obtained yesterday by redheaded Patricia Reynolds, who, for a brief period, was Mr. Beall's secretary during Miss Bunyea's absence.

Mr. Beall arrived at the courthouse with four bodyguards and a shiner on his right eye. Neither he nor the guards would reveal who or what hit him.

Another Black Eye Reported.

Word spread through the court that Miss Bunyea, who remained at the Beall estate at Oceanside, also had a black eye.

Judge Johnson heard Mr. Beall in the court chambers, but it was understood Mr. Beall explained there was no reason for Miss Reynolds' charge that he was under restraint.

Miss Reynolds was in court, but did not attend the hearing in the chambers. She promised to return later and make other legal moves that would "blow the case wide open."

Judge Johnson's order of yesterday directed Miss Bunyea, who left Mr. Beall's services to appear in "The Tiger Woman," and Edward O'Daniels, a chauffeur-guard, to produce the person of Mr. Beall.

Miss Reynolds has explained that she got a job with Mr. Beall shortly before Miss Bunyea's return from her stage appearances.

Goes Back with a Deed.

Although the present petition didn't mention it, Miss Bunyea was then turned away by guards employed by Miss Reynolds, and when she returned later with a deed showing that Mr. Beall had turned the estate over to her the two women got into a hair pulling battle.

A court argument failed to solve the problem. Last Friday, according to Miss Reynolds' petition, she left the house for two hours. When she returned she found the one time "tiger woman" in charge of the erstwhile lair.

The redhead's belongings were piled in a parked automobile.

Miss Reynolds' petition expressed fears that if Mr. Beall is not freed "he will be compelled to do things . . . harmful to his interests," such as signing checks "under duress" or instruments affecting his property.

BAKERY FIRE ROUTS WORKERS.

Fire starting in the kitchens of the Mary Ann Baking company, 4550 Palmer street, yesterday drove ten employés to the street and caused damage estimated at $5,000.

KARPIS ENTERS GUILTY PLEA IN HAMM KIDNAPING

St. Paul, Minn., July 14.—[Special.]—Alvin Karpis pleaded guilty in federal court here today as a conspirator in the $100,000 ransom kidnaping of William Hamm, St. Paul brewer.

After his plea the cases of Edmund C. Bartholmey, former Bensenville, Ill., postmaster, and John P. [Jack] Peifer, St. Paul night club operator, also accused in the abduction, were called for trial before Judge M. M. Joyce and a jury was chosen.

Sentence of Karpis was deferred at the request of United States Attorney George F. Sullivan until the conclusion of the Bartholmey and Peifer trials. The charge carries a maximum penalty of life imprisonment.

Faces Bremer Abduction Trial.

Unless he pleads guilty in that case also, Karpis will be tried, probably this fall, for the $200,000 ransom kidnaping of Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul bank president, who was held prisoner 22 days in a hideout only a few blocks from the Bensenville retreat where Hamm was imprisoned.

Hamm was kidnaped June 15, 1933, and held prisoner four days, assertively at the Bartholmey home in Bensenville. Karpis, according to Sullivan, was the driver of the car in which the prisoner was taken to Bensenville from St. Paul and Peifer is labeled as the "finger man."

Third Guilty Plea.

Karpis' was the third guilty plea made by defendants in the Hamm kidnaping. Previously Byron Bolton, alleged machine gunner for the Barker-Karpis gang, and Charles [Big Fitz] Fitzgerald pleaded guilty. Their sentences likewise have been deferred.

Two others were indicted as participants in the abduction, but because they are serving terms in Alcatraz prison for the Bremer kidnaping, were not brought to trial. They are Arthur ["Doc"] Barker, co-leader with Karpis in the two kidnapings, who is serving a life term, and Elmer Farmer, former Bensenville, Ill., tavern keeper, sentenced to twenty years.

SEIZE CASH AT WAUKEGAN.

An agent of the Lake county Circuit court opened a safe deposit box in the First National bank of Waukegan yesterday and seized $6,000, alleged to be part of the $100,000 ransom paid for the release of William Hamm, St. Paul brewer.

The box was in the name of Mrs. John Vioski, 124 South Martin avenue, Waukegan. It was opened in the presence of Deputy Sherif John Froelich, as agent of the court; Attorney Harry Hall, representing Hamm, and a federal agent. In it was found an envelope bearing the name of Charles Fitzgerald [who pleaded guilty in the Hamm kidnaping] and containing six $1,000 bills, and another marked "Mrs. Belle Born," containing $2,000 in smaller bills, which was left in the box.

Mr. and Mrs. Vioski have admitted that they were given $12,000 last year by Mrs. Born to keep for Fitzgerald and that she had sent $4,000 of it to him. Mr. and Mrs. Vioski are not accused of any wrongdoing in connection with the ransom. Mrs. Born is being held as a material witness.

JUROR CONFESSES PERJURY; KILLS $48,000 VERDICT

Suit Is Stuck 3d Time, Twice by Falsehoods.

Walter E. Erickson, 43 years old, 1224 Elmdale avenue, a real estate broker, was charged with contempt of court yesterday, after he admitted to Judge Michael Feinberg in the Circuit court that he had perjured himself while being qualified to serve on a jury in a damage suit. The judge set aside a $48,000 verdict for the plaintif, returned by the jury on which Erickson served, released Erickson on his own bond, and indicated that he would pass sentence Friday.

Sam Feldman, 26 years old, 1524 South Ridgeway avenue, is plaintif in the case. He asked $100,000 of Samuel Kunin, 68 years old, 3250 Sheridan road, retired commission merchant now living in California. Feldman alleged that his back was permanently injured when his automobile was struck by another driven by Paul Thiessen, Kunin's chauffeur, in the Dunes highway near Chesterton, Ind., on May 13, 1934.

Trial Is Third to Fail.

Feldman's suit has been tried twice previously. In 1935 a jury before Judge W. Preihs of Pana, sitting in the Circuit court here, brought in a $55,000 verdict against Kunin.

Judge Preihs set the verdict aside after two witnesses for Feldman admitted that they had given perjured testimony. One of the witnesses, Stanley Borkowski of East Chicago, former Indiana state highway policeman, was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail for contempt of court. The other, Kenneth Hutchens of Porter, Ind., was given 30 days on a similar charge.

The second trial of the case, before Judge Cummings of Kewanee in the Circuit court here, ended in a jury disagreement two months ago.

Defendant's Lawyers Get Action.

The jury in the third trial reached its verdict Monday night and returned it sealed to Judge Feinberg yesterday. The verdict had just been opened when Kunin's lawyers, Herbert Lautman and Bert Crowe, asked that the judge detain the jurors and grant the attorneys a conference, which was done.

After a half hour's conference in chambers, Judge Feinberg returned to the bench and summoned Erickson before him. By questioning Erickson, the judge brought out that he had in the past "referred" victims in personal injuries to Attorney Irving S. Toplon.

Association Is Hinted.

It was brought out also that Toplon shares a suite of offices at 10 South La Salle street with Attorney J. S. Pressman and Julius S. Neale. Pressman, the judge revealed, is Thiessin's attorney in another suit pending in the Circuit court against Feldman in connection with the Dunes highway accident.

Judge Feinberg then referred to Erickson's answers, given under oath as he was being examined for jury service, in which he declared that he had not previously been involved in the preparation or investigation of personal injury suits.

"It may be an accident," Judge Feinberg said, "but it seems strange that a juror who admits perjury should frequent the office of the lawyer in another suit pending in the same case and the same court. This man's dishonesty does not reflect on the other 11 jurors, but their verdict is tainted because a perjured juror concurred in it."

The judge then ordered Attorney Lautman and Attorney Crowe to draw up a judgment overthrowing the verdict and to submit a formal motion for a new trial.

SNAKE TORTURE RE-ENACTED AT SLAYING TRIAL

But Accuser Collapses at Final Scene.

Los Angeles, July 14.—(AP)—The rattlesnake torture the state charges Robert S. James inflicted upon his seventh wife, Mary, was reënacted in part in Superior court today—with James taking the rôle of the woman he is accused of murdering.

The dramatic episode was put on by counsel for the defendant barber in an effort to show Mrs. James could not have been tortured as Charles Hope, ex-sailor, has testified.

James lay stretched on an attorney's table—as Hope said his wife lay trussed in the James home while the defendant thrust her bared foot into a box containing a rattlesnake.

Accuser Stands Nearby.

Hope, whose story placed James in his present situation and who has pleaded guilty to first degree murder in the case, stood alongside.

The former sailor was supposed to seize James' foot and jam it into a duplicate of the original reptile box. Perspiration stood out on Hope's forehead.

Hurriedly, court guards and attorneys stepped between the two men. James was helped off the table and Judge Charles Fricke selected some one else to take the part of the dead wife.

During the episode, the rattling of two snakes could be heard. The serpents—the pair the prosecution says was purchased for torturing Mrs. James—were in a glass box behind the desk of the court clerk.

He Seems to Enjoy Rôle.

Hope seemed to relish his part in the reënactment up to the point where the lines called for him to thrust the defendant's foot into the snake box.

Earlier Mrs. Eva Murphy of Birmingham, Ala., sister of the defendant, testified that a conversation last July at the James home indicated Mrs. James was an expectant mother.

The defense presented snake experts whose testimony was intended to show a rattlesnake could not have struck Mrs. James on the foot as the state charges.

Dies of Head Injuries Sustained in Quarrel

William Klewer, 51 years old, 1525 North Artesian avenue, was fatally injured yesterday during a quarrel at 1534 North Western avenue with a man who was identified to the police as F. Swider, 46 years old, 1510 North Western avenue, a whisky salesman. Witnesses said Klewer fell after being hit by Swider, striking his head on the sidewalk. Swider was arrested early today.

FARMER TELLS NIGHT FLOGGING BY ROBED GANG

Link Hooded Terrorists to Lashing.

Conway, S. C., July 14.—[Special.]—A Horry county farmer's complaint that he was flogged by a band of twenty-five masked men was being investigated by Sherif W. E. Sessons today on the theory that the lashing was done by hooded night riders whose recent whippings spread terror throughout Columbus county, just across the line in North Carolina.

The sherif said he would make a thorough inquiry into the flogging of Monroe Fowler, 40, who reported that members of a hooded and white robed band lashed him thirty times four nights ago.

Fowler, who lives near the state line, walked into Sherif Sessons' office here and exhibited a mass of deep, livid welts across his back.

"I was whipped with a belt six inches wide," he said. "They blindfolded me and held me against a tree. They whipped me until I fell to my knees, nearly unconscious, then jerked me up and beat me again."

The masked terrorists left him stripped to the waist, Fowler said, and warned him to admonish two other Horry county men they would be flogged unless one "stopped beating his wife" and the other "quit drinking liquor."

TWO FREED IN SHOOTING.

Disorderly conduct charges against John Wendt, 46 years old, 5535 Justine street, and Rate Toy, restaurateur at 1202 West 79th street, growing out of a fight between the men on May 19, were dismissed yesterday by Judge Matthew D. Hartigan in the Felony court for lack of prosecution. Toy shot Wendt in the foot after Wendt threw a plate of shrimp at him in a quarrel in the restaurant.

COMPLETE DEATH JURY IN POLICE MURDER TRIAL

CRIMINAL COURT.

Robert Jackson and Ernest Haley, robbery, one to 20 years in the penitentiary; Joseph Broadman and Daniel McClure, auto larceny, one to 20 years in the penitentiary, by Chief Justice Davis J. Normoyle in Criminal court.

A jury qualified to inflict the heath penalty was selected yesterday in the Criminal court of Judge Joseph Burke to try William Neveraski, 31 years old, for the slaying in 1930 of Policeman John H. Guiltanane.

Evidence was started late in the afternoon, with Mrs. Mary Guiltanane, mother of the slain policeman, as the first witness. Policeman Fred Jergens, one of the three policemen who arrested Neveraski and his associate, Harry Yetter, after a garage holdup, identified Neveraski.

Policeman Anthony Wistort, who was made a permanent cripple by a bullet in his spine during the battle in which Guiltanane was killed, is expected to testify today.

Neveraski was returned to Chicago from Grand Rapids, Minn., as a fugitive last month after the police had searched for him for six years. He was on parole from Pontiac reformatory when the fatal shooting occurred in 1930. His companion, Yetter, then on parole from Joliet penitentiary, now is serving a life sentence in Joliet.

3 CHILDREN DIE AS TRUCKS HIT THEM AT PLAY

Trafic Toll Mounts in City and County.

Three small children were killed last evening when they were hit by trucks as they played in the streets, and a man was fatally injured in an auto crash near Harvey.

Robert Johnson, 3 years old, was killed instantly when he ran between two parked automobiles in front of his home at 9132 South Throop street and into a florist's truck driven by Edward Horn, 18 years old, 6424 South Hermitage avenue. Horn, who is employed by O. F. Larson, 1545 West 63d street, told police he did not see the boy in time to stop. He was held for the inquest today.

Irene Gerace, 6 years old, 301 West Division street, was fatally injured when she ran in front of a truck at Elm and Sedgwick streets. She was taken to Henrotin hospital, where she died. The driver of the truck, Jacob Neubecker, 27 years old, 1123 North Francisco avenue, who is employed by the B. A. Railton company, grocers at 363 West Erie street, said the girl was playing on the pavement and ran in the path of his machine as he turned west in Elm street.

Runs Into Truck.

In the third accident, Arthur Gillio, 5 years old, 3526 Princeton avenue, was fatally injured when he ran into the side of a truck near his home. The boy fell and the rear wheels of the truck passed over him. He died while being taken to St. Paul's hospital. Joseph Stewart, 18 years old, who drives the truck for the J. D. Shaeffer Cartage company, 2639 Indiana avenue, told Stanton avenue police he was unable to avoid the accident.

Joseph Olejniczak, 46 years old, 15702 Carey avenue, Phoenix, an undertaker at that address, was fatally injured yesterday when the car in which he was driving the husband and son from a woman's funeral collided with another machine at 155th street and Vincennes road in Phoenix, near Harvey.

Four Escape Death.

Olejniczak was accompanied by Michael Maziarka, 64 years old, 14413 Harrison street, Posen, whose wife had been buried in the Holy Cross cemetery, Calumet City, and Maziarka's son, John. Both were injured. John Kurenda, 20 years old, 217 West 147th street, Harvey, driver of the other car, and Miss Mildred Bukawski, 24 years old, 513 East 154th street, Phoenix, were slightly bruised.

Mrs. Margaret Kerr, 64 years old, 422 Deming place, was seriously injured yesterday when she was struck at Van Buren street and Wabash avenue by a cab driven by Anthony Kockiardidas, 38 years old, 1741 Warren boulevard.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 507 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. During the same period 403 had been killed and 9,191 injured in automobiles accidents within the city limits.

KILLED BY SALT BARREL.

Peter Remeikis, 41 years old, 651 Madison street, a laborer for the North Pier Terminal company, in the warehouse at 421 East Illinois street, was crushed to death yesterday when a 300 pound barrel of salt fell on him.

IDLE CHAUFFEUR STEALS RIDE AND GETS JAIL TERM

William Lane, 22 years old, 5519 South Carpenter street, an unemployed chauffeur, was sentenced to 30 days in the Bridewell by Judge Charles S. Dougherty in the Automobile court yesterday on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Julius Nielson, 6521 South Peoria street, a cab driver, testified that on July 5 Lane stole his car from in front of 6222 South Wabash avenue and dashed down the street in it. Nielson entered another car and caught Lane at 26th street and Indiana avenue. Police testified that Lane was intoxicated at the time.

Judge Edward Scheffler in the Safety court sent two men to the County jail for ten days each for driving while intoxicated. They are:

WALTER KNIGHT, 56 years old, 6535 Yale avenue, a truck driver who was arrested after he drove his truck against the rear of a street car at 33d street and Western avenue.

CARLO GIAIONO, 50 years old, 4637 West 19th street, Cicero, a tavern owner, arrested after his car had collided with that of Edward Abramson, 3121 Douglas boulevard, which was parked at 3249 Ogden avenue.

Wins Divorce; Says She Is Rudy Vallee's Cousin

Mrs. Dorothy Vallee Durkin, 27 years old, who says she is a cousin of Rudy Vallee, the crooner, was granted a divorce on a charge of desertion yesterday from her husband, John Durkin Jr., a building contractor, by Judge Rudolph Desort in the Superior court. She waived alimony and was permitted to resume her maiden name. Her home is at 444 St. James place.

'MYSTERY GIRL' IN HUGHES' AUTO CRASH IS NAMED

Los Angeles, Cal., July 14.—(AP)—Detectives today said the "mystery girl" in the Howard Hughes automobile accident was a debutante, Nancy Belle Bayly, 21 years old, and that they expected her to attend an inquest tomorrow.

The inquest will be concerned with the death of Gabe S. Meyer, 59, who was struck and killed by an automobile Saturday night while standing, police said, in a trafic safety zone.

After the accident, Hughes, wealthy movie producer and air speed king, declined to divulge his companion's name, saying he did not want her involved. Witnesses said a young woman leaped out of the car after the accident and boarded a passing street car.

Detectives asserted that regardless of the findings of the coroner's jury they will seek a complaint charging the 32 year old Hughes with negligent homicide.

THE PRESIDENT'S CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR OF MICHIGAN.

President Roosevelt has picked as his candidate for governor of Michigan Frank B. Murphy, United States commissioner to the Philippines and former mayor of Detroit. Mr. Roosevelt is keeping his man on the pay roll at $18,000 per year until Sept. 5 and giving him a leave of absence until after the election.

The appointment by the President of candidates for the governorship in leading states is new. As evidenced in his recent selections in New York and Michigan, however, it is in keeping with his theory that he has often expressed that the states should be under the thumb of the national government. The Supreme court has upheld the independence of the states in voiding a number of acts in which state powers were appropriated by Mr. Roosevelt's administration. The President's theory could be carried out despite court decisions if the governors owed their positions to presidential appointment.

Having decided that he should do what he could to have his man in the state capitol at Lansing, Mr. Roosevelt's choice of Mr. Murphy was a natural. The two men think alike. Mr. Roosevelt has increased the expenditures and debt of the federal government to unheard of levels. Mr. Murphy did as much for Detroit. Mr. Roosevelt repudiated the gold clause in government bonds. Mr. Murphy dishonored the obligations of Detroit by stopping payment of principal and interest. Mr. Roosevelt has loaded up the banks of the country with government debt, with what eventual result is yet to be seen. Mr. Murphy loaded up the Bank of Detroit with bonds and short term debts, with a result that has already been seen. He refused to reduce expenditures as he had promised the banks that he would, and brought the price of Detroit bonds down to the thirties, thus contributing substantially to the collapse of the banks of Michigan.

The management of city business in Detroit was so much improved by Mr. Murphy's successor that the city's credit is now of the very highest. Its bonds which once went begging in the thirties now are eagerly sought after at par and higher. Refinancing plans have been successfully carried through by Mayor Couzens resulting in a substantial saving of interest.

If this was not enough to discourage Murphy's further political ambitions there was another incident. In 1924 Mr. Murphy while a judge had, against the strong recommendations of parole authorities, granted a parole to one James J. O'Shea, who had been convicted of embezzlement and charged with other crimes. O'Shea, his criminal record having been suppressed, turned up as a vice president in Detroit's leading bank. Last March O'Shea was indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of misapplying $349,000 of the bank's funds.

Mr. Murphy thus has had good reasons to prefer the Philippines to the political arena in Michigan. He has publicly stated such a preference a number of times. Mr. Roosevelt's insistence that he run was due first to a desire to have a governor if possible who was completely subservient, and, second, to his superstition. Mr. Murphy once carried the Republican city of Detroit. And Mr. Roosevelt thinks that what could be done once can be done again. Mr. Murphy's theory of crime cost the Detroit bank $349,000. Mr. Murphy's theory of government cost the city of Detroit its good financial name. Mr. Murphy's theory of politics could cost the state its independence. Michigan has more than one reason for organizing thoroughly to defeat Mr. Murphy.

MANY ARE MARRYING.

A spectacularly romantic June brought the number of marriages in Chicago in the first six months of the year up to 20,699. This is highly encouraging. The marriage rate is the pulse of the nation. The beat is regular except when war and depression slow it down. While Denmark was at war with Prussia in 1864 the marriage rate fell from 15 to 11 per thousand. When Austria fought Prussia the Austrian rate fell from 15 to 13, and the Prussian from 18 to 15. There was a corresponding falling off in weddings in the civil war. In the world war the number of weddings in Chicago declined from 36,935 to 28,650. But girls prefer war heroes, and the aftermath of war is an increase in marriages. In Cook county the marriage license certificates bearing a 1920 date broke all records.

Matrimony is equally sensitive to general cyclical variations. In the boom marrying is at high tide. In the depression marriage is a stalemate. Figures for Massachusetts show that following the 1873 panic the marriage rate fell off by one-third. The relapse after the 1893 panic was 15 per cent, and after 1907, 20 per cent. True to form, business at the Cook county license bureau fell off as soon as stocks collapsed. There was a further recession in marriage in 1931 and 1932. The 1932 rate was off more than 40 per cent from the 1929 peak. Not in years was a Chicago girl's marrying prospect as slim as in 1932. Hope chests became slightly more hopeful in 1933. The matrimonial rate rose further in 1934, and this year, after a brief relapse in 1935, marrying is on the pre-depression scale.

The six month marriage record brings the total in Cook county since the beginning of 1931 up to 165,000. In the same interval only 1,000 new places to live have been put up in Chicago. In the first five months of this year 256 new houses were constructed. Meanwhile a large number of homes have been eliminated through age, fires, and obsolescence. The creation of new family units by marriage and the reduction of houses must soon bring a decided quickening to house construction. Washington has done a lot of talking about stimulating home building, but the conversation has added nothing to the local supply of shelter. It is the actual increase in the demand for housekeeping dwellings, not grandiose plans in the minds of brain trusters, which will bring budding building revival to full flower.

P. I. W. PROJECT NO. 1.

A great deal has been said and written to support a contention that the present depression is "different"—but it isn't. It was produced by the same economic factors as its predecessors and will be cured in the same way that they were beaten. The weapons will not be a dictator's edicts or government plans, but the concentration of American capital and labor on some new ideal. The recession that followed the crisis of 1873 was doomed when the people demanded transportation to reach untouched resources; '93 wilted before a splurge of railway building, and the post-war scare of the early twenties was put to flight by the automobile and radio. In each instance industry has found something to produce a nation-wide demand, something to fill a long felt want and something to make the United States more livable.

The Moses of the present depression is commencing to reveal itself in air conditioning. It has already produced thousands of man hours of work in the Pullman company and railway shops as one road after another found it necessary to air condition its cars in order to hold its patronage. From these small beginnings activities were induced in the plants of industries manufacturing pipe, tin plate, insulating materials and the hundred and one other necessities of air conditioning systems.

Next came places of amusement and the restaurants, the proprietors of which have just commenced to realize that with air cooling systems they can compete with the wide open spaces, visited by thousands in search of a stray breeze. Hotels, office buildings, stores, show rooms, and apartments will place orders for equipment in ever increasing numbers, well knowing that within a few years noncooled space will be relegated to the same category as was stove heated accommodation a comparatively few years ago. No new home is being planned without exploring the possibility of a cooling system. It is just a matter of time when some ingenious individual will find a method of reducing the temperature in the family automobile.

And the strangest feature of the phenomenon is its comparative simplicity. As with plumbing, central heating, the telephone, the automobile, and the radio—how did we ever get along without them? Heating apparatus with automatic control has been brought to a high state of efficiency—why not the reverse? When the thermometer falls a few degrees below 70 one can remain comfortable by donning additional clothing, but it isn't done. It might be contended that it would be impossible to work under such conditions, but can efficiency be expected when the thermometer passes 85? Certainly not, and the employer, landlord, mine host, and the salesman of the future will realize that an air cooling system is an investment and not an expense. It will be added to things American and become commonplace. Air conditioning may be labeled "Private Initiative Works Project No. 1."

Editorial of the Day

INTERESTING FIGURES.

[Beloit (Wis.) News.]

In the Democratic party platform of 1932 there were definite and positive assurances that the party favored "effective control of crop surpluses so that our farmers may have the full benefit of the domestic market" and that it condemned "the unsound policy of restricting agricultural products to the demands of domestic markets."

Whatever happened to those planks in the three and a half years since comprises one of the major mysteries, along with "How old is Ann?" and "Who hit Charley Patterson?"

But there is no mystery surrounding the fate of American agriculture during those same three and a half years on both the foreign and domestic markets.

Under the New Deal definition of "control" as applied to farm products the volume of imports of crude foodstuffs increased 41 per cent in the United States between the years of 1932 and 1935, and the import of manufactured foodstuffs increased 49 per cent in the same period. The import figures, as taken from United States department of commerce publications, for the two years are:

Wheat	3,000 bu.	27,439,000 bu.
Corn	344,000 bu.	43,242,000 bu.
Oats	59,000 bu.	10,107,000 bu.
Barley	none	4,840,000 bu.
Rye	none	9,643,000 bu.
Hay	13,858 tons	67,171 tons

And while it was necessary for us to import these key products of our own farms in such greatly increased amounts our exports of farm products were decreasing by substantial percentages.

Between 1932 and 1935 the export of cotton declined 33 per cent, unmanufactured tobacco 4 per cent, wheat 99 per cent, flour 42 per cent, meat products 19 per cent, and lard 82 per cent.

These are the figures. They tell a part of the story of what is wrong with American agriculture under the devious manipulations of alphabetical experimenters—the bright boys who work with slide rules and mechanical calculators to contrive marvelous formulae which concern the population of little pigs, and who wind up with the brilliant conclusion that they should be slaughtered and left to rot.

These are interesting figures for every farmer and every city dweller—the folks who together comprise the buying and selling population upon which national prosperity is founded.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

A CORN PLASTER EMBLEM.

I wish I might find some fitting simile for the disappointment I felt when, after three long, tiresome visits on the hottest days, my car was finally approved and I received a sticker. And such a sticker, black on the outer side and about the length of a couple of postage stamps, but only half as wide. It is pasted on the upper side of the windshield and so well under the little roof over the windshield that the dum thing can hardly be seen at all. I had expected a nice, big, flaming sticker in all the colors of the rainbow and three or four inches wide and high, proclaiming to the cock-eyed world that my car had been critically examined and that the brakes would stop a tornado dead in its tracks and hold an avalanche rolling down the side of the Alps; that my front lights had the Lindbergh beacon looking like a tallow candle, and that my lovely red parking lights at the back of the car would, for sheer beauty, make any Italian sunset ashamed of itself. And my horn! ah, when the safety test examiners heard that horn they would say it was far sweeter than the pipes o' Pan in Arcady! You see I know my car.

But instead of a sticker that would be a glorious emblem of victory, proudly proclaiming the superlative condition of my car, what did I get? A little insignificant sticker not big enough to cover a sore thumb. Instead of telling the world that my car was in first class condition it bears a lettering that I haven't been able to read yet: the letters are that small. I have leaned over the hood of the car and peered and peered at that little piece of court plaster, but I can't make anything out of it.

That sticker may say my car passed all the safety tests laid down for the examination of all automobiles in Chicago or it may not. It looks to me as though it said: "Good for One Stick of Chewing Gum" or "Poison! Do Not Use Internally." I know it isn't a rain check to a baseball game or a street car transfer, for those things are much bigger. Some day I am going to climb on the hood of my car with a microscope and find out what that sticker says. Not that it makes any difference, for even if I finally succeed in making it out nobody else can because I'm not going to have people climbing all over the hood of my car with microscopes to read that thing. And I made three trips to the testing stations and sat for hours in the broiling sun all to get that little slimpsey corn plaster. I know now how a conquering hero would feel if he returned to his home town expecting to receive a gold sword, a medal, and an address of welcome, and the committee that met him at the depot presented him with a ham sandwich.

THE FRENCH had quite a commotion yesterday over the tearing down of the Bastille. Maybe it would have been better not to have torn down the Bastille at all because then there wouldn't have had to be a commemoration of the event every year and besides tourists would now be flocking into it in great numbers at two francs a head. The British never tore down the Tower of London. They imprisoned a lot of famous persons there and then cut the heads off Anne Boleyn and some more and having given the place a lot of favorable advertising they set up a box office at the gate and do a big business at a shilling a person. You must admit the British are smart.

This morning after breakfast time,
Before the work was done,
I started down a winding road
Against a rising sun.

I traveled in a rattly car;
I saw a town, a little stream,
A rabbit's hurried flight.

The dew was on the growing fields,
A bird sang in the sky,
And all the flowers along the way
Looked up as we passed by.

If dishes needn't to be washed,
Nor dinners cooked and served,
I might have followed to its end

HEAT STROKE—SOME PRECAUTIONS.

As most of us know, the sun gives off heat rays [red and yellow] which penetrate more deeply than the ultraviolet and, if exposure is prolonged, sun or heat stroke may follow.

Heat stroke is caused by too much heat from the outside and insufficient loss of heat from within the body. In sun stroke there is a very high temperature and a dry skin. In "heat exhaustion" the skin is moist and the temperature but slightly elevated. The former usually occurs when the individual is exposed to direct or to reflected rays of the sun as from a pavement; the latter, from excessive heat, even in the shade.

When the humidity is high, preventing evaporation from the skin; when there is no breeze causing circulation of the air, heat may accumulate within the body to a point where it is dangerous.

Every muscular movement that we make generates a certain amount of heat, hence the more quiet one can remain during torrid spells the better. Food should be light in amount and easily digested. Alkaline drinks [lemonade, limeade, orangeade] and salt water will need to be used if perspiration is excessive. Any one sitting in a room that is constantly above 100 degrees F. with a high humidity may suffer from heat exhaustion, and every effort should be made to keep the body as cool as possible. Frequent tepid sponge baths, bathing the forehead, face, and neck, the use of a wet towel about the head, bathing of the wrists in cool water—all will help.

In the treatment of sun stroke speed is imperative, as life may be saved or lost in a thirty minute period. If a bathtub is available the best plan is to immerse the patient in cool water. Cracked ice is then added and the water agitated gently. Meanwhile the skin is massaged vigorously by one or more persons. The rectal temperature should be taken every four or five minutes, and as soon as it drops to 102 degrees F. the patient is removed from the bath and wrapped in a sheet which is kept wet. An ice bag should be kept over the head.

In the absence of a tub the patient may be stripped of all clothing, wrapped in a sheet, and the sprinkling can put into play. A small amount of alcohol added to the water aids in promoting evaporation. Care must be taken not to permit the temperature to fall too low. If stimulants are needed caffeine—strong black coffee—is preferable to alcohol. If the victim is unconscious caffeine may be administered hypodermically.

Many deaths occur during hot spells which are not due essentially to heat stroke. An added strain is placed upon the eliminating functions of the body. Heart disease, kidney disease, and arterial damage will appear as dangerous situations in such a time.

Heat cramps are due to excessive elimination of salt, and a dilute salt solution will need to be used if these symptoms appear. A teaspoonful of common salt to a quart of water provides a solution that will ward off heat cramps.

BRONCHITIS.

L. F. writes:

1. What are the symptoms of bronchitis?

2. Is there a cure?

3. What would you suggest to combat this disease?

REPLY.

1. In acute bronchitis there is dryness of the membranes of the mouth and nose, soreness of the throat, hoarseness, cough, a sense of tightness in the chest, and chilliness followed by a slight fever. Fatigue and soreness in the muscles of the back and extremities are generally the earliest complaints.

In chronic bronchitis fever is rare and pain is usually absent. Cough is the outstanding symptom and it varies with the season of the year, the time of day, and the amount of physical activity. It is more troublesome during the winter months.

2. The prognosis of acute bronchitis is always good. In the chronic form the outlook is hopeful in the young, but beyond middle life few recover completely. There may be little interference with general health, however.

3. Preventive measures are of great importance. All those who are especially susceptible should keep away from persons who have colds and should avoid exposure to excessive heat or cold. A dry, even climate exerts a favorable influence. Enlarged tonsils and adenoids should be removed. In acute bronchitis the patient should be put to bed and kept there for several days after the fever has subsided. In chronic bronchitis fresh air, sunshine, and nutritious food are essential. Rest is advisable, and no strenuous physical exercise should be indulged in.

HAY FEVER.

J. T. writes: I have heard recently that some London hospital has discovered a cure for hay fever in which a coating of zinc is applied to the inside of the nostrils by means of electricity. The claim is made that this is successful in 99 per cent of the cases. I am a hay fever sufferer and would like to know more about the plan.

REPLY.

Zinc can be plated or deposited on the mucous membranes of the nose through the use of a constant electric current. The method is called ionization. Much experimental work has been carried out in the United States. As a rule, the patient suffers discomfort and pain and there is a sense of pressure in the nose for some hours following each treatment. The method is equivalent to cauterizing the mucous membranes and does not differ in principle from the local application of carbolic acid or certain other powerful chemicals. One of the research workers, L. M. Hurd, believes that ionization has but limited application; that it has not been used long enough to determine its actual value and dangers. A recent review of twenty-one cases by McIntyre and Osborne indicates that most cases of hay fever should be treated by the accepted methods—vaccines, pollen filtrates, etc. They conclude, however, that in some cases ionization will relieve the symptoms of hay fever but that cure is rarely effected.

PREMATURE BABIES.

B. Y. writes:

1. Does a 7 months baby have a better chance for life than one born in the eighth month?

2. Do premature babies ever become strong?

REPLY.

1. No.

2. Yes. Prematures can and often do grow into as robust physical specimens as those who come into the world at full term.

T. B. OF JOINTS.

R. W. T. writes: What causes tuberculosis of the joints? Is it the same as tuberculosis of the bones? Can it be entirely cured?

REPLY.

The same bacillus which causes the disease anywhere in the body is responsible for tuberculosis in the joints. Cure is possible if you are in skilled hands. Sometimes surgical interference is required.

DAY BY DAY IN THE MAKING OF THE CONSTITUTION

Philadelphia, Pa., July 15, 1787.—[Sunday. The convention does not sit. No report by Madison.] The delegates in the week past have been brought close to the real difficulties of their situation and to a conflict of interests in which there are high opinions. Gentlemen from North and South Carolina have observed a disposition in and outside of the convention to take their slaves away from them. Northern delegates have offered no other ground for this conjecture than a reluctance to admit the slaves as a basis for representation. If they are inhabitants why are they not represented as such in their own states? If they are property and to be represented as property should not property as property be represented in the other states?

Can There Be a United States of America?

The question which arises as the delegates try to agree upon the method of representation in the house of representatives of the national legislature has been referred to committees, discussed, and re-referred. Mr. Gouverneur Morris of Pennsylvania has observed that the southern gentlemen seem to be making a distinction between the states, north and south, which he thought to be unreal. Did it reveal that the south would not federate unless it could be assured control? For himself the distinction was either fictitious or real. If fictitious it should be disregarded. If real it should prevail. The states, if this distinction between them was real, should recognize that incompatible things cannot blend. They should part as friends. The Virginia delegates deplore the existence of the institution of slavery, but cannot ignore that it does exist. Mr. Butler and Mr. Pinckney of South Carolina contend that the full number of slaves shall be counted in the population represented. The north inclines to the view that as a compromise three-fifths may be so counted, but not more. It has been proposed that direct taxation shall be apportioned to the people of the states as they are enumerated for the purposes of representation. Then if the slaves were enumerated for representation they would be included in the per capita tax the state must pay. Mr. Butler of South Carolina, who claims full representation for the Negroes, can in justice see no objection to this proposal. Representation and taxation thus would go in accordance one with the other. Objections, however, have been raised.

The advisability and practicality of several confederations of states with close interests to be joined in alliances has been considered. No one is certain that a national government coextensive with the vast domain of the country can be established or if established can endure. To the west, in the public domain organized in the Northwest Territory, are many new states which soon will be asking for admission to the Union. The convention has much dread of them because they will be able to give little and they will ask much.

All agree that the delegates are dealing with questions upon which depends the future of America.

WATCHDOG.

Chicago, July 9.—[Friend of the People.]—We wish to make a complaint against the owner of a dog next door to us. The crying and howling of this dog goes on almost continuously and at night it makes sleep impossible [our bedroom windows face all this noise]. Anything that can be done to compel the owner to keep the dog quiet will be appreciated. J. A.

The owner of the dog was interviewed and stated that upon his arrival at home about 1 a. m. the dog is naturally pleased to see him and as a result whines and barks a bit. The dog is 15 years of age and is paralyzed, and because of the length of time that he has been with the family they would not permit the police officers to dispose of the dog. The owner was issued a summons for no dog license. JAMES P. ALLMAN, Commissioner of Police.

WATER LEAK.

Chicago, July 5.—[Friend of the People.]—There is a water main in front of our house which has been leaking ever since it began to thaw, some months ago. It is very bad now and sinking gradually, leaving a large hole on each side of the main. We have reported this to the city sewer department twice, also to our precinct captain, who has also reported it, yet nothing has been done to correct this. Can you advise us just what steps to take next and oblige? C. M.

The water pipe extension division of the bureau of engineering excavated and made the necessary repairs on main at the above mentioned location last week.

FARMING

108

Q.—Is it true that live hogs were imported into the United States while American hogs were being killed by the department of agriculture?

A.—Yes. In 1935, 3,414,317 pounds of live hogs were imported. Also 14 hogs were imported for breeding purposes.

109

Q.—Who said: "The slaughter of pigs on the pretense that by making meat scarce we would create a more 'abundant life,' was in truth a New Deal, and likewise an idiotic deal"?

Q.—What is the largest hog reduction contract?

A.—Senator Vandenberg is authority for the statement that one Iowa farmer received $218,000 for not raising hogs on his 445 acre farm. This would be the largest.

THE NEXT GREAT PLAGUE TO GO.

Chicago, July 1.—I am writing to express appreciation and thanks in behalf of the council and its constituent agencies for your courageous editorial of June 26 on "The Next Great Plague to Go." The private and public social and health agencies of Chicago see at first hand the staggering evidence of the destruction caused by syphilis and the burden which it imposes upon every member of the community in the form of added taxes and added expense for private charitable work. The means of dealing with this situation is at hand. All that is necessary is courage and public education, and such an editorial as yours is an invaluable contribution to their development.

ERNEST S. BALLARD,
President Council of Social Agencies of Chicago.

LARGELY.

Chicago, July 2.—The Rail Magazine states that "federal and local taxes for 1934 were over 16 billion dollars, whereas the total sum spent by all the people in the United States for rent, food, clothing, and doctors was about 15 billion dollars." Our government is costing us a billion dollars more than it costs us to live, these politicians being simply parasites who produce nothing.

It looks to me as if the shortest way to the more abundant life that our noble President is so fond of mentioning would be to liquidate him and his entire gang of grafters and wasters and spend this tax money on ourselves, for even a man one degree smarter than a mud turtle knows that from the corner grocer to the United States Steel company every merchant adds his taxation to the cost of selling his stuff and we consumers pay for it.

Let's share this wealth among ourselves instead of giving it to smooth talking politicians of either party. Am I right? WILLIAM MILLER.

SPARE THAT CONSERVATORY!

Chicago, July 2.—I understand that the conservatory in Washington park is about to be discontinued and dismantled.

This conservatory is one of the most delightful spots in the city. I have no doubt it has given, and yet gives, the same immeasurable pleasure to the many thousands who frequent it as it gives to me, and I ask that your columns be directed to stay the destruction of this lovely old building and the uprooting of its floral beauty.

If it has been condemned as unsafe, let the weakness be repaired, but do not permit the obliteration or destruction of this charming old landmark, depriving the lovers of nature of the beauty and comfort they find there. NATURALIST.

TEXAS HISTORY.

Chicago, July 8.—We would advise one who signs himself "Trying to Remain a Republican" in today's TRIBUNE to brush up on his American history before he again seeks to challenge the validity of Carey Orr's superb patriotic cartoon of July 4. Santa Ana, from whom the Texans of 1836 wrested their liberties, was a megalomaniac dictator who used the livery of human rights to beguile those whose liberties he sought to destroy. There are still many patriotic Texans and other Americans who know how to properly evaluate similar present day attempts. GEORGE URIE STEVENSON.

KINDNESS TO HORSES.

Chicago, July 8.—It may be that I am in error when I say that it is quite evident that THE TRIBUNE reporter who said "Horse has kindly master" knows very little about kindness to horses. No "kind master" would feed his horse with the driving bit in the horse's mouth, and when he attaches the nose bag [or feed bag] he would have the air or breathing holes toward the horse's nostrils instead of toward the lower jaw, as in shown on page 34 of today's TRIBUNE.

REPLY TO MR. ICKES.

Chicago, July 7.—I listened to a radio address by Mr. Secretary Ickes in which he discussed the wrongs, injustices and discriminations which have been practiced against the Negro, and then told of the efforts which the present administration under the direction of President Roosevelt had made to correct these wrongs. It was a flowing and glamorous address. The usual kind of palaver and softsoap we always hear in preëlection times designed solely to win Negro votes for the Democratic party.

There has never been in all the history of this country a piece of legislation in the interest of, or for, the protection of the constitutional or civil rights of the Negro that has been fostered or promoted by the Democratic party. Always they have opposed any such legislation. Mr. Ickes spoke of the educational shortcomings, the lack of proper housing conditions, of taxation without representation [I presume he had reference to the south], of the limited working conditions and of the discrimination which even organized labor had practiced against the Negro, and then referred to the gallant efforts that President Roosevelt had made and would continue to make, if reëlected, to abolish all these evils that the Negro has suffered from so long.

All such statements are stereotyped political buncombe for the sole purpose of winning the Negro vote. There may be a few of my people who may fall for that kind of stuff, but if I know them right there won't be many. Only such Negroes who are jobholders, or their beneficiaries, are enrolled under the Democratic banner, and many of these who are feeding at the public trough are not Democrats at heart. They are Democrats for pay, and when pay stops they stop. There are no Negroes who are genuine Democrats.

When a Negro minister delivered the invocation at the recent Democratic convention, and later a Negro was called to the platform to speak, Cotton Smith, a delegate from the southland, left the hall in disgust, declaring there was no political or social equality for a Negro in the Democratic party to which he belonged. His action in leaving that convention hall was a public demonstration of the private opinion of every Rebel Democrat in America. It is only political diplomacy which prevents them from making an honest statement of their real feelings. I have more respect for Cotton Smith than for a thousand such political pussyfooters as Mr. Ickes.

I believe there is a place in Georgia named Warm Springs where President Roosevelt has endowed, or partially maintains, a sanitarium for the treatment of infantile paralysis. I have no doubt but what the humblest, most ragged, and illiterate little white child in the land would be admitted there for treatment, but the most cultured, refined, and well clothed Negro child would be denied admittance simply because it was a Negro.

There is no doubt that Mr. Ickes was well coached for that radio talk, but both he and his coaches are going to learn that the Negro of today is far more public minded than even he, so sparingly, gave them credit for.

HAIR CUT OR HAIR RIBBON?

Chicago, July 8.—The price of 60 cents for a hair cut is nothing less than robbery. I suppose we should give a vote of thanks to Mme. Perkins, who had one of her organizers here a few months ago to get a strong barbers' union. The price was hiked to 50 cents, which was 15 cents more than it was worth. Now it is 60 cents. Why doesn't the state's attorney do something about this? If this keeps up I am going to get a hair ribbon and I am over 6 feet and 200 pounds. But I won't be robbed this way.

HITLER SMASHES CIRCLE OF STEEL FORGED BY PARIS

German, Austrian, Italian Tie Hurts France.

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, July 14.—It has taken several days for the full effect of Adolf Hitler's sensational agreement with Austria to be felt in the chancelleries of Europe. It may be many weeks before all these effects are publicly visible, for this coup changes political situations all over Europe.

The first effect will probably be a postponement of the conference of Locarno powers at Brussels. They were to meet there Thursday to decide what would be done to replace the broken Locarno treaty and to ascertain, if possible, Germany's immediate plans in the remilitarized Rhineland and her future general intention in the matter of European peace. It was fondly hoped, but without much confidence in the hope, that in the meantime Germany might answer, or at least acknowledge, the British questionnaire on these points.

Hitler Replies by Deed.

The questionnaire now has been answered in Hitler's own fashion, that is, by deed rather than by argument. It may henceforth be disregarded. As to the conference, when Hitler delivered his coup, France and Great Britain were trying to discover whether Italy would attend and debating between themselves whether it was advisable to invite Germany also. The French were inclined not to do so.

That question has also been answered by Premier Mussolini. In any such conference it is desirable that Germany shall take part, he said. The indication is that otherwise Italy also will not be present. They stand together.

A more general effect is that not only has the Austro-German agreement removed the most menacing of the German irridentist perils but it has ended any possibility of political, military, or economic encirclement of the reich, so long threatened by France and her central European allies.

French Spite Fence Smashed.

With complete understanding between Germany, Austria, and Italy forming a bond of friendship extending from the Baltic to the Adriatic, how can Germany be encircled? The French spite fence between the reich and its allies in Hungary and Bulgaria is smashed. The Little Entente is rendered innocuous.

Friendly Italy can take care of Jugo-Slavia. Czechoslovakia, caught between the German and the Austro-Hungarian frontiers with her French and Russian allies far distant, has no recourse but to make terms with the possible aggressors. Rumania can only cuddle closer to the protective bosom of soviet Russia. The Little Entente is outdated; its very reason for existence abolished.

The Danubian states must now seek a new orientation. French influence in the Balkans is ended and German influence takes its place. Germany and Italy will share the Balkan markets.

Yet the new agreement, viewed in its broadest aspects, does make for European peace. There is little left to quarrel about, for nobody is going to fight over Danzig or the Rhineland under the present lineup. And both Italy and Germany need money—Italy to develop her new African empire, Germany to complete the process of her strengthening. Both now have political coöperation to offer in exchange.

Meantime, step by step, Nazi Germany is steadily gaining all that republican Germany found it impossible to achieve.

Note the successive milestones on the road of Nazi foreign policy and how one by one they have been successfully passed. All were laid down and charted long ago.

In October, 1933, Germany announced her discontent with the league of nations and the disarmament conference and left both.

In January, 1934, Hitler made his peace pact with Poland, temporarily giving up all idea of recovering Pomorze, the so-called Polish corridor, and recognizing the accomplished fact in return for a friendship that has helped immensely in many directions since.

In January, 1935, Germany recovered the Saar and Hitler renounced Alsace-Lorraine. There remained for Germany, he said, no further territorial claims on France.

Again there was a lull devoted strenuously to rearmament until March of this year, when Germany denounced the Locarno treaty and remilitarized the Rhineland.

Find League Powerless.

Now, four months later, Danzig has come into the picture. Simultaneously Hitler has made peace with Austria. He has liquidated the abortive Nazi putsch in Austria, satisfied Mussolini and achieved a new triumph. The Danzig problem, with Poland's benevolent coöperation, is in a fair way toward settlement on German lines, for no one else is concerned but the league of nations and the league no longer counts.

Thus the milestones on the road mark a continuous succession of peaceful victories, won largely by threats of force—all but one and that is now eliminated.

British Push 4-Power Pact to Maintain Peace in Europe

LONDON, July 14.—(AP)—A four power pact between Great Britain, France, Italy, and Germany cropped up again as a possible solution for Europe's problems today.

While Britain moved to postpone this week's Brussels Locarno conference pending efforts to secure coöperation of Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini from the outset, informed sources said the government believed reconciliation of Franco-German divergencies, with Germany on an equal footing, was a prime necessity for the peace of Europe.

These sources also assumed Mussolini could not afford to be left out if such an agreement with Berlin were reached.

Britain Pushes for Pact.

The British were understood to be persisting in this attitude despite French claims that any four power negotiation should be preceded by a meeting of British, French, and Belgians to record the failure of Rhineland negotiations.

It also was reported France feared a four power pact would alienate Russia and nullify the Franco-soviet mutual assistance agreement.

Authoritative quarters in Brussels threw no light on the question of when the Locarno powers are likely to meet. Officials said Premier Paul Van Zeeland, who called the conference originally for Thursday, was waiting for British and French views and for Italy's formal answer to the Locarno invitation.

Speaking before a diocesan conference today, the archbishop of Canterbury said: "No diplomatic formalities must be allowed to prevent the immediate entry of this country into conversations with Germany."

Britain Holds Up Accord.

MONTREUX, Switzerland, July 14.—(AP)—A British warning against "undue optimism" as to a Dardanelles accord created an impression tonight that Great Britain has not approved certain decisions of its Montreux delegation. The outstanding difficulty, it was understood, concerned the rights of belligerents to send warships through the straits to the Black Sea.

A Russo-British compromise, written by Joseph Paul-Boncour, the French delegate, was submitted to the British government. Under it, the British were reported to have acceded to freedom of passage for Russian warships in time of peace while accepting limited freedom for the British navy.

Agreement was reported reached on other points of a Dardanelles convention with the exception of the British proposal for continuance of a form of the present straits commission and Russia's demand that states in the Dardanelles area be free to send warships through the straits to aid any one of their number who might be the victim of aggression.

ITALY TO CHEER END OF LEAGUE SANCTIONS TODAY

ROME, July 14.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini commanded today that all of Italy be decked with flags tomorrow in a celebration marking the end of sanctions imposed by league of nations members.

The league branded Italy the aggressor in the Italo-Ethiopian war and on Nov. 18, 1935, inaugurated an economic blockade as a penalty.

Britain Gets Italian Fruit.

LONDON, July 15 [Wednesday].—(AP)—Great Britain lifted sanctions from Italy at midnight, and early today the first consignment of Italian produce—peaches and plums—landed at Harwich.

Simultaneously with the end of sanctions the new treasury order came into force under which all debts falling due after today with respect to Italian goods will be payable to the Bank of England for the account of the Anglo-Italian clearing office. The board of trade announced the restoration of general export licenses permitting the sale of British made explosives and aircraft to Italy.

COL. LINDBERGH TO MEET HITLER WITHIN A WEEK

BERLIN, July 14.—(AP)—Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler and Col. Charles A. Lindbergh will meet, a reliable source said tonight, probably a week from tomorrow. Arrangements have been completed, this source disclosed, for the American flyer's visit to Germany July 22 and 23.

Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering, Nazi air minister, is expected to be his official host, and the noted aviator will see the third reich's leading airplane factories, principal airports, the Olympic stadium and the Olympic village.

So far as officialdom is concerned, the colonel's visit was a well guarded secret. Attachés at the United States embassy also declined to confirm it as certain. It was learned reliably, however, that Lindbergh desires his visit to be regarded as of a purely scientific nature, without political meaning.

CANTONESE ARMY ORDERED TO FIGHT NANKING TROOPS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, July 14.—Canton's declaration of war against Japan and its attempt to force the Nanking national government to resist Japanese aggression apparently have resulted in a renewal of civil war in Chna.

Gens. Li Tsung-jen and Bei Tsung-hsi of Kwangsi province today decided to support the Canton war lord, Chen Chi-tang. Dictator Chiang Kai-shek and the Kuomintang [government party] central executive committee dismissed the Canton war lord from office in favor of his rival, Gen. Yu Han-mou, who deserted Canton [Kwangtung and Kwangsi provinces] and joined Chiang.

A Japanese report said that Gen. Chen has ordered Canton troops to attack Gen. Yu's forces at Tayu on the Kwangtung border. The southwest government defied Nanking's order to dissolve the southwest political council, which has operated as a practically independent government for several years. The Cantonese lost two new torpedo boats at Hongkong when their commanders refused to return to Canton and pledged allegiance to Nanking.

Titulescu Calls on Carol; Agrees to Stay in Cabinet

BUCHAREST, July 14—(AP)—Foreign Minister Nicholas Titulescu after a meeting with King Carol and the Rumanian cabinet indicated tonight he would remain in the government. The decision was interpreted as a victory for Titulescu over Nazi and anti-Semitic influences.

Berlin Police Order Czech Writer to Leave Country

BERLIN, July 14.—(AP)—Jan Walter Kolarz, correspondent of the Central European Radio service and the Prager Presse, Prague, Czechoslovakia, was informed by police today he must leave Germany within 10 days. They said his reporting was considered "incorrect."

Wife to Search Isle for Ulm, Lost Pacific Flyer

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

MELBOURNE, Australia, July 15.—[Wednesday.]—The master of the steamer Port Darwin wirelessed yesterday he had seen signals and later a man apparently marooned on Moth island of the Society group. Mrs. Charles T. P. Ulm believes that it was her husband, believed lost while flying the Pacific in December, 1934. She has decided to charter a schooner to search the island, despite the fact it is far off the route laid out by Lieut. Ulm on his projected flight from Oakland, Cal., to Melbourne with two companions.

LINERS CARRYING HEAVY QUOTA OF OLYMPICS FANS

Visiting Hosts Begin Their Trek to Germany.

BY FREDERIC BABCOCK.

For the first two weeks in August Germany will act as host to America and the world. The Olympic games at Berlin and Kiel from Aug. 1 to 16, and the music and theater festivals and art exhibitions in Beyreuth, Munich, Heidelberg, Nuremberg, Dresden, and elsewhere throughout the summer, will pack in the visitors by the hundreds of thousands. Every liner leaving America this week for the other side has its quota of passengers bound for the games and festivals.

Most of the activities of the Olympics will be centered in the Reich sports field, which, with its capacity of more than half a million persons, is one of the greatest concentrations of stadiums, gymnasiums, halls, and fields ever built in one unit. On the Assembly field, where the Parade of Nations is to take place, there is room for 400,000 spectators and participants.

All on the Grand Scale.

Since the field lies five miles from the heart of Berlin, a special station has been built there by the railway system, and another by the subway. The Olympic village, nine miles from the field, is a city in itself, with a bank, a postoffice, and stone houses, each with 10 to 12 double rooms for the athletes. Everything is to be conducted on the grand scale.

More than 400 American men and women Olympic contestants, together with officials, trainers, and coaches, sail on the liner Manhattan today bound for the contests in Germany. In the group will be Avery Brundage, president of the American Olympics' committee; Johnny Behr of the Illinois Athletic club, in charge of sixteen boxers, and Stanley Brauninger with the Lake Shore Athletic club swimming team.

Bound for a vacation in England, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Clark, and Mr. and Mrs. George V. Jeck and their son, Robert, all of Chicago, sail on the Manhattan. Also on board will be Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Bledsoe, Mrs. Theresa Wipper, and Louis and Robert Monninger; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Beardsley of Elkhart, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Kennan of Milwaukee, the latter on their way to Russia where Mr. Kennan is secretary of the American embassy.

On Caledonia and Champlain.

On the Caledonia, sailing last Saturday, were Miss Catherine Brennan, Miss Joan Cameron, Master Norman MacDonald, Master Ralph MacDonald, Miss Esther Thompson, Miss Susan Wilson, and Edwin F. Wilcox, all of Chicago. The Champlain, also leaving Saturday, carried Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Gottleib, Mrs. C. Johnstone, and Miss Alice Johnstone of Chicago; Mrs. Walter Kuhn and children of Indianapolis, and Mrs. E. Elsas and Miss Claire Elsas of Milwaukee.

Among the Chicagoans on the Normandie, sailing today, are: Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Snyder and their granddaughter, Miss Frances Neil, who expect to motor through England and Ireland; Mrs. Elin Nelson and her daughters, Lillian and Mrs. Marion Spann, who also are taking along a car; Miss Lucille Gibson, bound for a trip through England, Germany, Switzerland, and France; M. P. Williamson, Raymond Labres, Martin Mayer, Miss Edith McGuffie, Leonard C. Reid and son, Robert; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Flynn, Richard Spencer, Mrs. Lola Booth, Nicholas Leibert, Mrs. M. Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Marks and their daughters, Kitty, Betty, and Elaine.

Mrs. McLaughlin Returns.

When the Normandie reached New York on Monday it brought Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin of Chicago. Also aboard was a group of fourteen French aviation engineers coming to make a study of airplane and parts factories in the United States. It was the last westward voyage of Capt. Rene Pugnet as commander. On reaching Havre next Monday he will retire. His successor will be Capt. Pierre Thoreux, now associate commander, who is a Breton sailor from St. Briac. He is 45 and will be, it is said, the youngest man on the Atlantic in charge of a liner of the giant type.

Mr. and Mrs. James Macrae, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Payne, Miss Barbara Mandelbaum, and Miss Priscilla Stern of Chicago left last Friday from Montreal on the Alaunia. Mrs. E. F. Murphy and daughter, Louise, and Dr. Marion White of Dixon were on the same ship. The same day on the Samaria, outbound from New York, were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Valentine, Mrs. M. H. Radford and daughter, Molly; Mrs. Gordon Watt, Mrs. Henry J. Tansley, Mrs. John Jones, and O. M. Owens.

Start Pilgrimage to Greece.

Under the leadership of H. C. Veros, 250 members of the Pan-Arcadian society leave Chicago today by special train and will sail tomorrow on the Aquitania for a pilgrimage to Greece.

Next Saturday Miss Agnes McCarthy, Miss Vera Radford, Miss Emilie Holmes, Miss Agnes Waters, Mr. and Mrs. William Houser, Mrs. John Macleod, and Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Weld, all of Chicago, will be passengers on the Rex.

Completing their European vacations, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Antrim and their son, Thomas; Mr. and Mrs. Burdette Mast and Mrs. F. P. Seymour and her children, Dorothy, Nancy, and Fred, sail for home on the Berengaria today. Sailing for home today on the Ile de France will be Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reilly, Kenneth Sponsel, Edgar H. Ailes, Mrs. A. N. Fuqua, Mrs. Marie Ann Chickering, and Miss Grace Clark Link.

On the passenger list of the airship Hindenburg leaving Lakehurst yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Elward, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Kilbourne, William J. Garrett, and Dr. Frank J. Resch of Chicago. Other voyagers were Werner Lutz and Charles Kasik of Milwaukee and Miss Frances M. Rogers of St. Paul.

What can you tell me about the forthcoming Johannesburg exhibition? F. H.

It will open in September and will have a display of wealth seldom seen in trade fairs. One of the displays, visible for miles, will be a "column of gold"—a gilded pillar eight feet in diameter. It will be built to represent the volume of gold taken out of the Witwatersrand mines in the last year. The elaborate decorations will tell the history of the search for the metal through the ages.

Are there any aerial tours over America this summer? B. Y.

In coöperation with the American, Eastern, TWA, Northwest, and United air lines, the American Express company is conducting circle tours all over the country, with extensions southward to Mexico City.

Kindly give a brief description of the trips from the city of Quebec to St. Anne de Beaupre and Ile d'Orleans. G. J. A.

The trip to St. Anne de Beaupre is one of the province's most picturesque. It leads past quaint old villages and farmhouses to the famous shrine. For centuries this shrine has been a sacred place of pilgrimage. Crutches, jewelry, and prized personal belongings cover the walls as testimonials from the many thousands who have been helped there. At Ile d'Orleans the stranger marvels at the "arrested time." There old churches, seignorial mills, and convents appear to have remained unchanged since the days of the first French settlers. Family life and customs are the same as they were 200 years ago.

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

SOUTHAMPTON, July 14. — Ten fussy tugs pushed the Queen Mary, which was unable to use her main engines, into dry dock tonight for an engineering overhaul that seems to extend from the tip of her funnels to her propellers. Although she averaged her designed speed of 28½ knots on the voyage just concluded, apparently there is serious trouble in a number of turbines which tonight were being removed ashore for examination and repair. It was reported that during her last voyage an extra 100 tons of oil fuel were daily required to maintain average speed.

Stork Pays Visit to Bus; Upsets Schedule Half Hour

Peoria, Ill., July 14.—[Special.]—A Hammond-Chicago-Peoria bus was delayed half an hour in its arrival here early today because of the acquisition of an extra nonpaying passenger. The passenger was the daughter of Mrs. L. Williams, 22 year old colored woman of St. Louis, Mo., and was born on the bus at Gridley, Ill. Medical aid was summoned at Gridley and the baby and her mother were brought to a Peoria hospital.

8 PORTO RICANS GO ON TRIAL FOR SEDITION PLOT

Accused of Plans for Armed Rebellion.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, July 14.—(AP)—The trial of eight Porto Rican Nationalists on charge of conspiring to overthrow the government by force opened today amid bitter protest by defense counsel against the searching of attorneys and witnesses.

Attorney Toro Nazario, representing Pedro Albizu Campos, Harvard educated Nationalist leader who is on trial with seven others, demanded dismissal of the charges on the ground the sessions were not public because of rigid police precautions against disorder.

Claims Women Humiliated.

Never in the history of the island, he said, had defense counsel been searched. He also declared women witnesses had been humiliated by the search process.

The court, however, ruled the United States marshal had not exceeded his duty in ordering the trial restrictions.

Twelve jurors and two alternates were chosen by midday to pass on charges that the defendants conspired to overthrow the government by recruiting soldiers and inciting to revolution. Two of the fourteen, William Fernandez, an alternate, of Brooklyn, and D. P. Campbell of Tennessee, were born in the United States.

Rules Out Inquiries on Party.

District Judge Robert Cooper ruled out inquiries by counsel regarding the jurors' ideas concerning the Nationalist party or insular independence. That, he said, was not at issue.

District Attorney Cecil Snyder began his outline of the government's case during the afternoon. Col. Amos W. W. Woodcock, former United States dry law director, is assisting him.

Campos and the others were arrested following the slaying last February of Col. E. Francis Riggs, insular police chief.

TWO DAYS AND FINE FOR GIRL.

Miss Helen Warner, 21 years old, 928 Sheridan road, was sentenced to two days in the Bridewell and a $5 fine by Judge George B. Weiss in the Women's court yesterday for shoplifting.

MONTREAL SENDS OFF SUPPLY SHIP FOR ARCTIC POSTS

MONTREAL, July 14.—(AP)—Crammed to her beam ends the steamer Nascopie, battered little ship of supply for the Canadian north, slid out of Montreal today on a 10,000 mile circle voyage to thirty-five trading posts of the eastern arctic.

She carried annual necessities for the men and women who live in the outposts. And this year the Hudson Bay company's veteran of the ice lanes, traveling within 800 miles of the north pole, carried scientists, missionaries, and policemen who will spend long months in the wastes.

Whistles shrieked as harbor craft gave the Nascopie a rousing sendoff. The vessel is the sole contact with the "outside" to the northland's dwellers.

FUTURE COURSE OF LABOR HINGES ON ACTION TODAY

Washington, D. C., July 14.—[Special.]—The future course of organized labor in the nation, as well as the fate of twelve "rebel" unions under the leadership of the stormy John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, rested tonight with fifteen tight-lipped men.

The fifteen men, forming the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, will vote tomorrow on whether the twelve unions which have defied the A. F. of L. in their organization of the steel industry shall be suspended from the federation. The council is overwhelmingly in favor of this drastic action.

Peace Plea a "Failure."

President William Green of the A. F. of L. announced late today that the vote would be taken. He said that efforts toward settling the differences between the two factions within the ranks of organized labor had resulted in "failure." Nevertheless there are conciliatory forces still at work to avert a major split in labor ranks. Some observers see a prospect of a dodge of the suspension order and instead a plan to cite the recalcitrant leaders to a trial some days in the future.

Labor's greatest crisis resulted from Lewis' banding together the twelve unions into the Committee for Industrial organization. The group is in favor of organizing workers in steel and other activities into great mass or industrial unions. Green and the more conservative elements behind him favor the building up of unions by crafts.

Only 2 Oppose Ouster.

It can be said with certainty tonight that only two members of the council are absolutely opposed to suspension of the recalcitrant unions. They are George M. Harrison of the Railway Clerks' union and the veteran Frank Morrison, secretary-treasurer of the council.

The key figure is Daniel J. Tobin, president of the Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Stablemen and Helpers, who was named chairman today of the labor division of the national Democratic campaign.

At the start of the council sessions last week, Tobin was in favor of suspension, but strong administration pressure has been brought to bear on him to change his mind and persuade some of his colleagues to stave off the suspension action.

Cabinet Aid Takes a Hand.

Members of the council were holding numerous back room conferences tonight. Going from group to group was Edward F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor, who has been reporting events daily to President Roosevelt. It is said the effort of McGrady is to avert a suspension order.

The administration, it was learned, is fearful that suspensions of the C. I. O. unions will split the labor vote wide open in the fall.

President Green appeared weary and worried at the end of the council's last session late today. He said the last two C. I. O. unions, the Cloth Cap and Hat Makers and the Oil Field, Gas and Refining Workers, had refused to appear before the council just as their associates, starting with Lewis' mine workers, had done.

Green "Deplores" Defiance.

"The council took into account the refusal of the representatives of the organizations affiliated with the C. I. O. to respond to the invitation," said Green. "It deplores the fact that none were present.

"We considered the opportunity created through the invitations as a probable way out of our difficulties. The primary purpose of asking them to come here was to compose our differences. That effort now has resulted in failure."

Green said the council had gone over all the facts available on the C. I. O., its functions, declared aims and purposes, without reaching a decision.

The labor chief refused to hazard a prediction on the result of the vote. Green will vote only in case of a tie.

DESPONDENT, HANGS SELF.

Despondent over the death of his wife four years ago, Peter Corcoran, 72 years old, 1911 Barry avenue, hanged himself yesterday in a clothes closet in the rooming house in which he lived.

Sleeplessness

Comes from Constipation

Loss of sleep—a waning appetite—low spirits—these are only a few of the symptoms of constipation.

They warn that poisons from the waste matter are being absorbed by the blood and carried to all parts of your body. Your vitality is lowered until you become a prey to serious disease.

Constipation is dangerous for anybody. Nujol is safe for everybody. It does not affect the stomach, and is not absorbed by the body. Medical authorities approve Nujol because it is so safe, so gentle and so natural in its action.

Nujol makes up for a deficiency of natural lubricant in the intestines. It softens the waste matter and thus permits thorough and regular bowel movements without griping.

Just try Nujol regularly for the next month and see if you don't feel better than you ever suspected you could.

BRITAIN WILL MAKE NEW GAS MASKS FOR ENTIRE POPULATION

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, July 14.—The ideal of a perfect gas mask for every man, woman, and child in Britain came nearer realization today.

An official announcement said that after long experiments the government's scientists have evolved a respirator which would give all necessary protection against a gas attack. Production will begin immediately on a huge scale.

As the first step toward providing millions of masks free of charge, the home office submitted a supplementary estimate of $4,835,000 to the house of commons. Previous estimates for the army, navy, and air force have reached the colossal total of $940,000,000.

The government does not intend to issue the new masks to the public, "unless it becomes necessary." The masks will be stored in convenient centers throughout the country and at the same time arrangements will be made for citizens to try them on.

RIOT IN FRANCE AS NATION MARKS BASTILLE'S FALL

Many Hurt as Anti-Reds Fight Foes.

14th, which is the one time of the year when the French go wild and outdrink and outdance visiting firemen until dawn, they went quietly to bed about 2 o'clock. This correspondent, making the rounds of the left bank, found only a few discouraged street dancers trying to make merry at 3 o'clock. Café orchestras had folded up because there were no more customers.

Liquor Dealers Unhappy.

Liquor dealers today were wailing that they have been cheated out of their one grand chance to recoup losses occasioned by hard times, and they are blaming the scarcity of money and tourists. Serious Frenchmen, however, say that the national holiday was not gay simply because no one has the heart to be frivolous when he has the presage of dire calamities, undefined but certain, bound to fall on France both within and from abroad.

Clash in Provinces.

PARIS, July 14.—(AP)—Thirty persons were injured at Royan today when Nationalists fought with leftists in an attempt to prevent them from carrying a red flag past a war memorial in a Bastille day celebration.

Political factions fought at Montpellier and at Bar le Duc rival columns of leftists and Nationalists stood face to face for more than three hours with gendarmes holding them apart until officials induced them to disperse.

ORDER CAB DRIVER HELD.

A coroner's jury yesterday ordered Nathan Rogin, 26 years old, a taxicab driver, held to the grand jury on a manslaughter charge arising out of the fatal beating of John Pipski, 45 years old, 3036 Lyndale street, on July 3, at Division street and Oakley avenue.

2 SLAIN ON MARCH FROM FUNERAL OF SPANISH FASCIST

Worker Killed by Guards in Second Clash.

MADRID, July 14.—(AP)—Three persons were slain and thirteen wounded in new outbursts of Spanish political passion today.

Two lost their lives and six were wounded in clashes between assault guards and Fascists returning from the funeral of José Calvo Sotelo, monarchist leader who was kidnaped and killed early yesterday by men in the uniforms of assault guards.

One worker was killed and seven wounded in fights between striking Syndicalists and Socialists in the Cuatro Camino section of Madrid.

Congress Recessed.

Congress, and strategic points of the capital were heavily guarded. Observers feared the political repercussions of the Calvo Sotelo assassination might be serious, since Republican members of the Popular Front were much disturbed by a possible split in the left coalition. President Manuel Azana dissolved congress for a week to permit the political situation to become more normal.

Observers estimated that no less than 30,000 persons passed before the Calvo Sotelo house to pay their respects. The funeral procession itself passed quietly, although large gatherings of both Fascists and Monarchists were in the streets.

The crowd at the cemetery was so dense that an official delegation from congress was unable to attend. The congressmen reported later that groups of young Fascists threw stones at their car.

Fire Into Marchers.

Calvo Sotelo was buried with a Monarchist ribbon in his hand and was dressed in the order of San Francisco.

After the rites 500 young Fascists marched down Alcala street enroute from the cemetery, crying, "Russia? No! Spain? Yes! Long live Spain!" and giving the Fascist salute.

A fight started when the assault guards, twenty of whose organization are under arrest for the Calvo Sotelo assassination, ordered the Fascists to disperse. The guards then fired into the marchers to enforce the order.

Minister of the Treasury Enrique Ramos, in a statement said 135 Fascists had been arrested in the capital and that all public meetings and demonstrations had been suspended. Groups of men, allegedly distributing bombs during a cabinet meeting, were seized.

In the second clash, between assault guards and laborers one person was killed and three wounded. The guards were enforcing a government order to disperse all public gatherings.

The guards had to fight to tear the pictures from the billboard and remove the inscription. The casualties resulted when the gathering crowd resisted.

A LONDON HOSTESS DECLARES WAR ON GATE CRASHING FOLK

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 14.—Gate crashers have become the bane of existence of London hostesses this season. Unbidden guests have been barging into parties to such an extent that Lady Newnes, wife of Sir Frank Newnes, set a precedent today by advising all her 350 guests for tonight's dance in her home in fashionable Kensington to bring their invitation cards with them. She inserted a notice to this effect in the papers.

"There has been an outbreak of gate crashing recently on a large scale and I am not going to be victimized," Lady Newnes explained.

Hostesses say the desire for luxurious food and drink is the explanation for much of the gate crashing, to which women as well as men are addicted. One effect of the crashing, they say, is that it is impossible to provide the proper amount of refreshments, for they are unable to determine how many will be present.

EX-NAVY OFFICER PROTESTS CHARGE OF SALE TO JAPS

Held in $10,000 After All Night Quiz.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 14.—[Special.]—Former Lieutenant Commander John S. Farnsworth of the United States navy today pleaded not guilty when he was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner N. C. Turnage and charged with selling a highly confidential book on naval defense plans to a Japanese naval officer.

Farnsworth, court martialed from the navy in 1927 for misconduct, was gray-faced and trembling when arraigned. He was held in $10,000 bail, which he was unable immediately to produce.

"This is a lot of hooey," he declared to reporters. "The book in question is obsolete and not confidential at that. Some naval documents were stolen from my home about a year ago and this book may have been among them. I have contacted both the Japanese and the Chinese governments with the idea of forming an aviation corps but have received no answer to my overtures."

Arrested in Home.

Farnsworth, arrested yesterday at his home and quizzed all night by government men, is accused of selling to a Japanese officer and agent an official navy publication dealing with naval tactics and battle formations of the U. S. fleet to be undertaken in wartime under varying circumstances. Whether he obtained the book before he was dismissed from the navy nine years ago or since was not made clear.

Any naval officer can obtain a copy of the book, it was explained, but he must take an oath that he will not reveal the contents and must return it if he leaves the service.

Farnsworth declared he was a sick man and asked for hospital treatment.

The sale of the document to the unnamed Japanese officer was stated to have been made on May 15, 1935. Federal bureau of investigation agents worked on the case for months, it was said.

Farnsworth had a good record in the navy until he was accused in 1927 of borrowing money from an enlisted man, a violation of navy regulations, and attempting to induce an enlisted man to commit perjury. He was found guilty and dismissed from the service by President Coolidge on recommendation of the secretary of the navy.

Farnsworth is 43 years old. He was appointed to Annapolis in 1911 and graduated in 1915. He had arisen to the rank of lieutenant commander 12 years later when he was court martialed.

"The embassy has never had any knowledge of the man," said Chargé d'Affaires Seijiro Yoshizawa. "During my stay here I have never heard or known of any Japanese espionage activities, outside of what I have read in the papers."

A hearing on the charges was set for July 29.

French Here Commemorate Fall of Bastille in 1789

Bastille day was observed by Chicago's French societies and allied war veterans' groups last evening at a banquet in the Marigold gardens, Broadway and Grace street. A commemorative program of the fall of the Bourbon prison and the beginning of French liberty 147 years ago was presented before 250 guests. Alphonse Robine was toastmaster and speakers included Jean Strauss, acting consul general; Arthur Allais, spokesman for French organizations; Col. Thomas R. Gowenlock, world war hero, and Carleton B. Cunningham, commander of the Allied World War veterans.

APPEALS FOR ICE SHOW HARDSHIPS IN NEEDY HOMES

Tribune Fund Rescues Many Sufferers.

The following brief jottings—with their undertones of poverty, suffering, and need—are from the daily report book of Miss Edna Mae Wray of the United Charities, director of THE TRIBUNE free ice fund. They show how the fund, supported by readers of THE TRIBUNE for the last twenty-two years, again is alleviating the distress caused by merciless waves of heat:

"Rushed with ice calls. I have tried to take care of all the babies.

"Baby, 6 months old, milk sour. Family must have ice immediately. Ice given.

Twins Need Ice.

"Aged couple, both paralyzed, desperately in need of ice. Emergency ice taken out in afternoon; I left tickets at home.

"Health department nurse telephoned. Ten months old baby. Doctor says must have ice at once. Family live on South Cicero avenue. Ice given.

Funds Need Replenishing.

"The tickets are going rapidly . . . the fund is about exhausted. I hope we get help soon or I'll have to close up shop."

Yesterday's contributions to the free ice fund were:

Heart Attack Is Fatal to William H. Burn, 76

William H. Burn, retired Chicago manufacturer, died yesterday in his home near Rochester, Ind., after a heart attack. He was 76 years old. Mr. Burn was born in Toronto, Canada, and began his business career there after attending Upper Canada college. In 1889 he became secretary of the Buhl Stamping company in Detroit and came to Chicago in 1893. Until he retired ten years ago he was secretary and director of the Sturges & Burn Manufacturing company, makers of dairy and sheet metal specialties. He was a former vice president of the Illinois Manufacturers association. Surviving are his widow, two daughters, Mona and Neehan Burn, of Frankfort, Mich., and a brother, Walter, of New York.

W. T. Bussey, 83, Retired Head of Stove Works, Dies

William T. Bussey, former president of the Chicago Stove Works, died yesterday in his home at 1339 Thorndale avenue, after a year's illness. Mr. Bussey had been retired from business for the last ten years. He was born in Troy, N. Y., 83 years ago and was educated at Troy academy. He joined the Bussey, McLeod Stove Works in Troy in 1873 and came to the Chicago office of the company in 1876. Later he formed his own company. Mr. Bussey is survived by two daughters, Cornelia, and Mrs. Irene Meloy, both of Chicago. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow from the Rose Hill chapel, and burial will be in Rose Hill cemetery.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

More heat and radio waves!

While the nation has been baking there has been no dearth of rain via the radio.

"We've had at least one good rain on the air each day the last week," explained M. W. Wood, sound effects expert at NBC yesterday. "Why there was a downpour in the Orphan Annie program every evening and Sunday we had a good thundershower during the broadcast of 'A Tale of Today.'"

Following receipt of a letter from a Pennsylvania fan who reported that a golf ball had exploded from the heat, Don McNeill, master of ceremonies of the Breakfast club, has promised to produce a lot of synthetic rain on the show this morning. The rain effect is achieved by pouring sand on cellophane.

Arch Oboler deserves sharp reproof for offering an opus entitled "Flame" on the ghostly "Lights Out" dramatic series at 11:30 tonight. The flame, Mr. Oboler explains, is a living one that snuffs out the life of the man who created it. If Mr. Oboler feels that he must stick to such grisley matters the least he could do would be to title the piece, "Murder Under the Midnight Sun."

Comforting words came from E. H. Scott, Chicago radio expert, from Hollywood where he addressed a group of technicians. Fifty years from now radio may be utilized to end drouths, check insect scourges, and help select the proper mate for marriage, he said.

Passing over the grasshopper and mating possibilities of ether waves, Mr. Scott had this to say on drouth control by radio:

"There is an ancient belief, which science has not disproved, that huge fires creating colossal columns of smoke will create rain. The theory behind this is that the upward draft disrupts the upper atmosphere and causes precipitation. I am sure that a much stronger and cheaper current could be created by radio."

Radio does offer several redeeming place names these hot nights. Perhaps you've heard this phrase: "The music of Vincent Lopez from Pavilion Royale, Valley Stream, Long Island" or "the summer concert from Robin Hood dell." One we should like to hear [but haven't] is "Opera from Ravinia Park on the North Shore."

It's hard to get Guy Lombardo, Morgan L. Eastman, Quin Ryan, Blair Walliser, Harold Stokes, Lum 'n' Abner, and several other radio folks on the phone these days. That's because they're sticking to their boats a good bit. One chap who can take it is Horace Heidt. He golfs all day practically every day. . . . Kate Smith, who planned to go whaling in Alaskan waters during her vacation, got no further than Lake Placid!

Other evening as the Chicago Philharmonic orchestra was playing the closing strains of Tschaikovsky's "Pathetique" symphony in the Grant park bowl a woman with hair streaming in the wind [if any] flopped breathlessly into a seat. She had, she explained, heard the start of the symphony by radio, rushed hastily to the I. C., and sped to the park. She got there just in time to hear the closing bars.

John S. Carman, Retired, Dies from Burns in Bath

John S. Carman, a retired lumberman, died yesterday at the age of 71 years in the Illinois Masonic hospital from uremic poisoning which developed from burns he sustained on July 3 from the shower in his bathroom. He lived in the Hayes hotel, 6345 University avenue. Mr. Carman became faint while in his bath and accidently turned on the hot water as he reached for support. He was engaged in the lumbering business in the northwest for a number of years, and came to Chicago 20 years ago to retire. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Campbell of Winnipeg, Canada.

Engagement Announced

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Miss Betty Longstaff, whose engagement to Lieut. Edson Schull, U. S. A., is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. Longstaff of Lake Forest. Lieut. Schull, who has been stationed at Fort Sheridan for about three years, is a graduate of West Point and is the son of Gen. and Mrs. Herman Schull of Washington, D. C.

Miss Virginia Dawes Will Be Bride Sept. 12

BY JUDITH CASS.

ONE of the most interesting of the early fall weddings will be that of Miss Virginia Dawes, daughter of Gen. and Mrs. Charles Gates Dawes, and Richard Thompson Cragg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Cragg of Evanston, which will take place on Saturday, Sept. 12, at the Dawes home in Evanston.

The ceremony is to be read at 9 o'clock in the evening by the Rev. Paul A. Wolfe of the First Presbyterian church of Evanston. Nine o'clock instead of 8:30, the usual hour for evening weddings, no doubt was chosen to give the many relatives and friends who will be invited time to reach the Dawes residence at 225 Greenwood boulevard after dining in their homes north, south, and west of Evanston.

Miss Dawes has asked her brother's wife, Mrs. Dana M. Dawes, to be the matron of honor. Dana Dawes will be an usher and three and a half year old Betty, the Dana Daweses' daughter, will be the flower girl. Miss Patsy Boylston of Wilmette will attend the bride as maid of honor and the bridesmaids will be Miss Caroline Buck, Miss Myra Jane Hutton, Miss Helen Holton, and Miss Beatrice McCurdy.

Eugene Cragg will be his brother's best man, and ushering will be, in addition to Mr. Dawes, Frederick and Edgar Fielding and Douglass Cooper.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson L. Buck, Miss Caroline's parents, will entertain at the Glen View club on Thursday evening, July 30, for Miss Dawes and Mr. Cragg, and from then until the wedding there will be a round of parties for the young couple. Mr. Cragg and his bride will make their home in Evanston.

Lake Geneva Flower Show July 30, 31.

Lake Geneva, which had a dog show last Saturday and Sunday in Horticultural hall, is making preparations for its annual flower show, the 32d one, to be held on July 30 and 31 at Horticultural hall. The show will open on Thursday the 30th, at 3 o'clock, and will close that night at 11 [Chicago time]. The hours the next day will be from 11 a. m. to 7 p. m.

Mrs. William N. Pelouze is general chairman of the committee planning the show and the vice chairmen are Mrs. William F. Petersen, Miss Edith Kohlsaat, Mrs. Edwin B. Frost, and Mrs. Albert F. Madlener.

Mrs. Henry Bartholomay, Mrs. Augustus K. Maxwell, Mrs. Henry H. Porter, Mrs. Norman Harris, Miss Hester Reilly, Miss Theodora Finney, Mrs. Daniel Peterkin, and Mrs. Frank S. Porter are a few of the other women actively interested in the show.

Former pupils of Walter Lemley at the Hill school are having an opportunity to see him, for he is spending a few days in Lake Forest as the guest of Mrs. John Irwin Marshall and her son, John Irwin Marshall Jr.

This evening Miss Margot Reid is entertaining at dinner for Mr. Lemley. He will spend the week-end with the John Colemans and John Coleman Jr. and next Monday will go to Desbarats to be with the Theodore S. Proxmires for a week.

Mr. Marshall is going to Desbarats Friday to visit the Allen Bells and their son, Lex Bell, and when he returns to Lake Forest he will bring Mr. Lemley back with him for another visit.

Mrs. George Lytton to Be at Nantucket.

Mrs. George Lytton and her daughter, Mrs. Charles Sutton Sheppard [Rosemary Lytton] are leaving New York this week for Nantucket where they have taken a house for the summer. Mrs. Lytton's other daughter, Mrs. Thaddeus Zazulinski, and her husband also are spending the summer at Nantucket, where they have

TWO north shore women, each unacquainted with the other, follow the same method when they want to impress a particular matter on their husbands' minds. One wife addresses a letter to her husband's office when she wants him to remember to order garden seeds or see about awnings. "Write me a letter about it," he tells her when she asks him to remember an errand downtown. He sends letters to her, too, when he wants to remind her to attend to various matters.

The other wife writes to her husband at his office when she wants to tell him anything of great importance about which there is likely to be dissension or discussion.

"You see, Henry's a lawyer, and breaks me down as soon as I try to argue with him," she points out. "When I write, I get in all my arguments without being broken down."

THE movie, "The Great Ziegfeld," and the appearance of the great Sandow in the World's Fair of '93 shots brought to mind a story Fred Tiden told when he was appearing in Chicago with Otis Skinner. Mr. Tiden and a friend were walking in St. John's wood near London some years ago when they passed the home of the late Houdini. The great magician, one of whose spectacular stunts was to release himself from a locked chest, was on the porch, locked out. He was considerably irritated and, abandoning his efforts, walked with them over to the home of Sandow. They found the world famous strong man struggling with a trunk he was unable to get upstairs.

A FIVE YEAR OLD went to his aunt's house a few days ago to spend the time until dinner playing with his young cousins. He returned home less than an hour later, and his mother said, in some surprise, "Well, Ernie, you didn't stay very long. What was the matter? Did they send you home?"

"O, no, mother; they didn't send me home," the little boy answered. "Aunt May just put me out on the porch and locked the door."

Good Morning!

It's an eccentric [occasionally rather funny] comedy with some delightful music, unique situations, and NO propaganda. [That I could spot.]

The story concerns a musical herdsman, who tends cows and sheep near a seaside resort. He is mistaken by a lady celebrity fiend for a famous composer. This error leads to a succession of Mack Sennett-ian situations by the seashore.

The action moves to Moscow, where Kostia finds himself in the shoes of the director of a symphony orchestra. . . . More much ado. . . . A band adopts him. He becomes its leader. . . . In the meantime the lady goes out of his life and the lady's maid—who can sing like a canary—bit by bit edges into it. . . . And so on.

The picture is acted with enthusiasm and was directed with gusto—and some genius. Though its humor is of the sort that will appeal mostly to children, the film does have the charm of novelty.

See you soon.

Style Expert Has Finds for Smart Money

Locates Bargains for Late Summer Wear.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Shopping tips, right from the racks! These are tips for the thinking shopper as well as the tardy lady in search of bargains to replenish a hot weather wardrobe. There are dotted linen dresses, simple but smart, the kind of things you can wear to town on a hot day as easily as you wear them for the country. Lovely colors, wine red, ginger brown, a cool china blue, all spattered with tiny ice white dots. The sleeves are short and wide to assure coolness.

Wait till you see rather large white stars embroidered against a cool, thin black linen before you stanchly refuse to believe that black linen dresses are the coolest things in town. These starry affairs are cool to look at and to wear. The white linens trimmed with black look like the successful black and white in reverse. These are something to go to town to see.

In another shop you'll find some stunning printed silk play suits. They are thin, soft all-silk material with rosebuds for the floral motif, exact copies of the famous challis peasant prints of early spring. The shorts and blouse top are in one piece. The shorts have tailored pleats. The top is smartly cut and tailored like the popular shirtwaist style. The sleeves short and cool. The skirt buttons down the front.

These are the obliging kind of outfits that wise shoppers have been wearing for street and town wear. For hot sticky days they can't be beat. Wear them with the skirt buttoned down to the hem over the fitted shorts and blouse combination and it's really all you need. Not many of them are left. The turquoise blue and gay yellows with rosebuds are the most plentiful. Prices have been reduced and these are finds—with emphasis.

Fashion photograph . . . street outfit of triple sheer featuring black cooled with white. The simple sleeveless dress has a slit in the skirt filled with white to match the front of the bodice top. The wide sleeved coat is made with long revers also faced back with white to match the inside facing of the sleeves. A wide belt accents the waistline. The smart, small hat of soft felt is trimmed with sharply pointed bows of the same material. Both hat and ensemble are available in a Chicago shop.

Mrs. Landon's Typical Day Is Busy One

Estes Park, Colo., July 14.—(AP)—The typical day in the life of Mrs. Alf M. Landon, wife of the Republican presidential nominee, is a busy one.

Here is the average day's schedule:

7:30—Children's breakfast. Mrs. Landon eats this meal with them.

8-9:30—"Short order breakfast" with John M. Landon, the governor's father; Mrs. S. E. Cobb, Mrs. Landon's mother; Mrs. Mildred Creighton, secretary; Peggy Anne Landon, 19, and Lacy Haynes Jr., 14, son of a Kansas City friend, putting in an appearance.

9—Mrs. Landon plans the day's meals, tends to the dozen and one things necessary to keep an eleven room house running smoothly for her household of eight plus three servants and several watchmen. She and Mrs. Creighton also work on the piled up correspondence.

Noon—The children's lunch, and 12:30 p. m.—Family lunch.

1:30—"Time out" with the children and Mrs. Cobb taking their naps. Mrs. Landon usually reads on the living room divan and "Grandpa" Landon catches a few winks in his comfortable chair in front of the log fire.

5 p. m.—The children's supper, and 6:30—Family dinner.

7:30 p. m.—It's "a story, please, Mommy," and so with Jack on her lap and Nancy Jo curled up beside her in a big chair in front of the fire, Mrs. Landon complies.

8—The children's bedtime with Mrs. Landon helping put them to bed and listening to their prayers.

10-10:30 p. m.—The lights go out one by one in the well guarded house.

There have been few telephone calls and visitors are rare and only by appointment.

Baroness Must Leave.

Hollywood, Cal., July 14.—(AP)—The Baroness Carla Jenssen, 32, former Hollywood writer and lecturer, who two weeks ago wed W. Charnley Atwater, building contractor, will sail for Europe tomorrow on the Italian ship Cellina. A federal deportation order, issued because the baroness has overstayed her leave, is pending. Atwater expects to join her later.

Women Want Their Share of Judicial Jobs

BY RUTH DE YOUNG.

Appointment of qualified women to judicial position was urged yesterday by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs at the 17th annual board meeting being held in the Stevens hotel. The action was pushed through a letter addressed to the president of the American Bar association.

Miss Charl Williams, federation president, pointed out that the recommendation is in line with the organization's interest in getting women into public office generally. Recently Miss Williams predicted that there would be a woman Vice President of the United States in 1940.

Miss Williams, in her annual report, declared that the federation was interested in the establishment of a youth committee to work independently or, where feasible, jointly with groups of agencies, governmental and private, that are primarily concerned with the problems of youth.

Another recommendation made by Miss Williams was regarded as significant. It concerned the formation of a council of women for coöperation on common objectives. "In the fall we hope to get together a council of business and professional women's groups and also to work out objectives on which we can agree with women's clubs outside the business and professional field," she said.

The board meeting will continue today with reports by national committee chairmen. It will close Saturday in a business women's forum sponsored by the Chicago business and professional women.

Hull House Seeking New Supporters; Cite Losses Through Death

The Hull House association is making efforts to raise funds to carry on the work of its pioneer social settlement at 800 South Halsted street. Mrs. Kenneth F. Rich, head resident, explained that many of the former financial supporters of the institution have died.

"To Hull house Miss Jane Addams was more than a founder and head resident," Mrs. Rich said. "Personally she made or inspired its largest contributions. We are engaged in adding new funds and supporters to make up for those who have died."

SHERIDAN ROAD

By Helen Topping Miller

SYNOPSIS.

Eden Faraday, young secretary, opens the door of a taxi and finds a man murdered. She is taken to the police station, where she meets Jack Garnett, newspaper cameraman, and Owen Field, assistant district attorney, who arranges her release. Eden had been mistaken for Gracie Lincoln, a gunman's widow. The man murdered was a notorious gangster, Grappi. Eden's mother, Bridget Faraday, sells gowns and is in love with suave Sidney Creighton. Eden and her spoiled young sister, Robin, and brother, Coburn, depend on their peppery grandmother. Because of a rumor that Eden can identify the murderers Owen Field has her guarded. Raquel Rusak, an older woman, is trying to force Coburn Faraday to marry her. Robin is carrying on a secret flirtation with Sidney Creighton. Eden goes with Garnett to see Gracie Lincoln, now married to Clint Jarvis, a taxi driver, who has been forced to drive the murderers of Grappi. Eden promises to help Clint gain an audience with Mat Burke, district attorney, friend of her grandmother. On his way there Clint is deliberately run down by a car. Garnett, with Eden and Gran, bring Gracie to the hospital. Coburn has told Eden about Raquel and she promises to get him money to go away. Gran leaves to meet Coburn. Owen Field drives Eden home. Gran returns without seeing Coburn. Garnett brings Gracie Lincoln to Eden's home.

INSTALMENT XXVII.

A WILD DAY.

"It's no use going to Burke," Gracie was melancholy, "no use at all. Clint was going to Burke. I begged him not to go. I knew something horrible would happen. I begged him to get away—that night—to get clear away. But he said there wasn't enough money." Her voice on a sharp note of hysteria. "I begged him—last night when Ozzie came——"

Garnett's fork clattered to the floor. "Ozzie came? Ozzie Zellner? You didn't tell me that, Gracie."

"I—couldn't think. He told Clint to go back to work. Clint owed him some money. Please—I'll be all right——"

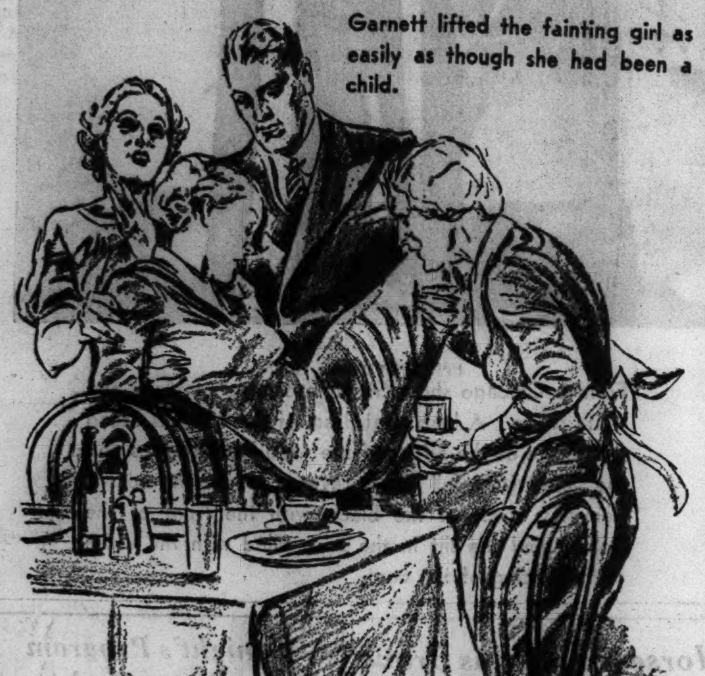
"Catch her!" snapped Gran. "Hold her head down—water, in a minute. Can you carry her to the bed?"

Garnett lifted the fainting girl as easily as though she had been a child. "She doesn't weigh anything. Will you open the door, Eden?"

Gracie's yellow hair lay in disorder against Garnett's coat. Her bluish small wrists hung down, dark veins stood up in her temples. And on fingers so thin as to be transparent glistened Vick Lincoln's great diamond ring.

"She ought to be in the sun—she ought to have a little peace," Garnett said, gently, as he laid her on Robin's bed.

"Poor little thing," Eden brought camphor and cool water and sponged the girl's bloodless face. Gran came with hot water bottles and an old-fashioned bottle of smelling salts.



Garnett lifted the fainting girl as easily as though she had been a child.

"Mother isn't going to like this."

Gran sniffed. "She'll have to like it. It's done. And it might be her own child—the wild little monkey! If I had been here I'd have got out of that young one where she was going. And there's Coburn——"

"I'm worried about Coburn, Gran."

"I'm worried, too, but I did my best. I took some of my money that I'd saved to bury myself with—it's there in my brown purse. So—if he needs it and there's none left for my funeral you'll all have to manage the best you can."

"She's opening her eyes, Gran."

"I'm going to give her some hot brandy and milk—and one of my sleeping pills. She's strung up like a fiddle. Who is this Ozzie that young Garnett got so upset about?"

"Gran, you know you have heard of him? He used to be in politics here before the old gang rule was broken up—he was the power behind the rackets. This Grappi was his enemy. I think he's the person Clint and Gracie are afraid of. Now perhaps Clint will be afraid to talk."

"Funny—I had a feeling this morning when I came out of church that this was going to be a wild day. It was in the air. And when I saw this young Garnett getting off the bus I hurried as fast as I could to head him off—I had a hunch he was bringing strange news. But my legs were too short. So now——"

"It wouldn't have made any difference, Gran. Everything would have happened just the same, anyway. Coburn—all of it."

"But this young Garnett needn't fetch all his murders and dump them on my doorstep. Why can't he go ahead and take his pictures and mind his business without trying to be Sherlock Holmes? It's a wonder he keeps his job at all."

"Gran, darling, you know nothing on earth would keep you out of this excitement! And Jack Garnett is just trying to help Gracie. They went to school together up in Willamette. Now—help me think of something to tell mother."

"I'd like to know where that boy is. And Bridget will be redheaded about Robin sliding out without telling anybody."

"Coburn took all his clothes. Surely he'll telephone or come back——"

"You might," said Gran dryly, buttoning her cuffs, "tell me where he was going and why. I've done a lot of things these last few days without asking any questions. I don't like to be snoopy—but he is my own grandson."

"O, Gran—I'm so sorry—I forgot you didn't know. Will she be all right now if we go back to your room to talk?"

Gracie sighed a little, stirred, pushed away her hair with a wan gesture. "You needn't go away on account of me," she said, "I know all about Coburn and Raquel."

"Was her name Raquel?" Eden asked.

"I guess it was Rachel in the beginning. She married a Russian violinist named Russak—they were divorced. Now she wanted to marry Coburn. She thinks he's in love with her."

"So we get to the bottom of that," Gran remarked. "The poor foolish lad—he's got neither the sense nor the judgment to be in love with anybody, and he's got no money. What would he do with a wife? Bring her here for me to wait on!"

"Raquel thinks that Coburn's mother has money," Gracie said.

"She should try to get ten dollars out of her once! But—there I was, standing on my feet for hours on end in the depot—waiting to give the scalawag the last penny I've got on earth to elope with a woman named Rakehell! And he doesn't even show up."

"He wasn't running away with her, Gran—he was running from her. He told me that he wanted to get away and ship south on a boat. He told me that he was sick of the law and had always wanted boats."

"He gets that from my own good-for-nothing feller—God rest him! That restless on land it was like living with a wild, rampaging lion to put up with him. If you know this Raquel woman, Gracie, maybe you know where she lives? I'd go there and give her a bit off the end of my tongue—luring young boys off—a grass widow—hump!"

"I don't believe she lured him off," Eden said. "He was determined to get away from her when he talked to me this morning. Probably he's hiding somewhere. Let's give him a few hours more before we tell mother."

When Bridget came, late and weary, she was too abstracted to be greatly annoyed about Gracie. She was troubled by personal things.

"I waited for Sidney Creighton," she said. "He always comes for me at closing time—but tonight he didn't even phone. I'm furious at him and tired to death, so don't bother me about anything, Edie, till I've had my coffee."

"But, mother, I have to talk to you. Gracie Lincoln is here?"

"And who," Bridget asked indifferently, "is Gracie Lincoln?"

Eden told her story hesitantly, but Bridget was not greatly upset. She said, with weary patience, "Eden, do you have to go into this melodramatic business over your head? The city is full of welfare places and hospitals. And after all—a gangster's widow."

"If you'll only see her, mother," Eden was gentle, "you'll understand. She looks—like me a little. That's why the police held me that morning—they were convinced that I was Gracie Lincoln. She has been the victim of one ghastly thing after another—so when Jack Garnett brought her here—we couldn't turn her away. Please go and speak to her, mother."

"Later, perhaps. Just now I'm not up to it. You're quite sure that Sidney didn't telephone?"

"Quite sure. Mother——" Eden hesitated, "I wish you did not like Sidney Creighton quite so much."

Parents Should Treat Child Like Sensible Being

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

Don't underestimate your child's intelligence. And I mean this—regardless of his age.

The boys and girls who are treated as intelligent human beings develop differently from the ones who only are met on what people think of as the child's level.

You can't put an old head on young shoulders, nor do you want to, and naturally your judgment has to be acute in a matter like this. But what many people think of as a child's level of understanding is far below what their understanding actually is.

If your concern is great over your child's food, clothes, rest, play equipment, and school work—that's as it should be, but don't let it stop there.

Start having sensible little talks with your child. His intelligence will surprise you.

As you do this, he gains little by little the power to express himself in words. The inarticulate child, as well as the inarticulate adult, is at a disadvantage.

As you establish a line of communication with him, and recognize his really great powers of comprehension, you will find that you'll stop thinking of what he does in terms of naughtiness, disobedience, contrariness, largely because you'll have fewer behavior difficulties in the usual sense of the word. He will see you as a human being, rather than a disciplinarian.

Miss Virginia Dawes Will Be Bride Sept. 12

Mrs. Sheppard is leaving in the fall to join her husband, Lieut. Sheppard, who is naval language officer to the British embassy in Tokio, so it is possible that she will pass through Chicago on her way to Japan, but neither she nor her mother nor Mrs. Zazulinski has plans for coming here this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Cudahy Jr. and their two sons left yesterday to spend the rest of the summer at Watch Hill, R. I. Their daughter, Sheila, is spending the summer on a western ranch.

Mrs. Charles S. Dewey Jr., left on Monday to spend two weeks with her grandmother, Mrs. William O. Goodman, at the latter's summer place in Westbrook, Conn.

Mrs. E. Crane Chadbourne Returns to New York State.

Mrs. E. Crane Chadbourne left yesterday for her summer home at Kingston, N. Y. She came to Chicago because of the illness of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Richard T. Crane Jr., who is recuperating satisfactorily from a recent operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Woods Jr. [Louise Brewer] left yesterday to visit his parents on board their yacht. Mr. and Mrs. Woods Sr. are keeping their boat in Lake Superior to be near the camp near Ashland, Wis. that they have for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. John Peale Bent, who were on board the Queen Mary on its first eastward bound passage early in June, have returned after spending a month in England.

Mrs. Louis C. Sudler is coming from Harbor Point just in time to sail for Europe with Mr. Sudler on Saturday, the 25th. They will visit Sweden, Germany, Austria and France, returning after Labor day. While they are away, Mr. Sudler's mother, the senior Mrs. Carroll H. Sudler, will occupy their cottage at Harbor Point, and Mr. Sudler will go up for week-ends.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson L. Barnes, young Mrs. Sudler's parents, have opened their cottage at Harbor Point for the season. This week they are interrupting their stay to motor to Quebec and the Seignory club by way of the Adirondacks and Saranac lake.

Paul Fentresses Will Sail Today.

Mrs. Walter Garritt Smith and Mrs. Calvin Fentress are in New York today to bid Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fentress au revoir. Young Mr. and Mrs. Fentress—she is Mrs. Smith's daughter—are bound for Germany, where he will take part in the Olympic games.

Chicago friends and Harvard classmates of Walter Egan Trevvett will be interested to hear that he has been awarded the Arthur W. Wheelwright fellowship from Harvard and has sailed for Europe with his bride of a year to spend twelve months abroad. Mr. Trevvett has been in Washington working on housing plans.

Mrs. Ralph H. Hobart and her daughters, Miss Virginia and Miss Barbara Hobart, are returning this month from a journey through England and Scotland. Miss Virginia sailed the end of May with Miss Helen Bell, and Mrs. Hobart and Miss Barbara joined her after the latter finished her year at Smith.

The Laird Bells have not heard when Miss Bell is coming home. She, too, is in England now after traveling in Russia and Sweden. The Bells and their other daughters are going to the Huron Mountain club for August.

Mrs. Haldeman Finnie of Detroit is visiting her mother, Mrs. Charles S. Holt, in Lake Forest and will be here until the end of August. Mr. and Mrs. C. McPherson Holt have moved from their own Lake Forest home to the old Holt home, having rented their house to Noble B. Judah. Young Peter Holt is spending the summer at Mrs. Arthur Orr's ranch near Yellowstone.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Faulkner Jr. have gone to Green lake to spend two weeks.

According to CULBERTSON

GARBLED MESSAGES.

Half of the minor tragedies of life, I believe, are caused by ill chosen words—words that do not convey to the listener the true meaning of the speaker. Just so in contract. Players make certain bids on the naive assumption that they are sending an explicit message to partner; the message may indeed be explicit, but diametrically opposite from the bidder's intention.

That was the case in today's hand.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 club	3 spades	Pass	Pass
Pass

I have given the bidding exactly as my correspondent stated it. In explanation of his three spade bid, he wrote:

1. "I, playing South, suspected East's bid of being a psychic, and preempted to shut off communication between opponents, at the same time visualizing game for our side. Was my bid sound? If not what was the proper bid?

2. "Was my partner justified in passing with his strong trump support—one and one-half honor tricks, and opponent's suit well stopped? What should he have bid?"

Referring first to the three spade bid and the explanation thereof, the inconsistency fairly leaps at one. If South "suspected a psychic" why should he fear the opponents "getting together?" Far better to encourage it! With South's bone crusher, including a good holding in opponent's bid suit, there was every reason to urge, rather than dissuade West to "join the party." It must not be understood by this that I indorse South's suspicion of a psychic. I am merely pointing out that if he thought a certain way he should have acted consistently.

Now, as to the other part of his statement that "at the same time he visualized game for his side," I should think he would! But he didn't go about reaching it in the right way. His three spade bid undoubtedly conveyed to partner the idea that he [South] held such a hand as:

♠ A K 10 9 8 7 5, ♥ 6, ♦ Q J 10 4, ♣ 2

This would have been ideal for "shut-out" purposes, containing little defensive strength, but about seven to eight playing tricks.

To express the strength actually held South should have made a take-out double of one club. Even two spades, though a much stronger bid than a preëmptive three spades, would not have done justice to South's hand. True the response to be expected from North was hearts, but there would be no danger in showing the spade suit at a higher level.

As to North being justified in his pass to three spades—it is a close point. Visualizing such a hand as the one suggested above [with which there would be no play for game], obviously a pass was correct. On the other hand, South's holding could be no stronger and yet fit much better, making a game a lay-down. All in all, it was probably unwise for North to "hang" one trick short of game. But the crux of the whole question is that North should not have been given a problem!

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: Must an exposed card be led or played at the first opportunity.

Answer: Yes.

A FRIEND IN NEED

"Dear Miss Brown: About a year ago my husband contracted heart disease, and no longer is able to work. For this reason we have had to go on relief, as we were in straitened circumstances. Our rugs are so completely worn out that they are dangerous to walk on, but our caseworker is unable to help us. We recently moved to a large, stove heated flat, and have almost no furniture. We need dressers and wardrobes for our clothing, as we have no closets. We also are in need of chairs of all kinds.

MRS. M."

Reducing Club Makes Exercise Real Pleasure

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

It isn't too late in the year to form a club to work for a sleeker silhouette. Mona B. and sister think perhaps it is. They had in mind asking their bridge club to join.

Why don't more of you women do as one club formed for reducing purposes did? They chipped in and hired an instructor for one afternoon a week. Not that you can't do a great deal by yourselves, but there is an advantage in having an expert direct you. And besides, being women, if your instructor is of the opposite sex you'll want to show how good you are.

It's never too late to form such a club. But no better time than this very day or week. In the good old summer time, as we have said repeatedly before, you're going to be able to get along on less food.

I would suggest that you arm yourselves with tape measures and use them before you start your course. I am coming to believe more and more in this way of recording weight. I find an inch gone will serve as a stronger impetus to the average woman than three or four pounds. There's something about being able to get into that old dress that is more encouraging than just knowing you've lost a few pounds according to the scale. Women reduce with dress sizes in mind, and the dress size is styled to tape size.

Here's a simple chart by which you may determine what your correct measurements should be. First, determine your bust measurement according to your height. For 5 feet in height it should be 30 inches. For 5 feet 1 inch, 31 inches, and so on. Your waist measurement should be 8 inches less than your ideal bust measurement. Your hip measurement about two inches more than the bust measurement.

Scorns Man Who Resents His Children

BY DORIS BLAKE.

We think there is a great deal of palaver handed out about the importance of the young mother's continued devotion to her husband, at the expense of the babies, if need be. Let's take brokenhearted Vi's case.

Vi married at the age of 22. She was as much in love with her husband as a girl could be, and he was plainly as much in love with her. In the course of events came babe No. 1 in the early part of the second year of their marriage. It was a boy. Daddy was delighted. In due time, along came another infant, another boy.

The father was earning enough to get by on, and to save a little for the country home he and his wife planned. But he's bored with the children already and he resents the fact that his wife gives so much attention to them. He accuses her of caring more for the youngsters than for him and resents the fact that she can't look like the girl he used to escort to dances.

"He keeps nagging that other people married longer than we don't get themselves tied down with children," the wife writes. "Other wives step out with their husbands in smart looking clothes, etc., etc. I can't buy the clothes. I simply haven't the money now that the children have come. I can't leave the children with my parents because they are miles away. I won't use what little savings we have for our future home, or we will never get it. And that's where I want to raise the children, in a home of our own. I can't understand why a man turns on his wife for having children, when it was understood before marriage that we were going to build our married life that way and not like these childless women he now nags me about?"

I wonder if the man ever saw himself in the light in which he is presented above? Or, if he thinks he is one of those martyrs who committed matrimony much too early?

It doesn't matter how he argues. There are his youngsters, and a wife in a thousand, we'd say. One with the right idea about children and a proper environment in which to raise them. How could any sane man point to the childless couples as examples to follow, anyway? And how expect financial miracles out of a modest weekly stipend?

For shame, husband! You're a coward and a quitter. Your harangue about your wife's caring more for the children is like a little boy whining. You're responsible for their being here and needing care and attention, just as much as your wife is. Grow up, little man. Add a few manly cubits to your stature!

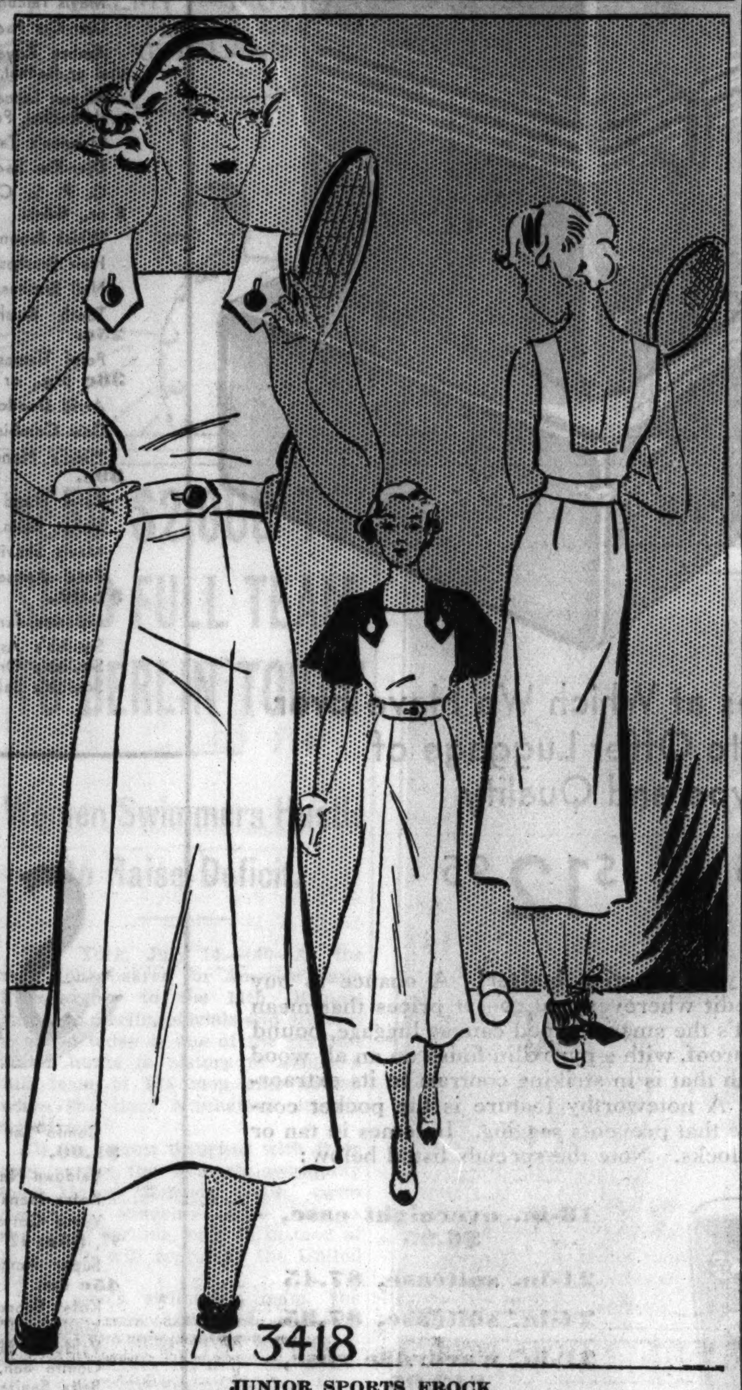
Dashing Yet Conservative



JUNIOR SPORTS FROCK.

This sports dress is dashing and yet conservative. It is ideal for all types of sports activity and the addition of the brief cape converts it into a lovely street outfit for exceedingly hot weather.

The frock is the sun-back variety, with square decolletage. The shoulder straps unbutton and make pressing a simple procedure. The buttons which decorate the straps are matched by one on the belt.

There are no plaits in the skirt. Paneling achieves the desired breadth. The cape, which has distinctive lines, buttons onto the shoulder and falls freely and comfortably over the arms.

Color contrast is an important factor in this sophisticated outfit. The frock should be of a plain color, preferably pastel or white, with the cape of a darker and either harmonizing or contrasting shade. The buttons should match the cape.

Sheer seersucker is a popular medium for this outfit. Striped shirtings in cottons or silk also are popular, in case you want a great deal of color, and cotton crash, shantung, piqué novelties, and linens are likewise effective.

Style No. 3418 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17, and 19 years. Size 15 requires 2¾ yards of 35 inch material for the frock, with ⅝ yard of 35 inch material for the capelet.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Women who realize that the quality of nail polish and of polish remover is vastly important to the health of their nails should make a note of the fact that this month several shops here are proffering a rather exciting beauty bargain in the way of polish remover and polish created by a famous specialist. You can have your choice of a whole flock of shades—and you'll be money ahead.

This house has fine polishes in more than twenty shades. Some of these are definitly exotic and are to be worn only on extra special evening occasions when you want a costume accent on your nails that will make people sit up and take notice. There are iridescent shades, too, that are really beautiful.

What you'll probably be more interested in, though, will be the fashionable, but colorful tints. There are several new ones that are charming with sun tan and one that we, conservative soul that we are, think is beautiful and not the least bit bizarre for the paler hand. This last, called dusty rose, is an ashes of roses shade that is as attractive as it's conservative. Looks perfectly swell with blue costumes.

Those of you who are sun tanned and wish to tune your nail polish to that effect should look up bisque, which is a pale beige with a rosy glow, or shrimp a cloudy salmon shade that is interesting. Rust is a dark, terra cotta red. The London tan craze gets recognition, too, in a most unusual color quite properly described as a flower-pot red.

But you can choose for yourself. What we're interested in having you know is that polish and remover are of the highest quality—and that this is rather a special occasion, since they'll cost you much less than when purchased separately.

Beginner Can Make Perfect Angel Cake

BY MARY MEADE.

Maybe a student of psychology could explain this man's psychosis. He dearly loves angel food cake, but everytime he sees one he is torn between a desire to eat it and a near compulsion to squeeze it to a pulp in his fists!

The only possible cure for this mania, he insists, would be for him to be provided with two lovely cakes, one to eat and one to squeeze!

He won't be satisfied with any second rate cake, either, for he says that a heavy, coarse grained cake simply isn't squeezable!

"Squeezable" or rather high, tender angel and sponge cakes are never the result of guesswork.

Even a beginner can produce a perfect angel or sponge cake if she knows what she's about. First of all, she'll make use of a standard recipe, then she'll follow instructions explicitly, both in mixing and in baking.

Five points to be careful about in making angel food and sponge cakes are: Equipment, flour, eggs, combination of ingredients, and baking:

1. Equipment: Use an ungreased pan, preferably one which has never been greased. Use a standard measuring cup and standard measuring spoons. A cake pan measuring 8¾ inches across the top and 3¼ inches in depth is the right size for a cake using 1 to 1¼ cups of egg whites. A pan 10 inches across by 4 inches deep is best for a larger cake, one using 1½ to 1¾ cups of whites. A 3½ quart capacity bowl is a good size for mixing the cake. A wire egg whisk will be convenient for folding the flour into the eggwhites, or whites and yolks in the case of a sponge cake.

2. Flour. Use cake flour if you want the product to be light. All purpose flour develops too much gluten to produce a light, airy cake, though it may be used if 2 tablespoons of cornstarch are substituted for an equal amount of the flour for every cup. Sift the flour once before measuring and four times afterwards, in order to incorporate as much air as possible. Remember that it's air that makes your cake light, and the more air, the lighter the cake. If you add a little of the sugar in the recipe to the flour and sift them together, less mixing will be needed to add the flour to the egg white.

3. Eggs. Separate the eggs when cold, but let them warm to room temperature before beating, as this gives greater volume and more air.

Eggs several days old are better than day old eggs. Whip the whites until stiff but not dry. They should be glossy. Either overbeating or underbeating will cause your cake to be coarse textured and undersized. Yolks for a sponge cake should be beaten until light, thick, and lemon colored.

4. Combination of ingredients. The meringue method is considered easiest for beginners in making angel food. Sugar is beaten into the egg whites, making a firmer foam than egg white alone. In either angel food or sponge cake it is important to use just as few strokes as possible in combining the flour with the egg whites, or whites and yolks.

5. Baking. Use a temperature of 300 to 325 degrees. Keep the oven door closed, and do not touch the cake until it is thoroughly done or it will be a disappointment.

The Horseshoe Brings Ill Luck to Film Scene

Actor Is Hurt in Leap on Edward Arnold.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., July 14.—[Special.]—They had just begun shooting studio scenes for "Come and Get It," Edna Ferber's story of a lumber dynasty. The action called for Walter Brennan, playing a walking boss, to leap into the air, wrap his spindly legs about the robust torso of Edward Arnold and beat a tattoo against Arnold's head in a whooping demonstration of joy at meeting an old lumberjack friend again.

Lanky, skinny Brennan is playing a red-haired Scandinavian. Arnold is the rough, tough old fellow who forces his way up from the ranks by force of fists, brains and personality. The set was a lumber camp mess hall at United Artists where the Sam Goldwyn pictures are produced.

Director Howard Hawks said "camera." Brennan yelped "Yumpin yiminy" and "jumped" at bulky Arnold. Brennan wrapped his gangling legs around the big fellow but released his body scissors instantly with a different tone in his yelp.

"Holy sassafrass," cried Brennan standing on one foot and massaging the other ankle. "My ankle's broken. What you got on your hip?"

"O!" exclaimed Arnold, apologetically. "Sorry." He fished a horseshoe from one hip pocket. "I always carry this with me for good luck on the first scenes."

"I'll hold it for you," volunteered Director Hawks. "I'm sure it will bring you just as much luck and it will make it much easier for Walter. Now let's have a take."

And the "yumping" scene was shot.

Francis Lederer recently sent bags of cabbages from his San Fernando valley farm to all his personal friends and movie acquaintances. He has followed that act by delivering wicker baskets of big juicy apricots to scores of pals. The baskets bore cards saying: "You thought I was kidding when I threatened to send you samples of my other crops. Well, here are the apricots and next time it will be nuts to you. Francis Lederer."

Ernst Lubitsch has bought one of those typically Lubitsch stories, "The Angel," for Marlene Dietrich when she returns to Hollywood following her Alexander Korda picture in England. It's a picture whose theme requires a lot of deft handling and insinuating of ideas which can't be put on the screen in actual action. The general implication is that all women are angels most of the time, but there are moments when everyone of them doesn't want to be.

In spite of his seventy years Joe Keaton, old vaudeville trouper and father of Buster Keaton, had a fast enough eye and fist and good enough footwork to stop downtown trafic at Seventh and Broadway, Los Angeles' busiest corner, by knocking down two young rowdies. They jostled Keaton, or vice versa, in a curbstone pack of pedestrians and then uttered a distasteful "crack." Keaton challenged them. He dropped one with a right hand smash before a policeman broke through the crowd. The policeman made no arrests and the crowd gave a cheer when Keaton disclosed his identity and described the incident.

Sally Letters Must Be Put in Mail Today

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

We're going to have lots of entertainment at our Stevens Hotel party, boys and girls! Included in the program is a little white dog named Ginger that has been so cleverly trained that he can sing, if you please! We're also going to see a number of talented youngsters who will give a playlet for which real sets will be used on the playroom stage. Georgie Tapps and Countess Emily von Losen, two professional dancers who have entertained people all over the world, will do a special number.

As I told you yesterday, we're going to have games galore, with prizes for the winners, in addition to all the playthings—the slides and trains, and doll houses and things with which you youngsters can entertain yourselves.

Those of you who are interested in billiards will be thrilled to watch Charles Peterson. He'll help you improve your game and will award silver cups to the best boy and the best girl player.

The time is getting short, so if you think you'd like to try for an invitation to this party, you'd better get a move on. Simply write a letter telling me why you think you'd enjoy this party, which will take place on July 23. If you can prove to me that you'll really have a good time, you'll have a good chance to win an invitation because I'm interested in finding the 50 boys and 50 girls who'll have the most fun.

You must each write your letter, and be sure to tell me your full name, address, and age. Letters will be judged tomorrow morning, so don't dilly-dally. Mail that letter today to Sally Joy Brown, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago.

Write your bridge troubles and problems to Ely Culbertson, care of The Tribune, inclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

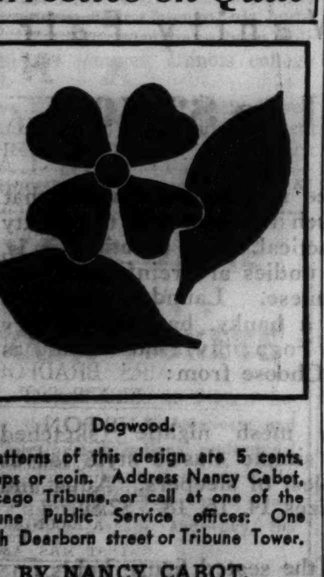
Dogwood Done on Pale Green Is Effective on Quilt



Dogwood.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices: One South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

The delightful blossom known as the Dogwood bloom has formed the design for a great many quilt and embroidery patterns. This is one of the loveliest of the four known "Dogwood" designs. The white flowers are charmingly different against a pale green background. It is not difficult to applique these blossoms and a coverlet composed of forty-two applique blocks, thirty plain blocks, and a border bound with green matching the leaves produces a coverlet 90 by 110 inches.

IMPROVE JOLIET FIELD AS CHICAGO PLANE TERMINAL

WPA Starts Tomorrow on $400,000 Project.

Work will be started tomorrow on a $400,000 project to improve the Joliet municipal airport to make it suitable for use as an alternate air terminal for Chicago, it was announced yesterday by the Works Progress administration of Illinois. Completion of the work, expected within four months, will place the Joliet field in the "airport terminal" classification of the bureau of air commerce.

"Joliet is the logical alternate terminal for Chicago, being just outside the smoke and fog belt, yet near enough for passenger convenience," said Glenn G. Paul, secretary of the Joliet park district.

Planes Require More Room.

"Our airport has been used many times by airliners for emergency landings when bad weather prevented planes from reaching the Chicago terminal. But since airliners have become larger and faster it is imperative that landing facilities be improved and expanded."

The project includes construction of new concrete runways, grading, drainage, and installation of a new lighting system. Work will be under direction of the bureau of air commerce of the United States department of commerce.

The National Aeronautic association, army and air transport engineers of WPA who recently completed the first comprehensive survey of airport requirements in the United States, found that the nation must spend $120,000,000 to bring its facilities up to a par with modern flying equipment.

Jobs for Relief Clients.

Charles E. Miner, deputy WPA state administrator, declared yesterday that the transfer of 9,000 persons from Illinois relief rolls to WPA pay rolls will begin "immediately." The federal quota for WPA employment in Illinois is 160,000, but only 151,000 persons are now at work. Employable relief clients have already been certified for these jobs.

The Illinois Emergency Relief commission is scheduled to vote today whether to authorize the expenditure of $120,000 for a review of WPA rolls. If this is done, it is estimated that 10,000 WPA workers will be discharged as being no longer in "actual need" and their places will be filled by relief clients.

Need $2,500 for Postage.

Leo M. Lyons, city relief commissioner, said yesterday that for the second time this month he must rely upon voluntary contributions to pay postage on food orders now being written for 83,000 Chicago relief families. The amount needed is $2,500. Forty aldermen contributed a like amount to enable mailing of orders for the first half of July.

None of the $855,000 in state funds that is available for city relief the last half of July may be used for postage, salaries, or other administrative expenses. United States Senator James Hamilton Lewis will attempt to confer with Harry L. Hopkins, national Works Progress administrator, in New York today to request federal funds to fill the gap.

Distress of Sick Acute.

The greatest distress is being experienced in those hundreds of relief families where there is illness, because of suspension of payments for medical care, rent, and cooking fuel, according to Joel D. Hunter, general superintendent of the United Charities. These items will be restored on a strict emergency basis within a week. Because no new applications for relief are being accepted, suffering also exists among veterans whose bonus money has been spent, men discharged by WPA, and unemployed whose resources were not exhausted until July, he said.

CLEMENCY PLEA FOR BROTHERS IS HEARD BY BOARD

The state board of pardons and paroles at Springfield yesterday took under advisement a plea of clemency in behalf of Leo V. Brothers, slayer of Alfred Lingle. The plea was made by a former Chicago mayor, but the hearing did not develop new evidence.

The clemency petition, which the former mayor said he supported at the request of Brothers' mother, was opposed by Assistant State's Attorney Leslie V. Curtis of Cook county, who told the board that the law enforcing authorities of Cook county did not wish the 14 year sentence imposed by a jury "to be disturbed simply by speechmaking."

The former mayor declared that Brothers had been framed by an ex-convict and that the testimony on which he was convicted was "idiotic." Attorney Harry Cantwell of St. Louis, one of the Brothers defense lawyers, spoke briefly on legal points involved in the case, all of which have already been passed upon by the Illinois Supreme court. E. R. Cronin, a teamsters' union official of St. Louis, called Brothers "a poor sap, not a gunman nor a gangster."

PENNSYLVANIA RELIEF RIOTERS START HOME; ACCEPT 45 MILLIONS

Harrisburg, Pa., July 14.—[Special.]—Terming the offer "the dirtiest slap ever given the jobless," an army of hunger marchers who had stormed the statehouse today grudgingly accepted the Pennsylvania legislature's compromise appropriation of 45 million dollars for relief.

A demand for 100 million dollars had been made by the hundreds of unemployed men and women who staged a riotous demonstration last night, howling from the statehouse galleries, booing speakers, and holding mass meetings on the steps of the capital.

They insisted that 45 million dollars, spread from now until the end of January, would not assure even a decent standard of living. They pleaded for 64 cents each per day.

Although they had threatened to "stay and fight it out," and to send in fresh delegations every day, the marchers decided to accept the offer and began straggling homeward.

They were cheered by the announcement that checks for relief, shut off eight days ago, were being placed in the mail. Two bills, calling for the transfer of 5 million dollars from special funds for the emergency, were signed by Gov. George H. Earle.

Three million dollars of the amount will be used for the remainder of July.

Gov. Earle returned from a speaking tour in western Pennsylvania, where he had appealed to voters to force the Republican senate to approve his 55 million dollar tax program, to sign the two bills.

Meantime, the senate prepared to rush through the necessary revenue legislation to cover the 45 million dollars relief appropriation which Democratic and Republican senators agreed upon at a midnight session.

CICERO ANSWERS CITY'S SUIT WITH $970,000 CLAIM

Water Overcharge Is Alleged by Suburb.

Charges that Chicago's water rate of 60 cents per 1,000 cubic feet is "illegal, arbitrary and extortionate" were made by the vilage of Cicero yesterday in filing a counterclaim for $970,348 against the city in answer to Chicago's suit for $331,892 for water supplied to the suburb.

The law firm of Markman, Donovan & Sullivan entered the answer and counterclaim before Judge Harry M. Fisher in the Circuit court, in which the city's suit was filed last June 2.

Contracts between the city and the suburbs to which it supplies water leave the rate unfixed but stipulate the charges shall be based on the cost of the water system and shall be legal and just, according to attorneys. City officials contend the rate of 60 cents a thousand feet was computed from the costs of operating, maintaining and financing the system.

New View of Statute.

Cicero's counterclaim, relying on its interpretation of the statute setting up Chicago's water system, figures that a charge of only 16 cents a thousand is "fair and just," and asserts that the $1,419,488 already collected by Chicago during the nine years covered by the disputed $331,892 bill constitutes in fact an overcharge of $970,348—not an arrearage, as Chicago holds.

Cicero, its bill alleges, should have paid only $449,140 for the 2,807,127,000 cubic feet of water purchased. It declares Chicago "wrongfully obtained and is illegally holding" the $970,000.

According to Cicero's attorneys, Chicago deviated from the statute in basing its rate on figures that included water furnished to the board of education and other taxing bodies.

Judge Fisher allowed the city 20 days in which to plead to the counter claim and file its answer, and to reply to a demand that it be enjoined from carrying out alleged threats to shut off the water supply to Cicero.

Fears Economic Consequences.

Martin H. Foss, assistant corporation counsel, said yesterday that if Cicero's counter claim is upheld it would be a severe blow to Chicago's water supply system, inasmuch as the city would be left with no means of collecting its debts from the various suburban municipalities it supplies. Six suburbs now owe the city $680,000 on delinquent water bills.

Elmwood Park's offer to settle its $75,741 water bill for $51,000 [68 per cent] was rejected yesterday by Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works. In defense of Chicago's water rate, Hewitt declared that it is one of the lowest in the United States. He said Chicago charges 8 cents for 1,000 gallons of water, Baltimore and Pittsburgh, 26½ cents, New York, 26 cents, Boston, 24½, and Wilmette, 31.

SUMMERWEIGHT

Openwork Lastex and Cool Lace

$3.95

A well-nigh perfect little all-in-one, practical as well as pretty and designed to give a trim, sleek look to dressier outfits without that "whalebone" feeling. Note the very low back for your sheerest of formals which adds considerably to your comfort in daytime things, too.

The lace bra top gives a decided uplift to the bust; there is a zip opening at the back which makes it no work at all to put on or off.

Small bones are placed in front to give support. All in all, here is an all-in-one that is amazingly efficient and good-looking to be only $3.95.

KNIT UNDIES

Of Airielace Designed by Vanity Fair

$1 to $2.50

Airielace is a lacy silk mesh that seems much too cool and too pretty to be practical. But practical it is, for these undies are reinforced with silk Milanese. Launder them as easily as a hanky, hang up to dry (they dry in a jiffy)—no ironing is needed. Choose from:

A lacy mesh nightie (sketched left). A simple classic style leaves it the coolest of sleepers. Aqua and blush. Sizes 14, 16, 18. $2.50.

Tite Suit (sketched on figure at right). An all-in-one suit that is lastex bound to fit snugly. 32 to 38, $1.75. Matching chemise, 34 to 42, $1.75. Both styles come in blush and white.

MINNESOTA PLAYERS TAKE LEAD IN ALL-STAR POLL

NEW YORK FANS CAST VOTES FOR WESTERN STARS

Riley Smith Popular Pilot Choice.

BY ARCH WARD.

Minnesota is going to town. That became evident when first returns arrived yesterday from Minneapolis in the All-Star football poll, which is being conducted by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and 179 associated newspapers to pick a team of College All-Americans to play the Detroit Lions, world's professional champions, at Soldiers' field the night of Sept. 1.

Six of Minnesota's seven graduating football regulars are leading their positions in the national standings this morning. The seventh ranks third. There is a chance, if the present trend is maintained, that the professional champions will face last year's Minnesota lineup aided here and there by players from Stanford, Notre Dame, Chicago, and Ohio State.

Each of the seven Minnesota players received 5,423 votes yesterday in the poll operated by the Minneapolis Star. Charles Johnson, sports editor of the paper, sent along this message: "This is just the beginning and I am warning you now to get ready for an avalanche from now on, for Gopher boosters have been busy all over the state and the northwest. As for Bierman, he is going over the top, too." Four other newspapers are conducting polls in the Twin Cities.

Broadway Goes Rural.

The Minnesota players who this morning are leading their positions are Dick Smith, tackle; Oech, guard; Rennebohm, center; Seidel, quarter back; Beise, full back, and Roscoe, half back. Le Voir, the seventh Gopher in the race, ranks third among the half backs.

The first returns from New York, where the Herald-Tribune is conducting the poll, show players from the metropolitan district running behind the outlanders. Moscrip and Topping of Stanford and Millner of Notre Dame, ends, have a comfortable lead in the early returns over Train of Yale, Lea of Princeton, and Shuler of the Army, eastern favorites. Smith of Minnesota, who seems to be running ahead everywhere at tackle, has a slight edge on Sarno of Fordham and Spain of Southern Methodist in the New York vote.

Three midwesterners are New York's favorite half backs. They are Berwanger of Chicago and Shakespeare and Pilney of Notre Dame. Barabas of Columbia, who ran around Topping's end for the touchdown that gave his team a victory over Stanford in the 1934 Rose Bowl game, stands sixth among the half backs. Constable, Princeton full back, was the lone easterner to hold first place in the New York returns. His vote was 338 as compared to 321 for Grayson of Stanford on the first day's tabulations.

Smith Leads in New York.

The heaviest vote getter in New York was Riley Smith, Alabama quarter back. Of the first 1,400 ballots counted he received 526, nearly double the number of his nearest competitor, Wally Fromhart of Notre Dame.

Texas players were rallying strong support in the first returns from Dallas. Spain, tackle, and Wilson, half back, from Southern Methodist, were the principal beneficiaries. Berwanger of Chicago, Grayson of Stanford, and Smith of Minnesota also are running well in the exposition city.

Considerable organized effort is being made to put over Bryant and Smith of Alabama and Zarza, Michigan State end. The latter is pulling a big vote in East Chicago, his home town. Petitions also have been rolling in for Munger, Illinois college guard.

Iowa City, where the Daily Iowan is running the poll, is giving local favorites a handsome vote. Dick

COCHRANE OFF TO JOIN TIGERS IN YANK SERIES

Detroit, Mich., July 14.—(AP)—Manager Mickey Cochrane, apparently recovered from the nervous breakdown which forced him to quit his Detroit Tigers more than a month ago, left here for New York today with the prediction that "the Tigers can overhaul the Yankees yet."

Cochrane will not be able to play in the four-game series. Detroit begins in New York tomorrow, but is expected to direct the team from the bench. He is suffering from a sore throat which physicians at Cody, Wyo., diagnosed as a streptococcic infection, and may not be able to take his place in the lineup for some time.

In addition to Cochrane's return, Tiger fans received another bit of encouraging news today with announcement that the cast had been removed from Hank Greenberg's broken wrist and a brace substituted. The big first baseman's wrist was broken in Washington late in April.

NEED $2,000 TO SEND FULL TEAM TO BERLIN TODAY

Women Swimmers Hustle to Raise Deficit.

New York, July 14.—(AP)—As the zero hour neared for America's athletic argosy to the 11th Olympic games in Berlin, officials and athletes engaged today in one of the greatest dollar hunts in history to assure a full team of 384 men and women when the liner Manhattan departs tomorrow.

All the posses returned with their prey except the women's swimming team. Unless Herbert Holm, swim chairman, suddenly runs into a change of fortune, only 14 instead of 18 women will represent the United States.

The men's swimming team, the women's track and field, and the men's hocky team—faced with shortages last night—obviated the necessity for any cuts in personnel by frenzied individual financing. Some obtained bank and personal loans; others parted with hard earned savings.

Track Team Complete.

Dee Boeckmann of St. Louis, coach and manager of the women's track and field team, and her girls set the tempo for the fund raising drive. Ten days ago Miss Boeckmann was told to reduce her squad to four competitors.

"We've got a full team!" Miss Boeckmann informed A. C. Gilbert, chairman of the administration committee, as tears of joy streaked her cheeks. "We're going over 16 strong! A week ago I wouldn't have believed it possible, but the girls did it themselves, God bless them."

The 16th member of the team is Alice Arden, attractive New York high jumper. Until 3 p. m. it appeared as if she was just going to see the boat off. But she came up with a check for $500, realized on contributions.

Too Many Men.

Holm, who is manager of the women swimmers, was sure of financing only ten girls this morning. Then Olive McKean of Seattle received a check for $500 from home and Holm raised another $500, boosting the personnel to twelve. He still is confident of raising the $2,000 necessary to take a full team.

A break against the men's swimming team favored Holm. Robert J. H. [Bob] Kiphuth of Yale, coach of the men's team, learned he had nominated two more men for the 800 meters relay than Olympic regulations allow. The money set aside for those two will be assigned to the women's budget.

An accurate report on the general financial situation was not obtainable from Gustavus T. Kirby, treasurer of the Olympic committee. Advices from his office indicated that the committee still was about $50,000 in arrears, including $25,000 for running expenses and $25,000 to repay a loan from the permanent Olympic association.

Brundage Flies East.

Avery Brundage, president of the American Olympic committee, is scheduled to fly in from Chicago tomorrow morning to assist Capt. Harry Manning of the Manhattan in leading brief sailing ceremonies.

Most of the athletes spent part of the day indulging in light workouts at Columbia university. It was their last chance to practice on terra firma for ten days. The rest of the time they converted American dollars into Nazi marks. Money changers in the Hotel Lincoln, where the team is headquartered, said more than $18,000 had been exchanged by athletes and officials.

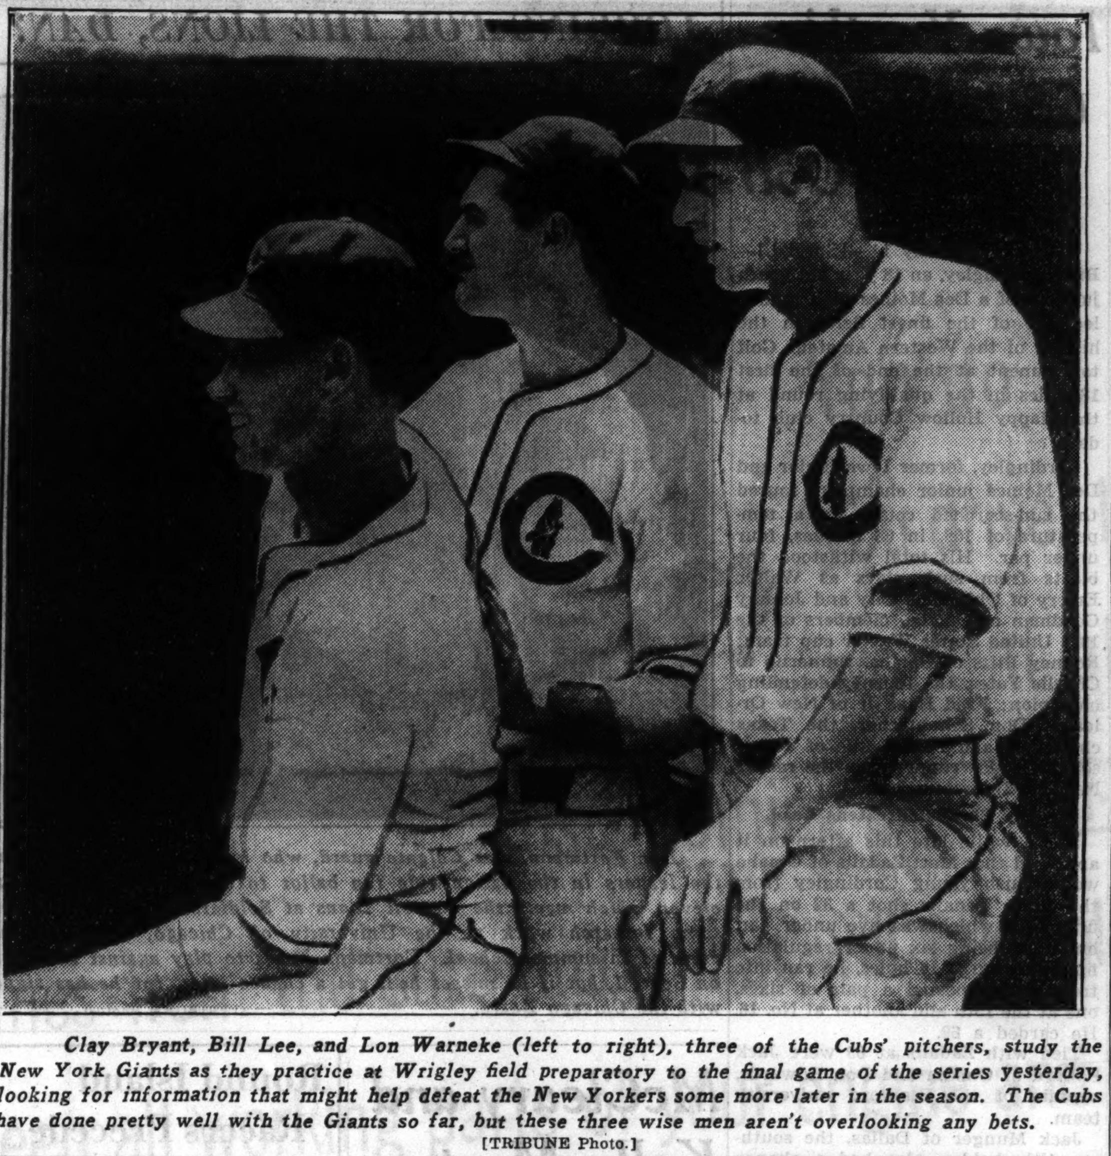
THREE WISE MEN—STUDYING THE ENEMY



Clay Bryant, Bill Lee, and Lon Warneke (left to right), three of the Cubs' pitchers, study the New York Giants as they practice at Wrigley field preparatory to the final game of the series yesterday, looking for information that might help defeat the New Yorkers some more later in the season. The Cubs have done pretty well with the Giants so far, but these three wise men aren't overlooking any bets.

Louis' Sister Denies Making Dope Charge

Reports published in a Chicago afternoon newspaper that Joe Louis had been drugged by a shot in the arm the day of his fight with Max Schmeling were denied vigorously last night by the fighter himself and his managers, John Roxborough and Julian Black.

"There isn't a word of truth in it," Louis said. "I had no shot of any kind except a few hard rights from Schmeling's glove. Somebody apparently is trying to alibi for my defeat. I was whipped fairly and squarely, but I still think I am a better man than Schmeling and I'll prove it before long."

Sister Denies Charge.

Roxborough said: "I was with Joe continuously from the time we left Lakewood the morning of June 18 until after the bout the night of June 19. He had no hypodermic injection. There positively is no truth to the charge that he was tampered with."

Julian Black, from his summer home in Stevensville, Mich., reiterated all that Roxborough said.

Mrs. Eulalie Barrow Gaines, sister of Louis, who is alleged to have declared that Joe told her and his mother he had been doped, said: "There just ain't nothing to it at all, and I never made any such statement."

Blackburn added his denial to the charges.

"Don't know anything about it," the trainer said. "Nobody give Joe any shot in the arm while I was around. It's a lot of baloney."

Joe Says 'Twas Schmeling.

The published reports were based on an affidavit signed by Sheridan A. Bruseaux, a private detective, in which Bruseaux claims he was told by Mrs. Gaines in the presence of three other persons that administering of the hypodermic injection nearly led to physical combat between Blackburn, Louis' trainer, and Manager Black Blackburn, according to the ARLINGTON PARK STAKES.

THE WAKE yesterday expressed opinion that two big added money handicaps drawing names of horses already well known to turf followers would attract more interest and greater volume of speculation than the 2 year old Arlington Futurity and Lassie stakes with contenders not yet so well known to the public.

We preferred to air our views, which we chose to regard as those of the run-of-the-mine race track-goer before asking sponsors of Arlington Park for the policy which dictates the present stake program. We promised, however, to obtain that view point, if possible.

For the purpose we chose John Hertz. Mr. Hertz did not consent to become an officer at the northwest track, but his advice weighs heavily in its councils both because of his experience and because he was the largest individual contributor to the $2,400,000 fund raised when the present management took over the track on a "sport for sport's sake" basis several years ago, with the distinct understanding no dividends ever would be paid on the sum raised.

Substance of—not always verbatim—of Mr. Hertz's reply was: "We welcome all discussions and suggestions, if made in good faith. Perhaps you're right about speculative appeal of handicaps over 2 year old races. Yet look over race tracks, except those ot the winter season, and you'll find more talk of 3 year old stakes and 2 year old stakes; that is, the fixtures, than of the big handicaps. In the winter it is pretty early to send these baby racers a route, hence the appeal of handicaps for older horses, which because of their added money have wide publicity value.

"Arlington Park essays to give Chicago the highest grade racing possible. What is the basis for that highest grade? Is it a few big stakes for which noted performers are shipped in for one performance and then shipped home again? Or is it a program of average higher caliber drawn from horses attracted by liberal daily purses? Turfmen owners prefer the latter, although we try to have both stakes as well as valuable overnight events. Betting, as such, is not the sole consideration of a noncommercial track."

"But why three 2 year old stakes on three Saturdays?" we ventured.

"For Chicago racing we always hope to have leading eastern stables represented," replied Mr. Hertz. "The Whitneys, Mr. Widener, Mr. Vanderbilt, Mr. Woodward, Brookmeade stable, and others, all interested in true sport, have been liberal in nominations and support of our venture.

"Their homes are in the east. It is rather natural for one to wish to see his horses race near home. For big stakes, one might ship without sending a whole string. With Chicago offering the best and most valuable 2 year events in July, however, we are pretty sure to draw these highly bred youngsters. Also will come the best 3 year olds for the Classic.

"With this start it is likely that other notable performers in those stables will come along to race during the full term of our meeting. At least such seemed our experience after trial of a year or so. That, in large part, accounts for the Arlington Futurity and Lassie stakes which draw so many nominations. The Hyde Park stakes is a classic from old Washington Park days."

"In other words, then, you prefer a rounded out meeting with good racing every day instead of three or four standout days?" we suggested.

"That's about it," was the reply.

"In the past you and I both have seen meetings with a great popular feature for one day and the rest of the meeting mediocre. Such conditions still exist at one or two tracks. But I'll say this, let our revenues warant, as I hope they will, and we'll put on a $25,000 or $50,000 handicap for 3 year olds and upward in due time."

The Wake concedes the viewpoint of Arlington Park. We also believe in valuable handicap races for older horses. So we await and welcome the glad day when this Chicago race track shall conduct the most important and most valuable 2 year old, 3 year old, and handicap features of the American turf.

RETAIN FIRST PLACE BEHIND DAVIS' HURLING

Take Series 3 Games to One.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Cubs, a bit transient in earlier tenancy of first place, yesterday gave the current visitation a note of permanency by beating the Giants in the final of the series, 6 to 1. Curt Davis, winning pitcher, went seven innings on the project of giving the Cubs a fourth shutout in six games with the Giants, but eased up for a run in the eighth. He allowed three hits in the first seven innings and four in the last two.

Hal Schumacher, in stretches of the past very poisonous to the Cubs, was the losing pitcher, suffering his second loss of the series in which the Cubs took three games while dropping one. It was his fifth straight setback.

Ah! Some Hits.

The Cubs made thirteen hits in yesterday's entertainment, or eleven more than they made when they mounted to first place in a 1 to 0 spanking accorded the great Carl Hubbell Monday. Augie Galan and Frankie Demaree each whacked three. Stan Hack, Bill Herman, and Bill Jurges made two apiece.

Davis, in winning his ninth victory of the season and his seventh as a Cub, was in trouble only twice. He had to bear down in the second when Leslie doubled and Koenig singled with only one out, and in the eighth when the Giants loaded the bases with none out, a situation from which they eked all their scoring for two days.

The Giants developed the first threat of the game in the second inning. Leslie doubled with one out and stopped at third on Koenig's single to center. Mayo then tapped to Davis and Mancuso, trying to duck a pitch, fouled to O'Dea.

Cubs Go to Work.

The Cubs scored in their half of the second inning. O'Dea led off with a single to center and Demaree beat out a bunt to Leslie. Stainback fanned and Cavarretta forced Demaree. Jurges singled to center, O'Dea scoring and Cavarretta stopping at second. Davis forced Jurges.

The Cubs were not especially elated over the one run they made in the third inning. They had expected to score a hatful of tallies. Hack led off with a single to center and reached third on Herman's hit and run single to left. Galan singled to center, Hack scoring and Herman reaching third. Schumacher threw three wide ones to O'Dea, but when he came in with the first good one Ken tapped into a double play, Herman holding third. Demaree then fouled to Mayo.

It was three up and three down for the Cubs in the fourth and fifth innings, but the lads got busy again in the sixth. Galan opened with a single, advanced on O'Dea's sacrifice, went to third on a wild pitch, and scored on Demaree's single.

More for Champs.

Jurges tapped in front of the plate at the start of the home seventh and was safe at first when Mancuso bounced the ball around too long. Jurges was forced on Davis' attempted sacrifice. Davis reached second on a wild pitch. Then Hack walked. Herman singled to right, but Davis was out at the plate, Ott to Mancuso, Hack reaching third. Galan singled to right for his third straight hit, Hack scoring and Herman reaching third. O'Dea flied to Leiber.

Mancuso opened the eighth with the fourth New York hit, a single to left. Bartell ran for Mancuso and Ripple batted for Schumacher. Ripple walked after a three and two count and Moore singled to right, filling the bases. Demaree came in fast for Whitehead's fly and the runners held their sta-

R. MARTIN'S 146 FIRST IN HY-JINX AT EDGEWATER

Three Tie for Second with Gross of 154.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Russ Martin, a visitor from the south side, disregarded all of the amenities yesterday by shooting a 146 to win the fourteenth annual Hy-Jinx of the Edgewater Golf club, one of the north section's best known invitational parties.

Martin, former runner-up for the western amateur title and currently chairman of the South District Golf league, fashioned himself a 72, two over par, in the morning, and then returned with a 74 in the afternoon. Rated Flossmoor's ablest amateur, he was followed by a threesome of 154 shooters in the gross scoring, including the Rev. J. P. Kiely of Bunker Hill, 75—79—154; Dr. A. O. Young of Park Ridge, 77—77—154, and Hi Fargo Jr., who has exercised a monopoly on the Edgewater club championship in recent years, with 74—80—154.

Field of 125 Plays.

William Brailsford and B. A. Cain of the home club led the net shooters for the full distance with totals of 137. A field of 125 took part in the event.

The cards for Martin's two rounds:

Gets Two Birdies.

On the morning trip Russ was short of the second green three-putted the ninth and tenth. He scored his only bird of the round at the 408 yard twelfth, where he hit a neat spoon shot into the wind, then dropped a fourteen foot side hill putt for the 3. He got another bird at the first afternoon hole by dropping an eight footer, but missed an eight foot chance for another at the third. He needed three putts at the fifth, sixth, and tenth and encountered trap trouble at the twelfth and fifteenth.

GAYER WINS AT OLYMPIA

Eddie Gayer, professional at Twin Orchards Country club, won a leg on the Johnny Touhy cup yesterday at Olympia Fields with a round of 37—33—70, two under par, over No. 1 course. His leading rivals were Fritz Jordon, formerly Illinois Knights of Columbus champion, and Ben Reilly, who tied at 72.

Playing No. 4 course, A. N. Anderson of Medinah and Cy Anderberg, a former professional, deadlocked at 73, while Harold [Mush] March, right winger of the Blackhawks hocky team, led on No. 3 with 37—37—74.

More than 1,000 played in the golf events, while 5,000 attended the dinner. More than 200 prizes were awarded. Mayor Edward Kelly and State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney were present at the banquet.

SUTTER, SMITH ELIMINATED IN EASTERN MEET

New York, July 14.—(AP)—Two upsets marked the fourth day's play in the ninth eastern men's clay court tennis tournament as a heavy rainstorm curtailed the afternoon's competition.

Don McNeil, a freshman at Kenyon college, Gambier, O., eliminated Ernest Sutter, the national intercollegiate champion from Tulane, 6-2, 2-6, 6-4, in his first round match. John Law of Stanford, achieved the other upset by defeating Gene Smith of the University of California, 7-5, 6-3.

Robert Riggs of Los Angeles, and J. Gilbert Hall of South Orange, N. J., advanced to the fourth round with straight set victories. Riggs defeated William Thompson, Brooklyn, 6-2, 6-3, and Hall disposed of Harry Pagel, Jackson Heights, 6-1, 6-2.

LEADING DRIVERS RACE TONIGHT AT RIVERVIEW

Jimmy Snyder, 1936 indoor champion, Marshall Lewis of St. Louis, Art Hartsfeld of Toledo, O., Ted Tetterton, Carl Retersen and twenty other leading drivers are listed to race tonight at Riverview speedway, Addison street near Western avenue.

The 55 lap feature event will be conducted as a sweepstakes in three sections of 10, 15 and 30 laps. Tetterton, who was second to Pat Warren in the 30 lap final last Sunday night, will be Snyder's most formidable rival.

In addition to the sweepstakes the card includes two handicaps at 10 laps, a consolation at 10 laps for non-qualifiers and a popularity race.

Time trials tonight will start at 6:30 o'clock and the first race will be run at 8:30.

Iowa Youth's 68 Leads in Western Golf

Omaha, Neb., July 14.—[Special.]—Billy Cordingley, an 18 year old youth just out of a Des Moines high school, led one of the finest fields in the history of the Western Amateur Golf tournament at the end of the first 18 holes in the qualifying round at the Happy Hollow Country club today.

Cordingley, former Iowa junior and Des Moines junior champion, toured the sun-scorched course in a temperature of 108, in 68 strokes, four under par. His total withstood the blasts from such stars as Walter Emery of Oklahoma City and Johnny Goodman of Omaha, members of the 1936 United States Walker cup team; Rodney Bliss of Omaha, runnerup to Charlie Yates, the tourney defending champion; Fred Haas Jr of New Orleans; Don Schumacher, the Texas champion, and Paul Leslie of Jefferson City, Mo., runnerup in the recent National Intercollegiate.

Omaha Player Threatens Lead.

For a while late this afternoon it appeared that Matt Zadalis of Omaha would push young Cordingley from the lead. Zadalis shot a 32 on the first nine, which was five under par, but after being six under regulation figures through 14 holes, he ran into trouble and posted a pair of sixes, one at the 15th and another at No. 16. He carded a 69.

Tied with Zadalis at 69 were Jack Pollard of Omaha and Don Edwards, captain of the Stanford university team.

Jack Munger of Dallas, the southern title holder, also had a chance to tie or better Cordingley's score. He was five under par through 12 holes, but wound up with a 70.

Lehman Cards 75.

LOOKING FOR THE LIONS, DAN?

Dan Fortmann, star Colgate guard, who is running well up among the leaders in the nation-wide fan ballot to select the All-American eleven which meets the Detroit Lions at Soldiers' field Sept. 1, does some research work at the University of Chicago, where he has enrolled in summer school. Fortmann hopes to play against the Lions on Sept. 1, but if he misses he'll get a chance later, for he has signed with the Chicago Bears.

McCleary and Kelly Meet on Arcadia Card

Pat McCleary, 275 pound Boston wrestler, will meet Pat Kelly, Knoxville, Tenn., and Bill Weidner, Glendale, Cal., light heavyweight, is paired with Stan Buresch in two bouts which feature the show tonight at Arcadia Gardens, 4444 Broadway. Ernie Peterson opposes Nango Singh, Mike Kilonis tackles Red Vagonne, and Rudy Kay meets Jack Kogut. . . . The ten round scrap between Tommy Freeman and Johnny Phagan, scheduled at Northwest stadium tonight, has been canceled by Promoter Sammy Mandell. . . . Leo Lomski, who was paid $270 for his eight round victory over Eddie Boyle at Marigold Gardens Monday, will meet Pal Silvers of Brooklyn, N. Y., in the headline match at the same arena next Monday. . . . Harry Dublinsky, Chicago welterweight, does not intend to fight again until after his management contract with Jack Elle expires in September. . . . Frankie Battaglia, Palmira, Wis., middleweight, plans to fight Fred Henneberry at Sydney or Melbourne, Australia, on Nov. 24 for $4,000. . . . Geno Salvatore, La Salle, Ill., lightweight, intends to accept an offer of 17 per cent of the gate receipts for a ten round encounter with Davey Day at the Marigold arena July 27.

Round Island Racers Precede Mackinac Craft

While 41 sail yachts of cruising and racing divisions compete in the 29th annual Mackinac race, six class C cruising craft will race to Round Island, also under the auspices of the Chicago Yacht club.

Starting and finishing lines for both the Mackinac and Round Island races will be the same. The course distance for each event is 281 nautical or 331 statute miles. The Mackinac fleet will depart from Belmont harbor on Saturday afternoon and the Round Island race fleet will leave Friday at 8 p. m.

Entries for the Round Island race include sloops, a cutter, a yawl and a ketch, all between 25 and 33.9 feet overall. They are:

Anona, yawl, H. E. Stephenson, Milwaukee Y. C.; Yrral, sloop, L. H. Holsinger, Columbia Y. C.; Miss Decision, sloop, William Shanks, Philadelphia, Pa.; Virago, sloop, Joseph Sides, Columbia Y. C.; Tern, cutter, Kenneth R. Ball, Columbia Y. C.; Nomad, sloop, Vuksnic-Harris, Columbia Y. C.

Interest in the Round Island race has been kept up for more than a year by Rear Commodore Kenneth R. Ball of the Columbia Yacht club. It was his 30 footer, Tern, then a yawl, which accompanied the large yachts in the Mackinac race last year. In Tern's crew will be Miss Lilyan Witzel, one of the lake's leading yachtswomen. Miss Witzel was on Tern when it sailed to Mackinac last year.

The skipper of Anona, which hails from Fish Creek, Wis., is H. E. Stephenson, a student at Cornell university.

6 Minnesota Players Lead in U. S. Poll

Crayne is leading Bobby Grayson, 65 to 1, in first returns, and Sheldon Beise of Minnesota, who is leading the full back position in the national standings, drew a blank in Iowa City. Just to show that they have nothing against Minnesota, however, Hawkeye boosters are picking Seidel for quarter back and Smith for tackle. Millner of Notre Dame was the most popular end in the Iowa City ballots. Secl and Gallagher, both of Iowa, had a wide lead at guard.

Name Your Eleven Favorites.

Clarksburg, W. Va., is backing Stydahar, West Virginia tackle, but to show they are not provincial the West Virginians are going along with Grayson and Moscrip of Stanford and Fromhart of Notre Dame. Millner of Notre Dame and Smith and Seidel of Minnesota are high men in the Eau Claire, Wis., poll.

The first ballots cast in the Bloomington, Ill., Pantagraph poll gave Ed Gryboski, Illinois guard, and Kenneth Wilson, McKendree college half back, a long lead over all other candidates. Big Six players, notably Scherer of Nebraska and Sklar of Kansas, are popular in the Fremont, Neb., returns. So are Seidel of Minnesota and Berwanger of Chicago.

The voting for players will continue until July 25. Why not help your favorite players get the thrill of their lives by participating in the starting lineup in Chicago's big charity game? All you have to do is pick the eleven men you would like to see face the Detroit Lions and mail your selections to All-Star Football Editor, CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

MORAWSKI ENTERS RACE

Bloomington, Ill., July 14.—[Special.]—Bill Morawski, co-captain of the 1935 Carbondale Teachers college football team, became the third Little Nineteen athlet in the Chicago Tribune poll of all-Americans to meet the Detroit Lions Sept. 1, when a group of fans announced his candidacy today.

Morawski, a 185 pound lineman, played both guard and tackle at Carbondale. William McAndrew, athletic director, considers Morawski one of the three best linemen at Carbondale during his twenty-one years of coaching.

TWO SOFTBALL GAMES LISTED FOR TONIGHT

Play in the Windy City Softball league continues tonight with a three game card at the Champagne Velvet stadium, Wellington and Ashland avenues.

The Owl Indians and Chick's Tavern teams will be seeking their first victory in two Windy City games. The Owl Indians will face the Edelweiss Beers, who have won three and lost two, in the windup. Chick's Tavern will have as its opposition the second place Division Chevrolets, who have won three out of four games played.

Page would have Center Darrell Lester of Texas Christian, flanked by Gomer Jones of Ohio and Wes Muller of Stanford, at guards. He also advocates the selection of Ernie Nevers, former assistant at Stanford and now head coach at Lafayette; Matty Bell of Southern Methodist and Bernie Bierman of Minnesota for the coaches. He favors Nevers because of his experience playing with and coaching the Chicago Cardinals.

Wes Muller, Stanford, and Gomer Jones, Ohio State, guards.

Darrell Lester, Texas Christian, center.

Bobby Grayson, Stanford, quarter back.

Jay Berwanger, Chicago, full back.

ENGLISH DRIVER ADDS TO RECORDS; ISN'T SATISFIED

Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah, July 14.—(AP)—Capt. George Eyston of London today had broken three score automobile records—every recognized mark from 500 kilometers to 48 hours, but still he was not satisfied.

"I'll be back next summer for an assault on the short distance records," he said.

When Eyston, aided by Relief Driver Bert Denly, also of London, brought the Speed of the Winds to a standstill today, the car had:

Broken other records so numerous American Automobile association officials said final calculations could not be completed for weeks.

Late today Eyston ordered his car crated for shipment to England. He said he planned to sail from New York on the Berengaria July 23.

K. OF C. TOURNEY TODAY

The ninth annual battle for the state Knights of Columbus championship will head today's district golf program, which also is to witness the second round of match play in the women's Cook county and the Midwest amateur tournaments.

More than 1,000 will take part in the Knights of Columbus event at Olympia Fields. Included among the starters in the K. of C. championship flight are Al Andereggen, winner of last year's leg on the Fred B. Snite trophy; Frank Garrity, twice champion; Francis Jordan, Johnny Banks, and Win Day.

Joe Ezar Trails Irish Open Leader by 6 Strokes

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, Ireland, July 14.—Golfdom's globe trotter, Joe Ezar of Waco, Tex., shot a 75 in the opening round of the Irish open tournament today. However, Ezar was six strokes behind William Large of Liverpool. Large's 69 established a new course record.

SENATORS WHIP BROWNS, 13 TO 3; NEAR 2D PLACE

Newsom Pitches His 12th Victory.

Washington, D. C., July 14.—(AP)—Slugging a pair of St. Louis pitchers for 16 hits, the Senators defeated the Browns, 13 to 3, today and moved to within a half game of second place. Buck Newsom, who gave up nine hits but had the game well under control at all times, registered his twelfth victory of the year. Thirteen men went to bat in the third inning when Washington scored nine runs on eight hits, a walk, and two errors. Score:

A'S, 10; TIGERS, 2.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 14.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers lost an opportunity to gain on the league leading Yankees today, falling before the Athletics, 10 to 2. Beaten two straight in the current series, the A's won easily behind Harry Kelley's seven hit pitching and a 13 hit attack of their own off Eldon Auker and Chad Kimsey. The Detroit infield also fell apart committing four errors, two of them by the usually reliable Charley Gehringer at second base.

INDIANS, 5; RED SOX, 1.

Boston, Mass., July 14.—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians knocked the Red Sox out of the American league first division today by clubbing out a 5 to 1 decision behind the combined three hit pitching of Oral Hildebrand and Denny Galehouse. The Indians got to Wes Ferrell for a dozen hits to pull themselves out of fifth place, make a clean sweep of the three game series, run their victory string to four straight and handed the Bostons their fifth setback in a row.

J. MARTIN HITS 2 HOMERS; CARDS BEAT DODGERS

Second Comes with Bases Filled in Ninth.

St. Louis, Mo., July 14.—(AP)—Pepper Martin today accounted for the Cardinals' 11 to 7 victory over the aroused Brooklyn Dodgers. He hit a homer with a mate on base in the fourth to keep the Cardinals in the running, despite a six run Brooklyn surge in the fifth. Then, in the last half of the ninth, with the score tied, he broke up the ball game with another homer, this time with the bases loaded.

Terry Moore, Cardinal center fielder, was put out of action in the fifth inning when a ball batted by Babe Phelps bounced and struck him in the groin. The injury is not expected to keep him out of the lineup long. Score:

PHILLIES, 9; REDS, 8.

Cincinnati, O., July 14.—(AP)—Philadelphia evened the series with Cincinnati at two all today by staging a three run rally in the ninth to defeat the Reds, 9 to 8, before only 747 sweltering fans.

The Phillies took a five run lead in three innings, but the first of two wild throws by Fabian Kowalik, starting pitcher, permitted the Reds to score three times in the third. In the sixth, Kowalik threw wild on Myers' sacrifice, two more Reds tallied and Myers reached third. Joe Bowman relieved Kowalik at this point, but the Reds scored five runs in all to take the lead. Talking It Over

BY ARCH WARD.

[Copyright: 1936: By The Chicago Tribune.]

JOE McCARTHY, Yankee manager who piloted the American league team in the All-Star game at Boston last week, says that if the game is to continue as a battle instead of an exhibition, as originally conceived, the fan poll should be discontinued. . . . If it is to be a one day fight between the best of the two majors, McCarthy believes the teams should be picked by a committee of baseball writers or baseball managers. . . . Which is equivalent to saying that the fans aren's smart enough to do the job. . . . Stupidity of this kind has hindered the development of baseball for years. . . . If the fans want to see Joe Di Maggio in right field, this department contends they ought to see Joe Di Maggio. . . . They have to take what the managers give them all the rest of the year. . . . All-Star day should be one occasion when the customers get what they ask for. . . .

Johnny Sabo, football coach at the University of Vermont, is studying for a doctor of philosophy degree at the University of Iowa. . . . Temperamental Wes Ferrell of the Red Sox recently stopped a game in which he was pitching and informed his manager, Joe Cronin, that he wanted to be removed unless a pitcher in the bull pen was ordered to cease warming up. . . . Tom Robinson of Northwestern university will give up summer swimming courses after this year. . . . He estimates that he has taught 50,000 how to swim. . . . Chris Moritz, Notre Dame reserve football and basketball player, whose nationality is a mixture of Swiss, German, Irish, Jewish, and Scotch, has an ideal summer job, assistant freezer in an ice cream plant. . . . Ted McGrew, the old National league umpire, is managing a country club in Indianapolis. . . . The right name of Al Blanche, Boston Bee pitcher, is Prosper Belangie. . . . The New York Giants will play an exhibition game in Detroit at the conclusion of their current western trip. . . . What has happened to all the white hope tournaments? . . . Wayne Lyon of Iowa State scored 47½ points for his team last spring, competing only in the pole vault. . . .

American leaguers rate Red Rolfe of the Yankees the best hook slide artist in baseball since Ty Cobb. . . . The Nazi minister of propaganda, Dr. Joseph Goebbels, forces the dismissal of all German turf writers who bet on the races. . . . Jock Sutherland, football coach at Pittsburgh, will fly from Berlin to Scotland after the Olympic games to visit his parents. . . . Winning owners during the four day meeting at Ascot in England received cash prizes totaling 70,000 pounds. . . . Boston boxing writers, who were denied preferred positions in the press section of the Louis-Schmeling fight, attempted to have the New York scribes at the Sharkey-Brubaker bout placed on the roof at Fenway park. . . . Ted Livingston, Indiana tackle, is working with a road gang in Kansas. . . .

Ten Years Ago Today—The 15 round bout between Paul Berlenbach and Jack Delaney for the light heavyweight title was postponed on account of rain. . . . Officials of the Army and Naval academies visited Soldiers' field and made arrangements for the coming football game between the two schools. . . . The Boys' Last Stand.

Demaree launched the Cub eighth against Coffman with a single to center and went to second on Stainback's sacrifice. Cavarretta's sharp smash went between Leslie's heels into right field, Demaree scoring. Phil dashed to third on Jurges' single to right. Davis forced Jurges, Cavarretta holding third. Hack singled off Coffman's shins, Cavarretta scoring and Davis stopping at second. Whitehead then threw out Herman.

Leslie opened the ninth with his third and New York's sixth hit, a single to left, and Jackson ran for him. Koenig popped to Jurges, but Mayo singled over second, Jackson stopping at second. Spencer popped to Jurges. George Davis batted for Coffman and struck out.

Carleton to Face Bees in Opener Today

Tex Carleton will pitch this afternoon's Cub opener with the Boston Bees at Wrigley field. He will be opposed by that ancient and sometimes eminently skilled former Cub, Bob Smith.

The Bees, when they won their 39th victory in Pittsburgh Monday, surpassed their victory total of all last year. They moved onto the velvet in their 80th game.

Catcher Wally Stephenson's plane from Los Angeles was late, so the Cubs had to start yesterday's game with one able bodied receiver available.

Mrs. Moody to Make Up Her Mind by End of Week

San Francisco, Cal., July 14.—(AP)—Helen Wills Moody said today that if she decides to try for the American singles tennis championship next month she will open her eastern play in a tournament at East Hampton, N. Y., Aug. 3.

She said she had plenty of time to decide and probably would not make up her mind until after this week-end.

WHITE SOX EYE FIRST DIVISION WITH NEW HOPE

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 14.—The first division bug has resumed buzzing around the ears of the White Sox. They're beginning to suspect they're pretty good and there is sound basis for their pleasant thoughts. Haven't they just won eight of their last eleven battles, a streak which stands as their most noteworthy of the season?

What makes the streak doubly impressive is that it was conducted against three of the stronger teams of the league. In Chicago, before this trip got under way, the Sox clipped the Cleveland Indians on the chin four times in five starts. At Boston, a place where they always have had trouble, they won two out of three. Then they went to New York, the hangout of the murderous first place Yanks, and tightened up the race slightly by taking them down the line twice in three attempts.

Hopes Are Rekindled.

If they can continue the pace in three games here and four in two days at Philadelphia this week-end, they will have put together one of their best road trips of years.

For Dykes' boys to rekindle first division hopes is logical despite the fact they now are anchored in sixth place. The position isn't as bad as it sounds. They are only a few games away from the league's top four and not many more removed from second place.

Kennedy to Pitch.

For the opening of the three game set with the Senators tomorrow Dykes intends to start Vernon Kennedy, who has a neat record of ten victories and four defeats.

Detroit, Mich., July 14.—(AP)—Kaye Don, British sportsman, will drive Horace E. Dodge's Delphine VIII. in the gold cup race at Lake George, N. Y., July 25, Hubert Luker, Dodge's representative here, announced today. Bennett Hill will drive the other Dodge challenger, The Impshi.

ColumbusPark Enters 69 in Tribune Swim

Columbus park probably will hold the record for entries in THE TRIBUNE'S 100 yard swimming races when the final tabulation is completed. It is certain that Columbus park will have the largest representation in the trials which will be conducted this week at Cermak pool Saturday and at Whealan pool Sunday.

Sixty-nine boys have signed for the preliminaries at Cermak pool from the Columbus park district. All have trained at the pool under Robert Perlman, swimming instructor. Irwin Weiner is athletic director for Columbus park.

Still Time to Enter.

Although entries for the trials this week are closed, there still remain three days in which to enroll for the preliminaries at Lincoln park lagoon, July 25. The championship races will be decided the following day at the same place, with qualifiers from all three sectionals competing in the ten races.

Each contestant who has enrolled for the preliminaries this week will receive a post card with instructions. The cards for the Cermak park swimmers will be mailed tomorrow morning. Cards to the Whealan pool swimmers will be placed in the mail either tomorrow afternoon or Friday morning.

Don't Forget Cards.

These cards must be brought to the pool. Contestants will be admitted without charge if they have cards, and by means of this identification swimmers will be placed in the preliminary races. All contestants should report at 1 o'clock. The first event will start approximately at 2 o'clock.

How do I Oil-Plate my engine?

You do it while you drive. It is no work at all, and costs nothing extra. Oil-Plating comes from the sure union that will take place between all working parts of your engine and Conoco Germ Processed Oil—patented. This is the first oil ever especially alloyed so that it does not merely flow on, but plates on! Therefore it does not flow off, letting precious metals scrape and scorch. Instead it keeps them Oil-Plated. And that keeps up the power and oil level, though the thermometer and your speedometer may go up this summer... HEAT FAILS TO UPSET FIGURES OF HANDICAPPERS

Arlington Favorites Keep Up Averages.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Blistering heat that has prevailed at Arlington Park for the last six days has had little effect on the horses running there. Slightly more than 35 per cent of the favorites have won during these six torrid afternoons. The all-American high percentage average for winning favorites over a period of one season was 36 per cent, established in 1935.

Despite the intense heat not an afternoon's card has been run off without at least one favorite getting home in first place. At times the sun beat down so mercilessly that it appeared some horses and jockies would go tumbling into the dirt as a result of their energetic efforts. Nothing like that happened.

Favorites Continue to Win.

The first red hot afternoon at Arlington during the present heat wave came last Wednesday. That afternoon four favorites went past the winning post. On Thursday three first choices scored.

On the next afternoon—that was Friday and truly a scorcher—four more favorites rolled home. On Saturday only one favorite was victorious. On Monday, there was plenty of heat all afternoon, but three favorites found the way home.

Three more favorites romped up to the payoff station yesterday afternoon. The heat was more severe during this racing session than on any other day.

Veterinarians say the heat affects horses about the same way it does humans.

Horses in Good Condition.

"But the horses that are sent into competition at Arlington are nearly all in superb physical condition. They run their race and suffer only after they get back to their barns and try to cool out," said Dr. G. B. McKillip, the state veterinarian who represents the Illinois racing commission at all Chicago tracks. "If the spectators were as physically fit as the horses they hardly would notice the elements."

Two of the stoutest backed favorites to win yesterday were Garden Message, which was rolling up his third straight triumph, and Bartering Kate, owned by Charley Peck of Chicago. They ran as if they didn't care whether a heat wave was on or whether a blizzard was raging.

The best race on the program was the Ramona purse for fillies and mares at six furlongs and the fashionably bred Victorious Ann from Warren Wright's Calumet farm stable was the winner by a length and a quarter after outrunning her fleet rivals almost from start to finish.

This daughter of Victorian-Anne Jordon was making her first start since last fall, yet she stepped out on the track in perfect trim. After reeling off the six furlongs in 1:11 2-5 she wound up the winner by a length and a quarter.

Kentucky Blues Third.

Kentucky Blues finished third and Hal Price Headley's Pelerine, the favorite, wound up in fourth place.

The performance of Victorious Ann was evidence of the ability of her trainer, Bert Williams, to have his charges in winning condition the first time he sends them to the post. Trainer Williams has performed this feat more often than any other conditioner in Chicago this year.

In the early running of the Ramona, Victorious Ann and fleet Slim Rosie ran head and head. On the turn the Wright color bearer smashed her way to the front. That finished Slim Rosie. She dropped back and back all the way down the stretch.

story, opposed the injection, which was said to have been for Louis' high blood pressure. The New York athletic commission's physician declared Louis' blood pressure to be normal. Blackburn was powerless to thwart Black, according to the affidavit.

The hypodermic needle, according to the affidavit's recital of Mrs. Gaines purported expose, made Louis' left arm sore and made it impossible for the boxer to relax it during the fight, thus preventing him from keeping his left hand up. Impairing the effectiveness of the left is given as the reason for Louis' poor showing. Louis and his handlers claim his poor showing was due solely to too much Schmeling.

Promoter Backs Detective.

Eddie Plique, matchmaker for amateur boxing at the Savoy Athletic club, who was one of the three persons in whose presence Mrs. Gaines is alleged to have made the charge, said last night he had heard her make the statement in a room at the Grand hotel. Al Munro, sports editor of the Chicago Defender, another member of the trio in the Grand hotel, said he did not hear Mrs. Gaines say her brother had been given a hypodermic.

Bruseaux, who has been engaged in private detective work for a number of years, informed THE TRIBUNE three weeks ago of various rumors pertaining to the Louis-Schmeling bout and Louis' domestic life. Several of the rumors THE TRIBUNE was able to substantiate and printed. Others, including the alleged doping incident, were found to be without fact.

FIREMEN FACE FLORALS.

The Chicago Firemen's baseball team will invade Shewbridge field Sunday for a double-header with the Duffy Florals.

Time, :23, :47 2-5, 1:00 2-5, 1:07. Two dollar mutuels paid: Sir Midas, $29.40 straight, $13.80 place, $6.20 show; Inscolita, $24.40 place, $7.20 show; Denbigh, $2.80 show. Winner trained by owner. Went to post at 2:20. At post 1 minute. Start good, for all but Albino, from Bahr gate. Won driving, place same.

SIR MIDAS, having speed from the start and saving ground, was placed to pressure after reaching final quarter, briefly gave way to DENBIGH, but held on well, and after regaining the lead in the final fifty yards swerved out badly. INSCOLITA, away well but unable to keep up, came to outside in stretch and closed with good belated speed. DENBIGH forced the pace under occasional light pressure, worked his way into a short lead in the stretch but weakened in the late stages.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Time, :23 1-5, :46 2-5, 1:12 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Kapado, $11.00 straight, $5.80 place, $4.00 show; Miss Ritz, $6.00 place, $4.00 show; Tomye, $4.80 show. Winner trained by S. B. Ott. Went to post at 2:48. At post 1½ minute. Start good, from Bahr gate. Won driving, place same.

KAPADO, a factor from the start, swerved behind the leaders soon after entering the stretch, came with a rush after swinging to outside in the final eighth and was up in the closing stride. MISS RITZ, in hand for a half mile and responding well when called upon, held on with good courage after wearing down TOMYE, but failed to withstand the winner's challenge. TOMYE displayed good speed under a hustling ride but weakened when the real test came.

THIRD RACE—Seven furlongs. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $100; third, $75; fourth, $25.

Time, :23 2-5, :47 1-5, 1:12, 1:24 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Garden Message, $3.40 straight, $2.40 place, $2.20 show; Porcellus, $4.00 place, $2.80 show; Erebus, $2.60 show. Winner trained by owner. Went to post at 3:16. At post half minute. Start good, from permanent stalls. Won handily, place driving.

GARDEN MESSAGE, allowed to remain out of it for almost five-eighths, began to improve his position on stretch turn, responded to punishment in stretch and wearing down PORCELLUS, drew out for a handy win, though pulling up lame. PORCELLUS, on inside throughout, took command under strong riding approaching the stretch, slowly gave way to the winner, but weakened suddenly near the finish and just lasted to outstay EREBUS. Latter, away very slowly and raced wide the final half mile, was racing well when he encountered interference soon after reaching the stretch.

FOURTH RACE—Seven furlongs. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Time, :22 4-5, :46 2-5, 1:11 2-5, 1:24 1-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Bartering Kate, $5.40 straight, $4.00 place, $2.80 show; Dark Zeni, $8.60 place, $6.20 show; Prince Pest, $12.00 show. Winner trained by A. Pelleteri. Went to post at 3:42. At post half minute. Start good, from permanent stalls. Won driving, place same.

BARTERING KATE, well in hand early and quickly placed to strong pressure to escape the possibility of being pocketed leaving the backstretch, took command quickly, and given a short breathing spell soon after reaching the stretch, held on gamely when again placed to vigorous riding in the last sixteenth. DARK ZENI bettered his position fast after a quarter, stood a long drive gamely and outstayed PRINCE PEST. Latter on extreme outside throughout, moved up boldly on stretch turn, then stood an extended drive with good courage.

FIFTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse $1,200. Net value to winner, $850; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Winner trained by B. B. Williams. Went to post at 4:10. At post 1½ minutes. Start bad, from Bahr gate. Won driving, place same.

VICTORIOUS ANN, away very slowly and rushed to the lead on the inside, was taken under mild restraint on the turn and after withstanding SLIM ROSIE'S rally approaching the final eighth, came away steadily but had little left. SLIM ROSIE had speed from the start, was taken in hand on the turn and rallied in the final quarter only to falter in the last sixteenth. KENTUCKY BLUES raced wide, held on courageously.

SIXTH RACE—One mile. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

LOOKABOUT forced the early pace under restraint, slowly worked his way to front under strong handling in the stretch and weakened in the closing strides but lasted. BON CENTIME, on inside throughout and cleverly rated in the early pacemaking, stood a hard drive gamely but was not good enough. MIN ORMONT, forced to race wide, closed stoutly and headed HIGHLAND LANE in the final stride.

SEVENTH RACE—One mile. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $100; third, $75; fourth, $25.

PAPYROGRAPH, reserved off the pace and dropping back slightly as he lost ground on stretch turn, came with determination when straightened out in the final three-sixteenths, and was drawing out fast at the end. STAR BANNER, well in hand for five-eighhs, raced into command easily when called upon but could not withstand the winner and weakened near the end. DEFIER had speed from the start, saved ground the last three-eighths, but could not hold the leaders when the final test came.

REPAID, away in stride was taken under mild reserve early, moved up fast when urged, took command, then held sway to the end. SPARTAN LADY, a strong factor throughout, offered good contention but was not good enough. BALLY WISE improved his position gradually but was no threat for the first two.

3 C. Y. O. Stars Lost for Bouts with New York

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Chicago's Catholic Youth organization boxing team which meets the sixteen best lads from the Catholic Youth association of New York at Soldiers' field next Wednesday night, will be severely handicapped by the loss of three stars. Johnny Brown, Andy Scrivani, and Chester Rutecki, C. Y. O. aces, who sail today from New York on the S. S. Manhattan for Germany and the Olympic games.

Who will take the places of these champions? No one knows, of course, and that's why Coach Paddy Kane has an unusual number of boxers in these weights, 118, 135, and 147 pounds, training at the Lewis Holy Name School of Aeronautics at Lockport, Ill. From these groups will come the boys who will attempt to prove once again that they are superior to New York boxers.

Here's List of Battlers.

The complete list of C. Y. O. boxers, from which will be chosen sixteen to represent Chicago against New York, follows:

112 pounds—Johnny Bittner, Sam Zaczek, Walter Cavaleri, Johnny Noto and Al Noto.

Heavyweights—Al Camber, Tom Kenneally, Joe Howe, and Mike Adler.

Count on Phil Kenneally.

Phil Kenneally, one of the best boxers ever to represent the C. Y. O., is a hope for victory in the middleweight division. Phil has grown considerably in the last year and a half. In 1934 he turned in a brilliant victory in the Golden Gloves intercity matches in Madison Square Garden fighting in the lightweight class. More or less out of competition since, because of his school work, Phil expects to lead the Chicago boys against Manhattan.

Expect Victories With These Boys.

Savior Canadeo, lightweight, and Tony Carlucci, dependable featherweight, and John Hawthorne, who qualified for the Olympic trials in the National A. A. U. tournament at Cleveland, but couldn't compete because of an injury, are other boys on whom Chicago will depend.

Sam Zaczek, who was beaten last summer by George Coyle of the N. Y. A. team, is back for another championship try. Zaczek still hopes to box as a flyweight, but Coyle has advanced to the featherweight division.

Hold Reception Tonight.

Tonight the first of three civic receptions for the New York boys will be held at Hamlin park, Damen and Hoyne avenues. The visitors will be introduced following a concert by the Catholic Youth band, and addresses of welcome will be made by civic and business leaders concluded by an address by Bishop Sheil, sponsor of the C. Y. O.

Granville and Mr. Bones Work Out for Classic

John Hay Whitney's Mr. Bones and William Woodward's Granville, two of the east's Classic stakes candidates, got their first chance to limber up over the Arlington park race course early yesterday morning. They were allowed to take things easy in slow gallops of about two miles.

Jim Healy, Whitney trainer, arrived in time to supervise the work. "Mr. Bones will turn the tables on Granville in the Classic," Trainer Healy declared. Granville beat Mr. Bones by a nose in the Belmont stakes.

Trainer James Fitzsimmons arrived yesterday morning from New York. Jockies Jimmy Stout and Johnny Gilbert also joined the riding colony at Arlington.

Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's horses for the late Arlington stakes are scheduled to arrive today. The leading owner of 1935 has nominated Swiftply for Saturday's Lassie stakes, Airflame, Fluke, Pipe Down, and Savage for the Arlington Futurity, and Discovery and Gallant Mac for the $10,000 Arlington handicap.

BADGES FOR LIFE PLACED ON SALE BY RACE TRACK

The Washington Park race track is offering a number of life memberships. The memberships are nonassessible, nonparticipating and nontransferable. The cost is $220. This gives a member a pair of life time season badges for himself, in addition to six other life time season badges for guests, a total of eight badges. Each badge carries with it the privilege of the lounge, and the special reserved section in the clubhouse.

JAPANESE, FINNS, GERMANS STRONG IN FIELD EVENTS

American Stars to Face Trouble at Berlin.

[This is the second of two stories on American Olympic track and field prospects by the Associated Press sports editor, who has covered the last three Olympic games and will accompany the United States team to Berlin.]

BY ALAN GOULD.

New York, July 14.—(AP)—Although the United States track and field team includes athletes who have broken world records in six of nine field events, including the decathlon, this amazing prowess carries no guarantee of Olympic triumph with it.

The Americans have potential winners in all but the hop, step and jump and the javelin throw, but they will meet sturdy competition right down the line. Japan will furnish outstanding challengers to our jumpers and vaulters, although no son of Nippon has shown himself to be in the same class with Jesse Owens this year. Germany, despite setbacks, has developed potential winners in the shotput, discus, hammer and javelin. Finland and Sweden likely will score well in a number of field events, especially the javelin and discus.

Finns Strong in Javelin.

Finland, which finished 1-2-3 in the 1932 Olympic javelin competition, will not rely entirely on the world record holder and defending champion, Matti Jarvinen. The Finnish ace beat his own world mark recently with a 253 foot throw, but he trailed his countryman, Nikkanen, in the final tryouts. Nikkanen won at 227 feet 1¼ inches, while Jarvinen apparently was content to qualify in second place, at 221 feet, 9½ inches. Germany's Gottfried Wiemann, fourth in the last Olympics, displayed improvement by winning the German tryouts with a mark of 237 feet, Lee Bartlett and Alton Terry, the best American prospects, have bettered 223 and 226 feet, respectively, this year.

Jack Torrance, Louisiana's world record holding shotputter, will have to stage a big comeback if he hopes to beat European rivals. Torrance, handicapped by a sore shoulder, has had trouble hitting 52 feet all year. Sulo Baerlund topped Finland's tryouts at 52 feet 3 inches. Hans Woelike of Germany tossed the weight 52 feet ¼ inch in his final test but has bettered 54 feet.

Japan's Chuhei Nambu, listed world record holder in both broad jump and hop, step, and jump, will not be an Olympic competitor, but Japan is stronger than ever in the events requiring agility.

Japan Is Formidable.

Two 14 foot pole vaulters, Suyeo Oye and Shuhei Nishida, the latter runner-up in 1932, will challenge the Southern California trio of Bill Graber, Earle Meadows, and Bill Sefton. Oye did 14.3 in the tryouts and is credited with an informal mark of 14.6. Nishida did 14 1½ in the last Olympics.

America's record shattering high jumpers, Cornelius Johnson and Dave Albritton, dominate this specialty but Japan has two athletes who have bettered 6 feet 7 inches. Finland's veteran, Kaleri Kotkas, served notice of his challenge by clearing 6 feet 7 15-16 inches in the final tryouts.

Japan has concentrated so much on the hop, step, and jump, which it won in 1928 and 1932, that the Nipponese have neglected the broad jump. Germany, however, may furnish a rival for Owens in Lutz Long, who won the Teuton tryouts at 25 7⅞.

Kenkicki Oshima, the Japanese captain, appears to have only Australia's Jack Metcalfe to worry about in the triple jump. Both have bettered the world record, with marks of 51 feet 10⅛ inches and 51 feet 9¾ inches, respectively. Masao Harada has done 51 feet 8 inches. The trio of American entries from Louisiana may be lucky to score at Berlin.

Watch German Star.

The main menace to our trio of hammer hurling New Englanders, Hank Dreyer, Bill Rowe, and Don Favor, seems to be the German star, Erich Hein. In the final tryouts Hein achieved 178 feet ¼ inch, a mark that only Dreyer has bettered. The two time Olympic champion, Dr. Patrick O'Callaghan of Ireland, is not slated to defend the title but the veteran Finn, Porhola, may be back.

America's discus tossers, led by Slinger Dunn and Ken Carpenter, were off form in the final tryouts but can take encouragement from latest foreign reports. Sweden's Harald Andersson, the record holder, and Germany's Willi Schroeder, who claims a new world mark of 174 feet 2⅜ inches, disappointed their followers in the tryouts. Schroeder's best measured 160 feet 9 inches.

In the decathlon, it is expected Finland's Akilles Jarvinen, runner-up to Jim Bausch at Los Angeles, will be foremost among the Berlin rivals of the American champion, Morris.

Hay Funeral Services Will Be Held Today

Frankfort, Ky., July 14.—[Special.]—Funeral services for C. W. [Judge] Hay, general manager of the Hawthorne race track near Chicago and San Antonio, Tex., course, will be held here tomorrow afternoon. Hay, who was 56 years old, died last night following a heart attack as he left a movie theater in Louisville.

STOCKS SPURT TO BEST LEVELS IN FIVE YEARS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—Sweeping through their old resistance points, stocks listed on the big board today staged a broad advance that netted gains of 1 to 3 points in the general list and sent the industrial averages soaring to the highest figures attained since 1931.

Held in check in the early dealings by backwardness in the steels and motors, stocks attained their best prices of the day with a powerful spurt in the final hour. The rise in prices was accompanied by more active trading with sales for the session totaling 1,659,630 shares.

Norfolk and Western, the subject of split-up rumors and larger dividend talk, stole the show as it drove ahead for a gain of 21 points. It reached 300 at one time, but was knocked down a peg and closed at 299.

Other Rails Advance.

Other rail shares moved higher on the average, with Union Pacific and Atchison registering a gain of a point or more. Chesapeake and Ohio set another new high on a gain of less than a point.

American Telephone and Telegraph advanced 4 points as a leading statistical agency estimated that the full quarterly dividend of $2.25 was being earned for the first time in five years. Later the shares sold off a fraction of a point, closing at 172⅝, a net gain of 3⅜ points.

Market observers attributed the rise to renewed buying for outside account and nervous demand from short interests. The rank and file of the speculative fraternity was also reported to be impressed by the action of the market in recovering from the late spell of weakness in the preceding session and enough buying power was generated in late dealings to build up bullish sentiment in virtually every section of the list.

Many Reach New Highs.

Many stocks reached new high prices for the year and longer, with blue chip issues as well as lower priced shares being in demand.

Even the steels and motor shares, laggards at the start of the session, leaped on the band wagon. Chrysler put on a finishing sprint that carried it into new high territory and brought it a gain for the session of 2 points. General Motors moved in a narrow range, but closed with a good fractional gain.

Though not very active, United States Steel moved up 1½ points and Bethlehem did as well. National Steel, Inland, Continental, and Youngstown gained fractions to 2 points. Federated leaped to a new high on a gain of 3 points.

Allied Chemical was one of the strongest of the high class investment issues, chalking up a gain of more than 2 points and coming within a fraction of its high mark for the year. Westinghouse was another to set a new high. American Can, Columbia Carbon, and Philip Morris were other buoyant spots.

Utilities in Demand.

Utilities shares were not neglected today and contained several strong spots, including Public Service preferred issues, American Water Works, and Consolidated Edison, which climbed to another new high.

Oils and metals received favorable attention. The farm implement shares, favorites in the previous session, quieted down somewhat, as did the mail orders.

Rail equipments followed the lead of their customers and accessories were higher. Merchandising shares did little to attract attention. Coppers were strong.

2 PHONE FIRMS VOTE IDENTICAL PFD. DIVIDENDS

By coincidence two companies, controled by the same holding concern but otherwise unrelated, yesterday announced dividends of 49 cents a share on their 7 per cent preferred stocks. Both payments also were the first to be made since 1932.

The companies are the Associated Telephone and Telegraph company, which has 18 subsidiaries, operating, manufacturing, and selling telephone equipment—all foreign except the Automatic Electric company, Chicago—and the Telephone Bond and Share company, which controls a number of telephone operating companies in the middle west. Both are controled by Theodore Gary & Co. of Kansas City, Mo. Associated Telephone also voted 42 cents on the $6 preferred and Telephone Bond and Share declared 21 cents on the $3 preferred.

The drouth of 1893 was a prolonged one. Barring one wet night in July, the heart of the wheat belt lacked rain for 103 days. Precipitation was sub-normal in May, July, August, September and October. August was the driest summer month in weather bureau archives. The wheat harvest fell to 396 million bushels from 515 million bushels the year before and 611 million in 1891. It was the smallest crop since Garfield was shot. But the farmers did not have the same happy experience selling their grain as they had in '81, when the price rise more than off-set the crop failure and the farmers collected more for the little crop than they had for the big one of 1880. In 1893 both multipliers went sour: the crop was small and the price was smaller. Cash wheat, which had sold as high as 88 cents in April, fell to 54 cents just after "Black Wednesday" (July 26). The panic had frightened all and busted many speculators. There was not enough speculation to take up the wheat as it came to market, with the result that when the movement of even the light harvest reached a peak, prices weakened.

The panic which had kept farmers from realizing prices commensurate with a crop failure, was a money panic. The silver purchase bill of 1890, by which 4.5 million ounces of the white metal were purchased monthly, hadn't succeeded in keeping up silver, but had driven out gold. The treasury stock of gold fell from 321 million dollars June 30, 1890, to 95 million dollars, two years later. Failure of a leading railroad weakened sentiment and the discovery of shenanigan in the stock market (National Cord fell from 138 to 7, when it was discovered that though a dividend of 12 per cent had just been paid, it was insolvent), started a market panic. Ensued, bank runs, failures, unemployment, the repeal of silver purchase and slight recovery. But in an industrial crisis, farmers got little per bushel of wheat, even though there was little of it.

MILWAUKEE AVENUE NATIONAL TO RETIRE $3,000 OF RFC STOCK

Directors of the Milwaukee Avenue National bank yesterday voted to retire $3,000 of the $50,000 in preferred stock held by the Reconstruction Finance corporation on Aug. 1, subject to approval by the RFC, and at the same time declared a 2 per cent stock dividend to common stockholders. Several other Chicago banks recently voted retirement of RFC stock.

Under the agreement between the bank and the RFC the bank would have been required to pay off $2,875 of the preferred on Aug. 1.

H. S. French, president, pointed out last night that this is the first of the new banks in this area to declare a stock dividend. This 2 per cent dividend, or $3,000 on the $150,000 par value of common stock, will maintain capitalization at $200,000. In addition, directors yesterday approved the transfer of $10,000 to surplus and $10,000 to contingent reserves.

TWO FURNITURE SHOWS ATTENDED BY 14,867 BUYERS

Buyer registration for the National Furniture show here reached 7,300 at the Merchandise Mart and 7,567 at the American Furniture Mart, according to announcements made last night.

At the same time the National Retail Furniture association announced that retail sales during the first half of this year increased 16 per cent over those for the first six months of 1935. The survey also showed that furniture recorded a larger gain for the period than for retail goods generally.

"This situation is largely due to the fact that there is a greater backlog of deferred furniture purchases than exists along other lines," said B. F. McLain of Dallas, Tex., president of the association. "It is reasonable," he continued, "to expect that the last half of 1936 will see a continuance of the prosperity which marked the first six months.

"However, among the barriers to be encountered are higher taxes, increased overhead through social security costs, a trend toward shorter hours and higher wages, and troublesome legislative regulations."

LIFE INSURANCE SALES INCREASE FOR 4TH MONTH

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—Production of New Life Insurance rose 11 per cent in June, the fourth consecutive month to show an increase from the corresponding month of the preceding year.

New business written by forty-two companies having 83 per cent of the total life insurance outstanding in all United States legal reserve companies was $774,123,000, against $697,471,000 in June, 1935, according to a report of the Association of Life Insurance presidents to the United States department of commerce.

All classes contributed to the increase. New ordinary insurance, showing a monthly gain for the first time this year, amounted to $498,695,000, against $451,983,000.

Abbott Labs. Vote a 200% Stock 'Melon'

Stockholders of Abbott Laboratories, pharmaceutical manufacturers, yesterday approved the plan of increasing the authorized capital stock from 200,000 to 1,000,000 shares and issuing two additional shares for each share held to stockholders of record July 21. The balance of 400,000 shares will be held in the treasury and used for expansion and other purposes as the directors may decide, according to a statement issued at the close of the meeting.

It was reliably reported that rights for the purchase of additional stock will be issued to stockholders at a later date, the basis for issuance depending upon earnings. The company's intention is to distribute a larger portion of earnings among stockholders, and consequently avoid the new federal tax on undistributed earnings.

Dividend Raised in April.

The company's stock is now on a dividend basis of 75 cents quarterly, having been raised from 50 cents on April 1. In addition, the company has paid extras of 45 cents so far this year—25 cents on Jan. 2, and 10 cents each on April 1 and July 1.

The dividend basis for the new stock will be determined at a meeting of directors on Aug. 20, when action is to be taken on the Oct. 1 payment. On the current basis, after the splitup, quarterly payments would amount to 25 cents a share.

It was learned yesterday that sales for the first six months of this year rose 20 per cent over those for the first half of 1935. Earnings, after estimated taxes and other charges, will show a corresponding gain, it was also reported.

Net earnings in 1935 at $1,136,000, or $5.68 a share on 200,000 shares, were the largest in the company's history, and compared with $897,000, or $6.19 a share on 150,000 shares, in 1934. Last November a 33 1-3 per cent stock dividend was distributed.

Sanford Mills Doubles Rates.

Sanford Mills, manufacturer of fabrics, announced a semi-annual dividend of $2 on the capital stock, payable July 20. The payment raises the annual dividend basis to $4 from $2.

The New York Air Brake company yesterday resumed dividends on the common stock with declaration of a 50 cent disbursement, payable Sept. 1 to stock of record Aug. 12. The company has made no payment since the 25 cents paid Aug. 1, 1931.

A. Hollander & Son, fur firm, declared two extra dividends of 12½ cents each and two regular quarterly dividends of 12½ cents each on the common stock. One extra and one regular are payable Aug. 14 and the others are payable Nov. 16.

An extra dividend of 37½ cents was declared by the Procter & Gamble company, manufacturer of soap, together with the regular quarterly dividend of 37½ cents, both payable Aug. 15.

The General Development company, mine exploration and developing enterprise, declared a dividend of 50 cents on the common stock, payable July 20. The last previous payment was 20 cents in December, 1935.

The New York and Honduras Rosario Mining company, with properties in Central America, declared an extra dividend of 50 cents and a regular quarterly dividend of 25 cents, both payable July 31.

AMERICAN TELEPHONE REPORTED EARNING FULL DIVIDEND RATE

Boston, Mass.. July 14.—[Special.]—The Boston News bureau said today it understood that the American Telephone and Telegraph company is at present earning at the rate of the full $9 dividend on its 18,622,000 shares of stock for the first time since 1930. The publication added that rumors are current the report soon to issued for the three months period to June 30 will indicate earnings for the quarter in excess of the $2.25 dividend requirement.

Three months ago American Telephone made an interim report on a basis different from its practice of years. It covered the twelve months to March 31, 1936, and showed $6.97 a share for the parent company, excluding the company's proportion of the undivided profits or deficits of subsidiary companies. The Bell system consolidated report for the twelve months ended Feb. 29, 1936 showed net equal to $7.42 a share on American Telephone stock.

"Continued gains in stations, combined with the fact that operating report of the parent company to the I. C. C. showed net operating income of $9,311,219 for the five months to May 31, against $6,325,449 for the same period a year previous tends to support the statement in well informed circles that the company's earnings have at last reached a point where they cover dividend requirements" the news bureau said.

"It should be borne in mind, however, that within the last few days two of the important Bell associated companies—New York and Michigan—have consented to rate reductions involving substantial sums."

LEAK IN DECREE SEEN AS INSULL BONDS ADVANCE

Seek to Learn Who Got Profits.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Inquiries were being made yesterday, it was learned, to determine the identity of the persons who had profited on their purchases of debentures of Insull Utility Investments, Inc., made prior to the issuance Monday by the Circuit Court of Appeals in New York of the decision affecting the securities.

HARRY A. BIGELOW [Moffett Photo.]

The price of the debentures advanced sharply in the over-the-counter market prior to the decision of the court. The ruling furnishes the first real basis of hope that the holders of the $55,000,000, face value, of debentures will get some salvage on their investment.

Creditors of the concern yesterday were endeavoring to find out who had the sagacity to buy the debentures before the decision became public.

Report Inquiry By Trustee.

It was also reported that Harry A. Bigelow, trustee in bankruptcy for the firm, was making his own inquiry. Charles H. Hamill, attorney for Trustee Bigelow, declined to comment on the matter.

"Your opinion is as good as mine," Hamill said when asked if there had been a "leak" on the decision.

On June 15 the debentures were quoted at 2 cents on the dollar. They had advanced to approximately 5 cents on the dollar by July 6 and were quoted at 7½ cents on the dollar last Saturday prior to the release of the court's decision. On Monday, the day the ruling was announced, the debentures sold as high as 9 cents on the dollar, or more than four times the market price quoted four weeks earlier.

The Appeals court reversed the ruling of Federal District Judge Julian W. Mack, who had dismissed the suit of a bondholder of Insull Utility Investments.

Claims of Banks Questioned.

The bondholder's suit questioned the prior claim of five New York banks to collateral pledged by the company as security for loans. The suit sought the recovery of the assets held by the banks on the grounds that they had been improperly pledged and the debenture holders should share pro rata with the banks in the proceeds of the liquidation.

The Appeals court made no final ruling on the validity of the banks' claim to the collateral but remanded the case to the lower court for certain findings of fact.

The debenture holders based their case in part on a restrictive clause in the covenant under which the securities were issued which prevented Insull Utility from pledging its assets except in the "ordinary course of business."

Loans Further Restricted.

A further restrictive clause in the covenant said the company could not pledge it assets for additional loans from banks or others unless the debentures were ratably secured.

The Appeals court said: "From our study of the record now before us, we are of the opinion that the court below should pass on the questions where the loans were made in the ordinary course of business; whether the banks had knowledge of the restrictive covenants in the bond indentures.

"The order will direct the district court to make findings on these controversial issues. The parties will then be heard on all the questions presented by the appeal."

Only the New York bank creditors of the trust are involved in the present case. The outcome, however, will have an important bearing on similar cases pending here against the Chicago bank creditors.

Bank Loans About 24 Millions.

Total bank loans of the company were approximately $24,000,000 against which it had pledged practically all its marketable assets. When the company was placed in receivership in April, 1932, the only assets the company still had in its possession for payment of the $55,000,000 of debentures consisted of securities of the "cat-and-dog" variety which it had been unable to pawn at the banks. The claims of the debenture holders were at one time regarded as worthless and could not be sold on the market for any price.

Chicago Bankers Surprised by Reserve Board's Action

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Chicago bankers, including officials of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, were caught by surprise last night by the federal reserve board's sudden action in increasing required "legal" reserves of member banks 50 per cent.

Despite publication in THE TRIBUNE recently of a dispatch from its Washington bureau forecasting the board's action, bankers here were of the opinion that no such step would be taken before the election in November because of the possible adverse effects that it might have on the treasury's "easy money" program.

No Difficulty for Banks Here.

"Chicago banks will have no difficulty in meeting the order to increase by 50 per cent that portion of their deposits which is pledged with the Federal Reserve system," said a representative of one of the city's largest banks, "but we are at a loss to account for the board's taking the action at this time."

Informed of the move by press dispatches last night after they had left their offices, bankers kept the telephone wires humming conferring upon possible ramifications of the latest attempt to tighten the reserve requirements.

Analyze Effects of Order.

1. That boosting the reserve requirement 50 per cent would still leave the reserve board far from regaining control of the money market, for after the boost there would still be nearly 2 billion dollars of idle bank funds free from earmark—2 billions that might be put to speculative use at any time.

2. That technically the move would not threaten to undermine the stock market or the bond market—but that temporarily the suddenness of the board's action might have a depressing effect psychologically, because uncertainty and surprises are not conducive to market strength.

3. That the board's action seemed to betray a lack of coördination between the reserve board and other government agencies, such as the treasury and the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

4. That, although the nation's banks as a whole have plenty of excess funds, many individual banks are not in a position to comply with the board's order without raising additional cash by the calling of loans or the selling of investments. This is believed to apply to many small country banks and is expected to precipitate some selling of government bonds by such institutions.

Although many noted bankers throughout the country, including Chairman Winthrop W. Aldrich, of New York's Chase National, have been urging for months that the reserve board take this action, even the proponents of boosting reserve requirements have held little hope that anything would be done before the November election.

Doubt Eccles' View of Control.

Eccles' inference that the 50 per cent increase in reserve requirements would clear up the problem of excess bank reserves sufficiently to enable the twelve Federal Reserve banks to do the rest of the job by "open market" operations was received with incredulity by Chicago bankers. "Open market" operations mean the sale or purchase of government bonds by the reserve banks.

Only by selling bonds to member banks could the reserve banks sponge up more of the member banks' idle funds. Chicago bankers doubted that the reserve banks would dare sell any of their 2 billion 400 millions of "governments" because the treasury dares not risk a break in the market that such selling would probably cause.

Recall Reserve Board Statement.

One Chicago banker pointed out that only a few months ago the reserve board's official bulletin reported that there were 1,100 banks in the reserve system which could not put up even 25 per cent additional reserves without liquidating some of their assets to provide the necessary cash.

Other bankers said they were puzzled by the reserve board's attempt to tighten the money market occurring just when the Reconstruction Finance corporation is announcing the public offering of 150 millions of securities of the Commodity Credit corporation.

REMINGTON RAND REPORTS 21.4 PCT. GAIN IN SALES

New York, July 14.—(AP)—An increase of 21.4 per cent in sales in the three months ended with June over the comparable period last year was reported today by Remington Rand, Inc., after the annual shareholders meeting had been adjourned until July 27 for lack of a quorum.

Sales for the period were announced by James H. Rand Jr., the president, as totaling $10,049,000, compared with $8,254,000 in the 1935 months. Rand pointed out sales had increased in spite of labor difficulties in the company's plants and that its unfilled orders were the largest since 1929. June bookings, he added, increased more than 30 per cent over the 1935 figure.

FEDERAL BOARD REQUIRES BANKS RAISE RESERVES

Fear Use of Credit in Speculation.

Washington, D. C., July 14.—The board of governors of the federal reserve system, admitting the danger of "injurious credit expansion" based on the huge volume of excess reserves, today increased the reserve requirements of its 6,300 member banks by 50 per cent. The action will become effective Aug. 15.

M. S. ECCLES.

By increasing the reserve requirements and automatically draining idle funds from the nation's credit reservoir, it was estimated that $1,450,000,000 would be taken from the excess reserves, which are now approximately three billion dollars, an all-time peak. Excess reserves are the funds held by member banks on deposits with the federal reserve banks in excess of the amounts required by law.

Debate Effect on Stock Market.

Announcement of the board's vote was made tonight by Chairman Marriner S. Eccles, a "spending for prosperity" theorist, who handed out a statement of the board's views, saying it spoke for itself. He was asked whether the action, which would tighten credit conditions, might not cause a psychological flurry in the stock market.

"It should not affect the market at all," he replied bluntly.

In the opinion of observers, the action would not have been taken if the treasury was planning another heavy borrowing in September, an undertaking that would boost the public debt and furnish further ammunition for the Republican campaign in attacking the New Deal's colossal spending program.

In order to load more bonds and notes on the banks, already over burdened with government securities, the treasury will require the easiest possible money conditions to prevail.

Treasury Has Big Balance.

The treasury has a cash balance of 2 billions 360 millions, resulting from the heaviest peace time borrowing in history in June and additional 50 million dollar weekly flotations of bills for the soldiers' bonus.

Other political significance seen in the board's move was that if the excess reserves continued to rise and spilled over into a wave of speculation, it might prove embarrassing to President Roosevelt in the face of his public utterances to "drive the money changers from the temple."

The announcement of the reserve governors said the excess reserves had resulted almost entirely from the

PELLEY ASSAILS BURDENS PLACED ON RAILROADS

Lauds Carriers for Gains Under Handicaps.

The railroads have demonstrated their ability to progress with America, despite the handicap of government interference, J. J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, said yesterday in an address before the Rotary club at the Hotel Sherman.

Pelley spoke in connection with the observance of "Railroad Week," inaugurated by the western carriers and being celebrated with programs in more than 500 cities and towns hroughout the west and middle west.

Regulated by Government.

"Like every other business in America," Pelley said, "we have to contend with conditions not entirely of our own making and not entirely within our control," Pelley said. "In our particular case results are effected by public policy to a greater degree, perhaps, than in the case of most industries.

"We have had a longer and more intensive experience with competition by government, direct and indirect, than most of you in private business. We have had to a greater degree than most of you regulation of our operations, our financing, our prices, and almost every other detail of our business at the hands of public authority.

Assails Federal Subsidies.

"Government subsidy which results in uneconomic diversion of tonnage from the efficient, self-supporting, tax paying railroads to competing agencies of transportain, which can only exist on government bounty cannot be considered good economics, or sound business.

"Legislative requirements, which increase the cost of operation without adding anything to safety, service, or revenues, are in the long run of no good for the railroads, the men who run them or the customers who use them."

Pelley declared that the transportation coördination act was a deterrent to the coördination of facilities and services because of its labor provisions.

Canadian Railway Official to Retire from Post Here

R. L. Burnap, executive assistant at Chicago for the Grand Trunk-Canadian National Railways, will retire from the service of the system today, S. J. Hungerford, president of the Canadian National, announced yesterday. Burnap, who is a native of Vermont, came to Chicago as executive assistant in 1933.

FEDERAL BOARD REQUIRES BANKS RAISE RESERVES

Fear Undue Use of Credit in Speculation.

Hold Excess Reserves Not Needed.

"The part of the excess reserves thus eliminated," said the reserve governors, "is superfluous for all present or prospective needs of commerce, industry, and agriculture and can be absorbed at this time without affecting money rates and without restrictive influence upon member banks, practically all of which now have far more than sufficient reserves and balances with other banks to meet the increases.

"Furthermore, by this action the remaining volume of excess reserves, which will still be larger than at any time in the system's history prior to the recent large inflow of gold, is brought within the scope of control by the federal open market committee."

By this the board meant that it could sell a part or all of the government securities in the system's portfolio, now totaling $2,430,000,000, which action would have the effect of mopping up the idle funds.

How Reserves Are Increased.

The increases in reserve requirements are as follows: On demand deposits at banks in central reserve cities [Chicago and New York], from 13 to 19½ per cent; at banks in reserve cities, from 10 to 15 per cent, and at "country" banks, from 7 to 10½ per cent; on time deposits at all banks, from 3 to 4½ per cent.

Total reserve deposits of member banks at present are 5 billion 900 million dollars, of which 2 billion 900 million are required reserves and 3 billions are excess reserves.

On the basis of present trends, it was estimated the total reserves are likely to increase by as much as 400 millions before the increase in requirements goes into effect, bringing total reserves to 6 billion 300 million by Aug. 15.

Bonus Funds Flow to Banks.

The board estimated that its action would increase required reserves by 1 billion 450 million dollars, or from 2 billion 900 millions to 4 billion 350 millions. The increase in reserves, expected to continue up to Aug. 15, is almost entirely due to the filtering back into the banks of New Deal easy money and the soldiers' bonus.

Central reserve city banks	*3,000	†1,500	‡1,500	†2,250	‡750
Reserve city banks	*2,200	†950	‡1,250	†1,400	‡800
Country banks	*1,100	†450	‡650	†700	‡400

‡Excess reserves.

"The portion of existing excess reserves, which will be absorbed by the board's action," explained the reserve governors, "if permitted to become the basis of a tenfold or even larger expansion of bank credit, would create an injurious credit expansion.

"It is for this reason that the board decided to lock up this part of the present volume of member bank reserves as a measure of prevention on the one hand and of further encouragement to sound business recovery and confidence in the long term investment market on the other hand.

Holds Time Is Opportune.

"The present is an opportune time for the adoption of such a measure. While there is now no excessive credit expansion, since the excess reserves have not been utilized, later action when some member banks may have expanded their loans and investments and utilized their excess reserves might involve the risk of bringing about a severe liquidation and of starting a deflationary cycle.

"It is far better to sterilize a part of these superfluous reserves while they are still unused, than to permit a credit structure to be erected upon them and then to withdraw the foundation of the structure."

The governors said thorough surveys had shown that the reserves were so well distributed that practically all member banks are in a position to meet the increased requirements either by utilizing their excess balances with the reserve banks or by drawing upon their balances with correspondent banks.

The board, however, said that frequent changes in the reserve requirements of member banks should be avoided because they affect all banks regardless of their reserve position.

GRAINS DECLINE WHEN WEATHER OUTLOOK GAINS

Showers in Northwest; Corn Belt Hopeful.

Prices of grain declined on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday as weather conditions continue to dominate the action of the markets. Reports indicating showers in parts of the northwest and the forecast saying the record heat wave would be broken in the corn belt today or tomorrow more than offset reports of damage to small grains in Canada and of deterioration in corn, and prices moved lower.

All minor upturns yesterday met with commission house selling, while hedging pressure in wheat was persistent. The latter closed with net losses of 1⅛ to 1⅝ cents, while corn was off over 2 cents, oats about 1½ cents, and rye 1 cent. Kansas City and Minneapolis wheat futures averaged about 2 cents lower and Winnipeg was off a major fraction.

Expect Lower Temperatures.

No rain was reported in the corn belt up to the time trading ceased on the Chicago Board of Trade, but private weather map readers expressed confidence lower temperatures would prevail over the main producing areas by tomorrow which, it was believed, would check the rapid deterioration that is reported as having set in.

There were a number of fairly persistent sellers of wheat futures yesterday, and pit brokers asserted that the hedging pressure was somewhat too heavy for the market to absorb readily. There was a good rally at one time in sympathy with the relative strength in Winnipeg and on reports indicating the basis on cash wheat at Kansas City had advanced ½ to 1 cent per bushel relative to the September delivery. At Omaha the basis was 2 cents higher, which was regarded by the trade as somewhat surprising in view of the heavy receipts.

Grain Arrivals Heavier.

Tuesday's arrivals of cash grain at primary points are normally the smallest of the week, but the twelve leading markets yesterday reported arrivals of 3,455,000 bushels, or nearly 1,000,000 bushels in excess of a week ago. In the same week last year 925,000 bushels arrived.

A downward revision in the estimated yield of small grains in the northwest is now regarded by the trade as inevitable. The Monarch Elevator company, Minneapolis, which has 119 elevators in southwestern Minnesota, eastern South Dakota, the southern and northern Red river valley, James river and Devils lake region, and on the Missouri river slope, said sixty-one stations reported a practical crop failure and fifty-eight points claimed one-half to two-thirds of a normal crop.

September Closing Prices.

Closing prices on the September delivery of leading grains, with comparisons, follow:

	Yesterday.	Monday.	Week ago.	Month ago.
Wheat	$1.02¼	$1.03⅞	$1.05⅝	$.89⅝
Corn	.80	.82	.77⅞	.59¾
Oats	.37⅛	.38⅝	.37⅝	.26¾
Rye	[illegible]	.70	.71⅛	.58⅛

Owing to the rapid deterioration of pastures there has been an active demand for various feeds of late. According to the bureau of agricultural economics the price of mill feeds, such as bran, has advanced $3 to $4 per ton in the last week, while high protein feeds range from $2.25 to $4.50 a ton higher. Linseed meal has advanced $4.50 per ton. Soy beans continue in good demand, with sales of No. 3 yellow yesterday at $1.20, a new high on this grade for the season. Early in June they sold at 84½ cents per bushel.

Reports from Many Centers Tell of Damage to Corn Crops

Numerous reports of damage to the corn crop in the leading producing states were received yesterday. Following are excerpts from messages received by Chicago commission houses from representative points:

Kewanee, Ill.—Numerous reports of corn firing; 30 to 75 per cent of crop burning up.

Oklahoma City, Okla.—Estimated 50 per cent of corn acreage in Oklahoma will be a failure.

St. Louis, Mo.—Complaints on corn will come in if heat lasts a few days more.

Springfield, Ill.—Talked via phone to thirty leading elevator operators in district covering 100 miles south and west. All gave reports of damage to corn.

Terre Haute, Ind.—Corn going back fast under this scorching heat. Must have rain within forty-eight hours.

Carroll, Ia.—Numerous reports estimate corn has been damaged 25 to 30 per cent, even though it rains at once.

Speculative interest in the grain markets, as indicated by the volume of daily sales of futures on the Chicago Board of Trade, is the heaviest since July, 1933, when an inflationary scare lifted prices in a violent manner. According to records of the Grain Futures administration, sales of all grains so far this month have averaged 74,134,000 bushels daily, compared with 33,491,000 bushels daily in June. In July, 1935, the average was 46,265,000 bushels, and in July, 1394, 36,858,000 bushels. During the speculative movement in July, 1933, the daily average was swelled to 116,258,000 bushels. The heaviest trading since the latter period was in August, 1934, when the daily turnover averaged 67,489,000 bushels.

While numerous points in the Canadian northwest have received rain in the last few days, the average precipitation in Manitoba and Saskatchewan from May 15 to July 13 has been well below that for the corresponding periods in 1935 and 1934. Average rainfall per station in Manitoba during the last month has been 3.87 inches, compared with 6.66 inches last year and 3.93 inches in 1934. Saskatchewan has averaged 3.01 inches, or 1.78 inches less than in 1935 and 2.23 inches under the same period in 1934. Alberta has averaged 3.28 inches during the last month. Last year Alberta's average was 2.82 inches and in 1934 it was 6.02 inches.

Intense heat and inadequate rainfall have taken a disastrous toll of farm crops throughout the prairie provinces and most of Ontario, according to the Canadian government weekly telegraphic crop summary, which was issued late yesterday. Crop prospects have suffered a marked reduction during the last two weeks and unless immediate relief comes in the form of abundant rainfall, large areas will be completely wiped out.

Should rain come in time, decided improvement would result, particularly in the feed situation. Serious feed shortages are now assured in parts of the western provinces and yields of spring grains will be much below normal. In large areas in southern and southwestern Saskatchewan there is little hope of a commercial crop.

Grasshoppers in a large part of North Dakota and Montana are invading towns, eating the lawns, there being no green vegetables left outside of the lawns in the areas affected, said a report from the Occident Elevator company of Minneapolis. The weather is even too severe for the hoppers and they are dying by millions.

CATTLE ALLEYS CLOSED EARLIER BECAUSE OF HEAT

Corn Fed Steers Sell at Steady Prices.

An emergency ruling adopted by the board of directors of the Chicago Live Stock exchange closed trading in the cattle alleys at 1 o'clock yesterday, two hours ahead of the usual closing time, because of the extreme heat. The change was made to get cattle sold and moved out of the hot sun as rapidly as possible. Stock not disposed of before 1 o'clock was sheltered under docks and in open sheds to be held for today's trade.

Should the heat wave continue commission men intend to stop trading at the earlier hour the rest of the week as a precautionary measure. No changes were made in the trading hours for either hogs or sheep, since the pens in the hog and sheep divisions are not open to the direct rays of the sun.

Take Extra Precautions.

Extra precautions taken by live stock handlers on the railroads and in the yards in watering and caring for live stock have held animal mortality extremely low in Chicago during the current heat wave, whereas death losses in live stock on farms have been so great that rendering plants in some sections have been unable to take care of all the dead.

Corn fed steers brought mostly steady prices, but the burdensome supply of grassy stock, both steers and butcher stock, sold weak to lower again, some classes sinking to new lows for the season. Top steers reached $8.85, the bulk of beef steers selling at $7 to $8.25, although common drouth steers lacking flesh ranged down to $3.75 to $4.75. Beef cows met a stagnant trade, severe price cuts in beef from this class of cattle affecting the market at the yards. Sales showed 25 to 50 cents loss compared with last Thursday.

Canners and cutters were steady to slightly lower, selling at from $2.50 to $3.90. Calves declined 25 to 35 cents more.

Hogs Firm at Close.

The hog market opened steady to 15 cents lower, better grades of light and medium weight butchers showing the decline, but the bulk of trading later was strong, with the average of Monday. Top sales of selected lights at $10.35 showed 15 cents loss, being lowest since June 18 and 80 cents under the peak of last week, but the average for the session held steady at $9.15. Some late sales of sows were actually slightly higher than the close on Monday, and the general undercurrent was stronger.

Lambs dipped 25 to 50 cents more, the packer top at $10 showing a 90 cent loss in two days. City butchers bought a few up to $10.25. Aged ewes ruled weak to unevenly lower, the best offered selling at $4.25. Yearling breeding ewes averaging 107 pounds sold at $7.75.

$1,070,000

Atlantic Joint Stock Land Bank
(Raleigh, North Carolina)

Five-year 3% Farm Loan Bonds

Dated August 1, 1936 Due August 1, 1941

Principal and interest (February 1 and August 1) payable at the offices of the bank, at the Wachovia Bank & Trust Company, Winston-Salem, North Carolina, or at the American National Bank & Trust Company, Chicago, Illinois. Coupon bonds in denominations of $1,000. Redeemable at par on August 1, 1938, or any interest date thereafter at the option of the bank.

The Atlantic Joint Stock Land Bank was chartered (June 6, 1922) under the Federal Farm Loan Act to operate in North Carolina and South Carolina; the bulk of the bank's assets (86.8%) being in North Carolina.

North Carolina, twenty-seventh state in size and twelfth in population, ranks third in the nation in value of crops—being exceeded only by Texas and California—and was sixth in gross income from crops and livestock products combined in 1933, according to the United States Department of Agriculture's Yearbook of Agriculture, 1935. According to the North Carolina Board of Conservation and Development the State's 12 leading money crops brought a total of $353,445,682 in 1934. Eleven crops exceeded the million-dollar figure. Soils and farming conditions are suitable for a wide diversification of crops.

SECURITY—This issue of bonds and all other outstanding issues of the bank are equally secured by deposit with the Federal Registrar, as custodian for the United States Government, of collateral consisting of first mortgages on improved farm lands and/or cash or government bonds, as provided in the Federal Farm Loan Act, equal in amount to the total of all outstanding bonds.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE—The proceeds of the sale of these bonds will be used to retire an equal amount of 5% bonds, being all of the bonds remaining outstanding of its issues dated February 1, 1925 and February 1, 1926.

LEGAL FOR TRUST AND OTHER FUNDS—The Federal Farm Loan Act provides that the bonds shall be lawful investments for all fiduciary and trust funds under the jurisdiction of the United States Government. Under the laws of most states, the bonds are eligible for the investment of trust funds and also for investment by savings banks.

ACCEPTABLE BY TREASURY—These bonds are acceptable by the United States Treasury as security for Government deposits, including Postal Savings Funds.

MANAGEMENT—This bank, as well as the Greensboro Joint Stock Land Bank of Greensboro, Raleigh, North Carolina, is under the management of Irving F. Hall, President; widely regarded as one of the outstanding farm mortgage bankers. Through the consolidation in the managements of these banks, substantial economies are effected.

TAX EXEMPTION—The Supreme Court of the United States has upheld the constitutionality of the Act creating Joint Stock Land Banks and exempting their obligations from Federal, State, Municipal and Local taxation, including Federal income surtaxes.

These bonds are being offered when, as and if issued and approved by the Farm Credit Administration. Statement of financial condition as of July 1, 1936, as furnished us by the bank, may be obtained upon request.

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—The main body of listed bonds was responsive to a broad demand today on the New York Stock exchange, with virtually all classes of domestic issues, including secondary as well as high grade investments, participating in the general upswing.

Market leadership among the corporate loans was shared by railroad and public utility liens, many of which were carried up several points on a fair volume. Total transactions today expanded to $13,468,000, the heaviest turnover in several weeks, as compared with $10,389,700 on Monday.

U. S. Securities Gain.

United States government obligations, as a group, moved forward rather briskly, with gains of 1 to 4-32 point shown at the close. The treasury 2⅞s of 1955-'60, the 2¾s of 1945-'47, and the 2⅝s of 1951-'54 were all carried to new high marks since their dates of issue during the trading. Activity was centered in the home owners loan 2¾s of 1939-'49, which closed up 3-32 at 101 20-32.

Fractional to 3 point advances ruled over a broad list of the lower priced railroad liens, while similar gains were recorded in selected utility loans. Industrials, as a group, were less responsive to the demand, but maintained a firm undertone. The combined price average for the domestic corporate list rose 0.26 point on the day.

Alleghany Issues Decline.

Three issues of Alleghany corporation 5s, which have run up briskly in the last week along with Chesapeake corporation bonds, fell back sharply under profit taking. Losses ranged from 1⅞ to 3¾ points. Other issues losing fractionally included International Hydro-Electric 6s, New York Central 5s, International Telephone 5s and Abitibi Power 5s.

With the exception of a sharp rally of 4 to 5 points in Uruguay bonds, trading in foreign dollar obligations was featureless as prices moved irregularly within narrow limits.

INVESTORS' GUIDE

P. Lorillard.

Investors' Guide: Please give me a report on Lorillard tobacco products.—G. M. D.

Answer: P. Lorillard company manufactures a wide line of tobacco products, the best known of which is Old Gold cigaret. Aggressive promotion since its introduction in 1926 has made Old Gold the fourth most popular cigaret, but its sales do not compare with those of the "big three."

Other tobacco products still constitute the more important division of the Lorillard company's business. It makes more than half the little cigars in the United States, including Between the Acts. This line has suffered from competition with five cent cigars and the increased popularity of cigarets. Lorillard also produces cigars selling from 2 for 5 cents to 2 for 25 cents. Sales of smoking tobacco have increased in recent years. The company also makes fine cut and plug chewing tobaccos and Turkish cigarets.

Business slumped badly for four years after 1925, but recovered sharply only to run afoul of the general falling off of cigaret and tobacco sales in 1932 and 1933.

Net income dropped from $4,846,000 or $2.12 per common share in 1931 to $4,556,000 or $2.02 per share in 1932, and $2,380,000 or 89 cents per share in 1933. Sales picked up sharply in 1934, gains being only partly offset by higher labor and material costs. Net in that year was $2,833,000 or $1.15 per share.

Cigaret sales again improved materially in 1935, but had it not been for a return of more than $1,000,000 in processing taxes, net income would was $3,054,000, or $1.25 a share.

Business was reported considerably improved the first few months of this year and a better earnings response from increased sales is indicated because of the removal of the processing tax and a slightly stronger price structure to offset more of the increased costs.

At the end of 1935, the company had $13,192,250 of debentures outstanding, compared with $22,000,000 six years earlier. Retirements have consistently reduced interest charges. Outstanding 7 per cent preferred stock has been cut from 113,000 to 98,000 shares since the end of 1932.

The 1,871,805 common shares appear to be of fairly good grade. The preferred stock and debentures are high grade.

BIG NOTE ISSUE C. & O. RAILWAY OFFERED TODAY

Interest Will Range from ⅝ to 2⅞ Per Cent.

A syndicate headed by Morgan Stanley & Co. today will offer a new issue of $15,300,000 serial notes of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway company, according to an announcement issued last night.

The notes will mature $1,530,000 annually from 1937 to 1946, and are priced at 100 and accrued interest for all maturities. Interest will range from ⅝ to 2⅞ per cent, according to maturity. Proceeds will be used to refund a like amount of 4 per cent equipment notes of 1934 at par on Sept. 1.

Brown, Harriman & Co. will offer today a new issue of $500,000 in 2¼ and 3 per cent road bonds of the state of West Virginia at prices to yield from 0.40 to about 2.35 per cent, according to rate and maturity.

Offer Joint Stock Land Bonds.

Two offerings will be made today of joint stock land bank bonds by syndicates headed by Robinson & Co., Inc., Chicago. In both cases the issues are five year 3 per cent farm loan bonds, due Aug. 1, 1941, and are priced at par and interest to yield 3 per cent. The issues consist of $1,070,000 in the Atlantic Joint Stock Land bank, Raleigh, N. C., and $460,000 in the Greensboro Joint Stock Land bank, Raleigh, N. C. The proceeds will be used in both cases to retire equal amounts of 5 per cent bonds.

The Bell Aircraft corporation announced plans for a refinancing program whereby $500,000 will be added to working capital through exchanging present preferred and common stock for new common, all of one class, with an authorized total of 250,000 shares. A special stockholders meeting has been called for July 20 to vote upon the proposal.

Offer Iowa Utility Bonds.

Offering will be made today by a banking group headed by A. C. Allyn & Co. of $9,000,000 first mortgage 4 per cent bonds, due 1966, and of $1,500,000 of serial debentures, series A, of the Sioux City Gas and Electric company, Sioux City, Ia.

The first mortgage 4s will be priced at 98½ and accrued interest, while the debentures will be priced variously according to maturity and interest rate, plus accrued interest from July 1, 1936, at 100 to 101. The debentures mature serially from July 1, 1937, to July 1, 1946, with the 1937 through 1941 maturities carrying a 3 per cent interest rate, and the 1942 through 1946 maturities a 5 per cent interest rate.

Other Offerings Planned.

Northwest Publications, Inc., in an amendment filed with the Securities and Exchange commission said that its $4,200,000 in 4½ per cent debentures will be offered at 100, probably on July 17. Lehman Brothers and the Wells Dickey company head the underwriters. Consolidated Retail Stores, Inc., changed the proposed offering date of its securities to Oct. 5.

A banking group consisting of Lehman Brothers, Dean Witter & Co., and Schwabacker & Co. yesterday announced the purchase of unsubscribed shares of Paraffine Companies, Inc., 4 per cent cumulative convertible preferred stock, recently offered to common stockholders in the amount of 23,804 shares.

CHICAGO STOCKS CONTINUE RISE; TRADE EXPANDS

Prices on the Chicago Stock exchange continued on the upgrade yesterday, including sharp advances for a number of issues, and volume jumped from 33,000 shares on Monday to 45,000 shares yesterday. There were 108 issues traded, of which 58 advanced, 19 declined and 31 closed unchanged.

Among the notable gains for the day were 3 points in Commonwealth Edison, 2½ in A. M. Castle, 2 in American Public Service preferred, Borg-Warner, Compressed Industrial Gases, and McGraw Electric, and 1 point in Bendix Aviation. Abbott Laboratories gained ⅝ point to close at 131, after selling at 131½, or within ¼ point of the 1936 peak. Chicago corporation was the most active issue, accounting for a turnover of 3,800 shares, but closed unchanged at 4½.

The exchange announced that 213,000 shares of Consolidated Biscuit company common stock will be admitted to trading today.

BUTTER, EGG, AND POTATO PRICES ALL SHOW DECLINES

Reports of purchases of foreign butter for immediate shipment to this country, the forecast for unsettled and cooler weather, and the government report showing a smaller shortage than was expected in cold storage holdings, compared with last year, caused a decline of ¾ cent in the November butter delivery on the Mercantile exchange yesterday. The close was ⅝ cent lower at 33¾ cents per pound, or 1 cent under the recent high. The cash butter market was easier.

October eggs were off ¼ cent at 25⅝ cents per pound. Prospects of better conditions was a factor. This was also true in potato futures which closed 3 cents lower at $2.07 per 100 pounds. Sales of butter futures aggregated 172 cars; eggs, 90 cars, and potatoes, 11 cars. Prices follow:

COTTON ADVANCES EARLY ONLY TO REACT AT CLOSE

Cotton futures fluctuated erratically within a range of around 75 cents per bale yesterday. After an early advance in sympathy with better than expected cables from Liverpool, futures reacted later in expectation that the government weekly weather crop summary would report improvement in the crop outlook during the last week.

Closing trades in leading markets were unchanged to 5 points higher. [A point is equal to 1-100 cent.] Domestic consumption of cotton in June, as reported by the census bureau was 556,000 bales, compared with 501,000 bales in May and with 384,000 bales last year. For the last eleven months consumption has been 5,736,000 bales, against 4,970,000 bales during the corresponding period last year.

Spot cotton closed 5 points higher with New Orleans 13.15 cents; Houston and Galveston, 13.25 cents, and New York at 13.55 cents per pound. Prices follow:

LARD PRICE DROPS; SPREAD WITH WHEAT IS CLOSED

Lard futures declined as much as 30 cents yesterday as the result of pressure attributed to closing a spread with wheat. While the finish was on a moderate rally from the inside figures, net losses were 22½ to 25 cents on the active deliveries. Clear bellies [salt pork] closed nominally 20 to 37½ cents lower. Cash lard was quoted at $10.47½; loose, $10.10; leaf, $10, and clear bellies at $12.75 per 100 pounds. Prices per 100 pounds follow:

1936 TO BE BEST YEAR SINCE 1930, AYRES EXPECTS

L. P. AYRES.

This promises to be the best business year since 1930, and possibly since 1929, Col. Leonard P. Ayres, vice president of the Cleveland Trust company, said in the institution's business bulletin issued yesterday. Business is expected to do as well in the second half of this year as in the first half, despite the prospective disputes of the political campaign, the looming possibilities of labor difficulties, and the drouth, Ayres asserted.

"Production is now back to the levels of early 1930," he said. "The output of iron and steel has increased until it has almost caught up with the volume of all other sorts of industrial production."

Durable Goods Gain.

"The activity of business and the volume of industrial production have been much more nearly constant during last year and so far this year than in any previous part of the depression period," Ayres continued. "A major factor in this increased steadiness of industry has been the well sustained employment among the factory workers making durable goods, including machinery, furniture, much household equipment, and passenger automobiles and trucks."

Concerning the iron and steel industry, particularly, Ayres asserted that it now seems sure that this year the industry will operate at a profit, which will be the second profitable year after four years of substantial losses.

Phones and Autos in Demand.

"As the general recovery continues to develop it is becoming increasingly clear that among the things which the American public regards as necessities of life there must be included telephones and automobiles," he said in taking up another phase of the recovery period.

"The depression drop in automobiles amounted to 10 per cent. That in telephones in use was a little more than 17 per cent. These are considerable decreases, but they are astonishingly moderate as compared to the decrease in national income, which amounted to more than 43 per cent."

From 1933 to 1936 the gain in automobiles used amounted to about 108 per cent of the depression losses, telephones have regained 40 per cent of depression losses, while national income has recovered some 42 per cent of the depression decline.

INVESTING FIRMS REPORT UPTURNS IN ASSET VALUES

New York, July 14.—(AP)—Investment companies reporting today for the six month period ending June 30 included:

Tri-Continental corporation, net assets of $51,701,741, equivalent to $21,016 for each $1,000 of debentures, $195 a share of preferred stock and $9.87 a share of common stock. On Dec. 31 the net assets were $49,478,544, equivalent, after allowing for the debentures then outstanding, to $171.50 a share of preferred stock and $7.67 a share of common stock.

Selected Industries, Inc., net assets of $45,613,512, a coverage of $126.14 a share for the $5.50 prior stock and $22.27 a share for the $1.50 convertible stock outstanding. On Dec. 31, 1935, net assets were $43,174,763, a coverage of $113.91 a share of prior stock and $11.09 a share of convertible stock.

The excess of assets over liabilities, exclusive of funded debt, of Equity Corporation, on June 30, amounted to $25,715,670. Underlying net assets were equal to approximately $8,161.13 on each $1,000 debenture outstanding as of June 30.

Suburban Trust Waived Deposit Payment Approved

Edward J. Barrett, state auditor, yesterday announced that he has authorized payment of 10 per cent of the waived deposits, amounting to $19,952 at the Suburban Trust and Savings bank, Oak Park. The depositors of the bank, in order to facilitate reopening following the moratorium in 1933, waived 50 per cent of their deposits. This is the second repayment, bringing the total repaid to 20 per cent, Barrett said. Distribution will be made this month.

Illinois Central Will Get Big Diesel Engine Today

The Illinois Central system will take delivery today of the largest single unit Diesel-electric freight locomotive in the country today. Built by the Busch-Sulzer Brothers Diesel Engine company of St. Louis, at a cost of $200,000, the engine will be used in freight transfer service in the Chicago terminal of the railroad. It will be on exhibition for the balance of railroad week at Central station, Roosevelt road and Michigan avenue.

SEC Refuses to Dismiss White, Weld & Co. Charges

Washington, D. C., July 14.—[Special.]—The Securities and Exchange commission today rejected a motion for the dismissal of charges against White, Weld & Co., and others of manipulation of stock of the A. O. Smith corporation on the New York Curb exchange. Dismissal had been asked on the ground that the proceedings were in violation of the fifth amendment to the constitution.

ITALIAN UTILITY SHARES BOUGHT BY ATLAS CORP.

Purchases Interests of American Superpower.

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—The Atlas corporation recently purchased from American Superpower corporation the latter's holdings of 75,000 class B shares of Italian Superpower corporation, or 50 per cent of the voting stock, it became known today. The other half of the voting stock is owned by the Italian government.

In addition, the Atlas corporation holds a half interest with Lehman Brothers in the remaining option to purchase 450,000 common shares of Commonwealth and Southern corporation from the Bankers' Trust company, trustee for the sale of 1,500,000 Commonwealth and Southern shares on behalf of American Superpower.

While in its exercising of previous options to purchase Commonwealth and Southern shares the Atlas-Lehman syndicate is understood to have disposed of the shares so acquired in the open market, Atlas is expected to retain its holdings in Italian Superpower corporation as a long term investment.

May Sell English Utilities.

Contraction of the utility system built up by Harley L. Clarke, Chicago promoter and financier, is evidenced in the prospective sale of the British properties of the Utilities Power and Light company, Clarke's chief holding company.

The sale is being negotiated by Floyd Odlum, president of the Atlas corporation, which gained control of Clarke's key company several months ago. Odlum is scheduled to sail from New York tomorrow for England to discuss the sale to British interests. It is understood that the proposed sale price is in the neighborhood of $30,000,000.

Holds Utility Debentures.

Atlas corporation holds about 40 per cent of the debentures of the Utility Power and Light company and certain notes indorsed by Clarke which are understood to carry voting control of the holding company. Atlas corporation's position in the utility company was further strengthened this week by its acquisition from the Manufacturers Trust company of New York of $2,288,000 of additional debentures of the company.

Although Utilities Power and Light has its main offices in Chicago its operations are scattered over a wide area. One of the principal operating companies in the group is the Laclede Gas company in St. Louis.

The British properties are held by the Greater London and Counties Trust, Ltd. They are located in and around London.

RFC Sells $10,869,568 Note of Nickel Plate Ry. to Bank

Washington, D. C., July 14.—(AP)—The Reconstruction Finance corporation reported today it had sold to the Guaranty Trust company of New York a note of the New York, Chicago, and St. Louis railroad [Nickel Plate] for $10,869,568. The note was sold at par and accrued interest, the RFC said, and represented the balance due the corporation on $18,200,000 of loans made to the road in 1932.

1,000 Attend Convention of Williams Oil-O-Matic

A thousand distributors and dealers atended the "opportunity conclave" of the Williams Oil-O-Matic Heating corporation and associated manufacturers, which closed yesterday at the Hotel Knickerbocker. The convention was the sixth of a series of twelve regional meetings that started in Boston and will end in Los Angeles and San Francisco the first week in August.

Hiram Walker Reports 3 Month Earnings Gain

A net income of $1,339,129 for the quarter ended May 31 was reported yesterday by Hiram Walker-Gooderham & Worts, Ltd. This is equal after charges to $1.85 a common share and compared with $1,118,663, or $1.52 a share, in the preceding quarter and $913,004, or $1.21 a share, in the May quarter of 1935.

U. S. STEEL EXPECTED TO HAVE $14,000,000 2D QUARTER PROFIT

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—The United States Steel corporation will show a second quarter operating profit of between 28½ and 29½ million dollars, with an indicated net profit after all charges of about 14 or 15 million dollars, it was estimated by Dow, Jones & Co. today.

Allowing for $6,304,920, or a full quarter's proportion of the $7 a share annual dividend on 3,600,000 shares of preferred stock, the balance of 8 or 9 million dollars would equal about $1 a share on 8,703,252 common shares outstanding. This would be the first profit for the junior stock since the June, 1931, period, when ½ cent was shown.

In the first quarter of 1936 the steel corporation showed an operating profit of $17,664,596 and a net profit of $3,376,304, or 94 cents a share on the preferred. In the second quarter of last year there was a net loss after all deductions, but before preferred dividends, of $762,493, and, in the like period of 1934, the net profit was $5,350,241, or $1.49 a share on the preferred.

Shipments of finished steel products during April, May, and June amounted to 2,850,069 tons, compared to 2,181,281 during the first quarter and 1,768,751 in the second quarter of 1935.

PARAMOUNT WILL PAY $50,000 FOR KENNEDY REPORT

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—Joseph P. Kennedy, former chairman of the Securities and Exchange commission, has agreed to accept from Paramount Pictures, Inc., a fee of $50,000 for his services in May and June in drafting a report suggesting methods for placing its picture production department on a more profitable basis, it was learned today.

In addition, Kennedy has already received from the company approximately $5,000 to cover his expenses in making the survey. Payment of $24,000 has also been made by the company to several assistants of Kennedy for their services in helping him draft his report.

The directors of Paramount announced they had terminated the contract between the corporation and John E. Otterson, former president, who was recently replaced by Barney Balaban.

CHARGES PRINCE JUGGLED FUNDS OF STOCKYARDS

Recovery Suit Is Started by Stockholder.

Boston, Mass., July 14.—[Special.]—A bill in equity to recover "many millions of dollars" from Frederick H. Prince, noted Boston financier, as a result of alleged manipulations of profits among four different corporations concerned with the Chicago stockyards, has been filed in Suffolk Superior court here by Martin A. Taylor of Haverhill, Mass., a shareholder in one of the companies.

The bill says that Prince in 1911 formed the Chicago Stock Yards company and incorporated it in Maine with representations to stockholders of the Chicago Junction railways and Union Stock Yards company, incorporated in New Jersey, that the big Chicago packers were demanding a share in the profits of the two railroads the New Jersey corporation owned, the Union Stock Yards and Transit company and the Chicago Junction Railway company, both Illinois corporations.

Charges Prince Got Stock.

Profits formerly had been disbursed in the form of rebates to the packers, but a new federal law had forbidden that practice, the bill states, and Prince allegedly represented to the New Jersey group that the new Maine corporation would provide for it through the distribution of stock to the packers.

Instead of splitting up the stock, the bill claims, Prince held it all, except for a small block of shares which a packer held for a time and then Prince reacquired. The New Jersey corporation was to be guaranteed 9 per cent of the earnings of the two railroads, it is claimed, and the rest was to go out as dividends to the packers who held the Maine shares, Asserts Revenues Were Diverted.

Prince is president of the New Jersey corporation, and his alleged statement of that time that the big packers had threatened to move out of Chicago if their demands were not met is declared by Taylor's bill to have been false. It is also alleged that his sole purpose was to divert the revenues of the railroads to the Maine corporation and himself.

It is further averred that in 1913 Prince and the board of directors of the New Jersey corporation voted to purchase $600,000 in bonds of the Maine corporation, then declared a dividend payable in those bonds, which dividend went in fact to the Maine corporation by virtue of the agreement which gave it all dividends in excess of 9 per cent.

The bill also claims that Prince caused the same operation to be performed by the two Illinois companies to the extent of $1,500,000.

CONSOLIDATED EDISON ASKS PERMISSION TO MERGE SUBSIDIARIES

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—The Consolidated Edison company, continuing its policy of simplifying its corporate structure, today petitioned the public service commission for permission to merge the New York Edison company and the Bronx Gas and Electric company into the parent company.

Merger with New York Edison, one of its principal subsidiaries, would raise the assets of the combined companies to $1,076,852,302, a pro forma balance sheet filed with the petition showed. The mergers would require no new issues of stock or securities, the petition states, and one of the conditions to the merger is that no new financial issue would be required. Consolidated Edison owns all but two of the 5,313,999 shares of capital stock of the New York Edison.

The mergers would be "desirable and in the interests of consumers and the public" and the ultimate objective is complete simplification of corporate structure to the operating reality, the petition states.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

Dry as Tinder

July 14, 1936.

UNMISTAKABLE marks of the drouth are to be found on every side at the Tribune farms near Wheaton and Yorkville. Water is evaporating from the ponds and streams at an alarming rate. Small grain is ripening rapidly. Corn continues to shrivel.

Newly seeded legume and timothy crops are wilting and dying in the field. Chickens go around with their mouths open. Apples are turning yellow prematurely and falling to the ground.

Dust clouds follow the workers and machines in the field. Heat ripples across the field in front of the harvesters. Sheep stick to the shady spots in the pasture and stand panting. Hogs try to keep cool by wallowing in dying mudholes. Growing field and garden crops are wilting under the Sahara sun. Bugs are increasing. A few trees are beginning to lose their foliage.

Kiwanians See Destruction.

Forty members of Kiwanis clubs from Chicago and eight surrounding suburbs saw at first hand yesterday the effect the drouth is having on pastures and growing crops when they made a tour of both the Tribune Experimental farms. More than 200 members of the nine clubs had planned to make the trip to the farms, but only forty of them braved the torrid weather. The thermometers stood at 108 degrees in the shade when the men got to the Wheaton farm about noon, after visiting the Yorkville place in the morning.

Guides who conducted the Kiwanians about the farms said the men expressed much interest in the rare and unusual crops growing in the test plots. More than one-third of them had formerly lived on farms. The tour was arranged by J. J. Johnson, president and Steve Owens, chairman of the agricultural club of the Kiwanis club of Chicago.

Wells Taxed to Limit.

Windmills on both farms are kept in gear day and night, but much of the time they do not move during the day. There is so little wind that even leaves on trees stand still for minutes during the hottest part of the day. Gasoline engines are being put to work to "pinch hit" for the windmills so there will be plenty of water for the livestock, and they are kept chugging almost continuously.

How long the wells will continue to supply water the managers do not know. It takes dozens of barrels of water to quench the thirst of more than 1,300 head of livestock on the two farms. One well used in watering sheep in butternut grove on the Wheaton farm already has been pumped dry.

Danger of Fire Increases.

Fire hazards are increasing on the farms. Extra precaution is being taken to prevent fires in the barns where dry feeds are stored. Vegetation in the pastures has been dried out so thoroughly that it can be rubbed into a powder between the palms. Pastures are so dry it is necessary for men to avoid pecking out pipes or throwing lighted cigaret or cigar stubs in grass that is readily ignited.

War to Death on Chipmunks.

War on chipmunks was started at the Wheaton farm test plots last week. Two of the caretakers at the plots got tired of replanting crops after the rodents had eaten up the seeds. They decided to get rid of them in some way. They tried chasing them across the field, but lost the race because the chipmunk could outrun them, suddenly disappearing into burrows or dens that undermine the edges of the plots.

Effective warfare began when the workers decided to try a simple plan of filling the burrows with water carried from a nearby canal and waiting to capture the chipmunks when they came out with their coats soaked to the skin. Frequent raids on the burrows during the last two weeks have resulted in the catching of ten chipmunks.

A big percentage of the sunflower seeds planted in the test plots earlier in the season were eaten by the chipmunks. Many of the seeds used in planting the plots a second time were eaten before the campaign against the pests was started.

How You Can BORROW at HOUSEHOLD
No Endorsers,
No Salary Assignment.

1. Whether or not you have furniture or a car you can borrow here if you can make regular monthly payments.
2. Payments on all loans are small. For example the first payment on $100 is $8—the last payment is $5.15 on a twenty month schedule.
3. You do not need co-makers or endorsers.
4. You can secure the money quickly—the same day if you apply before 9 o'clock.
5. Rate on loans above $100 is less than the lawful maximum.
6. Repay at any time and reduce the cost.
7. Private offices. Your problem will have our sympathetic attention.
